PREFACE TO THIS VOLUME.

from whence it was one printed by Carl This Test had been conquired with the Entries on the Pathament Roll of south Balls of Acts as are there buttered in Preficted as absorbed the Entry of the whole Statute in French in Liber XI, in the Rechequerful Westminders which with the Old Printed Copies, and Notes of Amendment inserted where required to present

THIS SECOND VOLUME OF THE STATUTES OF THE REALM contains the Statutes from the Commencement of the Reign of Richard II. to the End of the Reign of Henry VII. A.D. 1377 to A. D. 1503-4.

In the Introduction to the First Volume' it is stated, generally, that the Statute Rolls in the Tower of London include the Period from 6 Edward I. to 8 Edward IV, with an Interruption after 8 Henry VI. until the 23d Year of that Reign inclusive; and that though the latest Statute Roll now known to exist is that of 8 Edw. IV, there is Evidence that Statute Rolls have existed of subsequent Periods, until 4 Henry VII. inclusive: after which Time the Public Acts were printed from the several Bills passed in Parliament, and not as Part of one General Statute drawn up in the antient Form. In the same Introduction' it is mentioned that the Statutes of Richard III. were printed in his Reign in French; and that the Statutes of 1 and 3 Henry VII. in French are found in some Manuscripts.

The General Principles laid down in that Introduction, with respect to the Sources from which the Text of the Statutes is printed in this Collection, have been pursued, without Variation, in the present Volume: But a more detailed and explanatory Statement appears requisite to be here given, with relation to the Statutes of the several Years after 8 Henry VI. to 23 Henry VI. and from 12 Edward IV. to 4 Henry VII. The Acts of 7 Henry VII, and all the subsequent Years are printed from undoubted Authority, the Inrollment of the Acts on the Parliament Roll in Chancery; and, in Instances where that is mutilated or deficient, from the Original Bills or Acts passed in Parliament, and preserved in the Parliament Office from the 12th Year of Henry VII.

The French Text of the Statutes from 9 to 20 Henry VI. both inclusive, is printed in this Volume from Transcripts of the Statutes of those Years preserved in the Tower of London, and apparently made for the Purpose of being exemplified or transmitted by Writ for contemporary Promulgation. Whenever more than One Transcript of the Statute of any Year has been preserved, of which several Instances occur, all the Transcripts have been compared with each other; the most correct Transcript has been printed as the Text, with Notes of Amendment where necessary from the other Transcripts. In the Editions by Hawkins, Cax, and succeeding Editors, the French Text of the several Statutes of these Years was printed with a general Reference to "Rot. Orig. in Turr. Lond." without adverting to the Nature of the Roll so quoted; which appears on Examination to have been, in each Instance, one of the Transcripts above referred to, but frequently not that which is the most correct. Notes of Amendment of the existing Translation of the Statutes of these Years are inserted, from the Parliament Roll, in all Instances where the Bills or Acts are found entered thereon in English.

Chapter III. Sect. II. pa. xxxiv, v.

In the Introduction to Volume I. Chapter III. Sect. II. page xxxvii. it is stated that "some Petitions and Bills previous to 12 Henry VII. are in the Tower of London, but in no regular Series." An Arrangement of these Bills and Petitions has been lately made; the earliest are of the 29th and 33d Years of Edward I. to which latter Year belong the Petitions inserted in the Appendix to the First Volume of the Printed Collection of Rolls of Parliament, &c. page 460; there attributed to uncertain Years in the Reigns of Edward I. and II. There are also several Petitions in the Reigns of Edward I. II. and III. the Dates of which have not been ascertained: of others the Dates are known; among which, in 9 Edward II., is the original Petition of the Clergy on which was framed the Statute of that Year usually cited as "Articuli Cleri." In the Reigns of Richard II. Henry IV. V. and VI. and Edward IV., although the Series is by no means either regular or complete, there are several Bundles of Petitions, private as well as public; the latest being of the 17th Year of Edward IV. Upon many of these Petitions, which are not inserted in the Printed Collection of the Rolls of Parliament, there appear Memoranda and Indorsements affording considerable Information on the Mode of drawing up and passing Acts, and framing the Statute Roll.

See page 263 to 325 of this Volume, and the Notes subjoined to the Statutes of each Year.

The French Text of the Statute 23 Henry VI. is printed from the Cotton Manuscript, Nero C. I., from whence it was first printed by Cax. This Text has been compared with the Entries on the Parliament Roll of such Bills or Acts as are there entered in French, as also with the Entry of the whole Statute in French in Liber XI. in the Exchequer at Westminster, and with the Old Printed Copies; and Notes of Amendment inserted where requisite. From the Entries of such Bills or Acts on the Parliament Roll as are in English, Notes have been made for Amendment of the Translation.

From the Beginning of the 12th, to the End of the 22d of Edward IV. the French Text of the Statutes, as printed in Cay's and subsequent Editions, was stated to be taken from the same Cotton Manuscript. But on Examination of the Text in that Manuscript, it appears to be very incorrect, and by no means to tally with the Copy so professed to be printed therefrom. There is good Reason to conclude that the French Text of the Statutes of these Years was in fact printed by Cay, not from the Manuscript quoted, (which though probably seen was not accurately examined by him), but from the earliest Printed Edition of the Statutes, by Maclinia (about 1482): For it is observable, that almost all the Errors and Omissions which actually exist in the Cotton Manuscript, are corrected and supplied in that early Printed Edition, with which the Printed Copy in Cay agrees, in almost every particular. It is also to be observed, that the Edition of the Statutes printed by Pynson (about 1498), is generally incorrect, in the Statutes of those Years, in the very same Instances as the Cotton MS.; while Maclinia's Edition bears internal Evidence of having been printed from the most authentic Source, viz. a Statute Roll made up and translated into French from the English Bills entered on the Parliament Roll; with which the French Text of that Edition agrees in most Instances to a great Degree of Nicety.

On having recourse to the Entry of the Statutes of these Years, in French, in Liber XI. in the Exchequer at Westminster, the Text there appears in general much more correct than that of the Cotton Manuscript, and to agree more nearly with the earliest Printed Editions. This Text has therefore been now printed, with some Notes of Amendment from the Cotton Manuscript, and with many more from the Petyt Manuscript, No. 8, in the Library of the Inner Temple; which latter is of great Accuracy and Value, although not on the Whole, in this Instance, equal to the Exchequer Book. Where these Manuscripts (and others which have been consulted on the Occasion, but without Advantage, and therefore not necessary to be here quoted) are deficient, the Oldest Printed Copies have, in general, supplied the desired Reading: Yet finally, some Instances occur in the French Text of the Statutes of these Years, in which all the Copies, Manuscript and Printed, are equally deficient.

The English Text of the Statutes of this Period, from 12 to 22 Edw. IV., has always been printed in the several Editions of the Statutes, in the Form of a Translation, made from the French Text, as contained in the Old Printed Copies, sometimes from the earliest and best Copies, sometimes from the later and more incorrect. This English Text therefore has now been printed, in this as in preceding Years, with Notes of Amendment from the Bills or Acts, which during this Period are uniformly entered on the contemporary Parliament Roll in English. The otherwise incurable Deficiencies of the French Text are thus also remedied, by Reference to that Source from whence the Statute must have been originally framed.

The Statute passed in the Reign of Richard III. and the Statutes of 1, 3 and 4 Henry VII. require especial Notice; as the several Printed Editions of these Statutes differ from each other in certain Particulars, and a material Alteration in the Mode of printing them has been introduced in this Collection.

The earliest Printed Editions of the Statute of Richard III. contain the Text of the Statute in French. All Editions in English, previous to that by Pulton in 1618, contain a Translation of the Statute from that French Text. In Pulton's, and subsequent Editions, some, but not all, of the Acts contained in the Statute, are printed from the Inrollment in Chancery: These differ, particularly in their Preambles, from the correspondent Chapters of the Old English Translation of the Statute: And thus there appear conflicting Printed Texts of certain Parts of the Statute of this Reign. In the present Volume, the French Text of this Statute has been printed from Liber XI. in the Exchequer at Westminster, which, in general, is exceedingly correct, and correspondent with the Oldest Printed Editions. Notes of Amendment, where requisite, have been made from the Petyt Manuscript before referred to, and from the Old Printed Copies. For the English Text, all the Bills or Acts, corresponding to the several Chapters of the Statute, are now printed, from the Inrollment in the Parliament Roll of this Year, being the earliest Inrollment of Acts preserved at the Chapel of the Rolls; with such Notes from the Old English Translation of the correspondent Chapters of the Statute, as are requisite to produce a corrected Translation of the French Statute.

⁷ See page 477 to 498, and the Notes there.

The Statutes of 1 and 3 Henry VII. (being the First and Second Parliaments of that King), appear to have always hitherto been printed in the complete Form of Statutes, in English, and are so entered in Liber XI. in the Exchequer at Westminster. In the Editions by HAWKINS, CAY, &c. one Chapter (the 9th) of the 3d Year is printed from the Inrollment in Chancery, which, in a Note to that Chapter in Hawkins, is termed "the Statute Roll in the Rolls Chapel." But in the present Volume, a French Text of these Statutes has been for the first Time printed. taken from the Petyt Manuscript in the Inner Temple Library, with Notes of Amendment from the Hatton Manuscript 10. in the Bodleian Library at Oxford; these being the only Manuscripts yet discovered which contain the Statutes of those Years in French.—The general Agreement of this French Text with the printed Editions in English, affords Evidence that the Statutes of those Years were framed in French, in like Manner as in the Reign of Richard III. and preceding Reigns. The Commencement of the French Statute, and a short Chapter, recognizing the King's Title, in conformity with the Act for that Purpose as inrolled on the Parliament Roll, but not contained in the printed English Copies of the Statute, afford further Evidence that this French Text was copied from some Statute Roll framed, at the Time, from the several original Acts so inrolled; and which Evidence is, in some Instances, corroborated by the superior Accuracy of the French Text over the old English Copies. It is observable that the last Act of the 1st Year, (Chapter 10,) respecting the Merchants of Italy, and that of the 3d Year, (Chapter 16,) respecting certain Suits then depending in the Names of Trustees outlawed, are not inserted in the French Text of the Statutes, probably because they were not considered as Public Acts. For the English Text, all the Bills or Acts, correspondent to the several Chapter's of the Statutes, are now printed from the Inrollment on the Parliament Roll, (in conformity with the Method pursued in the Statute of Richard III.) with Notes of the Variations in the Exchequer Book and the Old Printed Copies.

The Statute of 4 Henry VII. (the Third Parliament of this King) has always been printed in English in the complete Form of a Statute, and is so entered in Liber XI. in the Exchequer at Westminster, and in the Hatton Manuscript before referred to; in which latter the Statutes of the First and Third Years, as has been noticed, are entered in French." This is the most exact Evidence hitherto obtained of the precise Period at which the Change took place in the Language used in framing the Statutes. From what Source the earliest Copies of this Statute were printed, or the existing Manuscripts transcribed, cannot now be ascertained. They are valuable as affording the latest Evidence of the Statute being made up in the antient Form, and the Printed Copies have been in general Use as Evidence of the Statute of that Year. The Statute is therefore now printed" from the Entry in the Exchequer Book, in the Column appropriated, in former Reigns, to the Statute Text; and in the opposite Column, formerly appropriated to the Translation, are printed the Acts inrolled in the Parliament Roll of this Year, which correspond to the several Chapters of the Statute; this Inrollment being the Evidence of those Acts as passed in Parliament, although they have not heretofore been inserted from that Source in any former printed Collection of Statutes. It will be seen that several Clauses or Provisoes in favour of particular Persons are contained in these Acts, which are not inserted in the Statute as entered in the Exchequer Book, nor printed in any Edition of the Statutes; these are therefore printed in a smaller Type.

The completest Copy which existing Records or Manuscripts can now afford, is thus given as well of the STATUTES of Richard III, and 1, 3, and 4 Henry VII, as of the several BILLS or Acrs on which those Statutes were respectively framed; these latter operating, as a Translation, and Amendment where requisite, of the French Text, in the Years when the Statute is in French; and being also the highest Evidence of the general Authenticity of the Statute, as inserted in the early Printed Editions, or now first printed from the Manuscripts above quoted.

After this Period such of the Acts of each Session as have been considered as Public have always been inserted, either at length or abridged, in the several Printed Collections, in separate Chapters, unconnected by any authentic Statute Form. These were printed, in some Instances, from the Inrollment in Chancery, and in others, in and after 12 Henry VII. from the Original Acts preserved in the Parliament Office at Westminster.

In this Volume the Acts of 7 Henry VII, and every subsequent Year of his Reign, are now uniformly printed from the Inrollment on the Roll of Parliament in Chancery; compared, after 12 Henry VII, with the Original Acts in the Parliament Office, whenever such are still preserved. From the Beginning of this 7th Year, till the End of the Reign of Henry VII. the Inrollment in Chancery is the only Substitute for the Statute Roll; but it does not make any marked Distinction between such Acts as are to be considered Public, and therefore proper to be inserted in the Statute Roll, and such as are Private, or not to be considered as Part of the General Statute of the Year: Many Acts heretofore printed in the Collections of the Acts of those Years are merely of a private Nature; and on the contrary, some omitted to be so printed, are manifestly of Public Concern; it has therefore been judged proper that All the Acts which appear on the Inrollments of these Years should be printed; such of them as have never been before inserted in any Collection of the Statutes being distinguished by being printed in a smaller Type.

It happens, in some Instances, that Acts, not included in the Statute of the Year in which they were passed, and therefore not printed in this or any other Collection of Statutes, are nevertheless referred to by subsequent Statutes, or by Acts inrolled in Chancery: In these cases Reference is made to the Entry, of the Act referred to, on the Parliament Roll of the Year in which it was passed. An early Instance of this Nature occurs in 31 Henry VI. Chapter 7.; and many similar References appear in those Acts of the latter Part of the Reign of Henry VII. which are now for the first time printed.

An Engraving is prefixed to page 1. of this Volume, presenting a Fac-Simile of the Statute Roll, which begins with 1 Richard II, now preserved in the Tower of London: and at page 477 there is inserted an Engraving of the Beginning of the Entry of the Statute 1 Richard III. in French, in the Exchequer-Book at Westminster, from whence that Statute, and others, have been printed in this Volume.

RICHARD by the Grace of God King of England and of France, and Lord of Ireland, to [the'] Sheriff of [Northampton,'] Greeting. Know thou, that to the Honour of God and Reverence of Holy Church, for to nourish Peace, Unity, and Concord in all the Parts within our Realm of England, which We do much desire, by the whole Assent of the Prelates, Dukes, Earls, and Barons of this our Realm, at the Instance and especial Request of the Commons of our Realm, assembled at our Parliament holden at Westminster the fifteenth Day of St. [Hillary,'] in the First Year of our Reign, We have (') ordained and stablished certain Statutes in Amendment and Relief of this our said Realm, in Manner and Form following:

FIRST, It is agreed and established, That Holy Church shall have and enjoy all her Rights, Liberties, and Franchises wholly and without Blemish; and that the Great Charter, which at the Request of the said Commons was read in the said Parliament, and also the Charter of the Forest, and all other good Statutes and Provisions made in the Time of the Progenitors of our Lord the King that now is, and not repealed, shall be observed and firmly kept in all Points.

ITEM, Our said Lord the King greatly desiring the Tranquillity and Quietness of his People, willeth and straitly commandeth, That the Peace within his Realm of England be surely observed and kept, so that all his lawful Subjects may from henceforth safely and peaceably go, come, and dwell according to the Law and Usage of the Realm; and that Justice and Right be indifferently ministered to every Person.

ITEM, That the Statutes late made in the time of the noble King Edward, Grandfather to our Lord the King that now is, for Purveyors and Buyers, shall be firmly observed and kept in all Points; adding thereunto, because that Prelates and Clerks may not thereof commence their Suits against any by way of Crime,

our Middlesex,
Michael, caused to be

I. Confirmation of Charters and Statutes.

II.
The Peace shall be kept, and equal Justice administered.

III. Action for Prelates against Purveyors.

as the said Statutes required, all Prelates and Clerks shall from henceforth have their Actions against all such Purveyors and Buyers, by Actions of Trespass, and recover their Treble Damage.

IV. Penalties for Maintenance. ITEM, It is ordained and stablished, and the King our Lord straitly commandeth, That [none of his Counsellors, Officers, or Servants,'] nor any other Person within the Realm of England, of whatsoever Estate or Condition they be, shall from henceforth take nor sustain any Quarrel by Maintenance in the Country, nor elsewhere, upon a grievous Pain; that is to say, the said Counsellors and the King's great Officers, upon a Pain which shall be ordained by the King himself, by the Advice of the Lords of his Realm; and other less Officers and Servants of the King, as well in the Exchequer, and all his other Courts and Places, as of his own Meiny, upon Pain to lose their Offices and Services, and to be imprisoned, and then to be ransomed at the King's Will, every of them according to their Degree, Estate, and Desert; and all other Persons through the Realm upon Pain of Imprisonment, and to be ransomed as the other aforesaid.

V.
Statutes for Officers of the Exchequer confirmed.
Debts once paid not to be demanded;
Punishment of Clerk offending.

ITEM, It is ordained, That all Statutes and Ordinances made before this Time of Officers of the Exchequer, be holden and firmly kept in all Points; and moreover it is ordained and established, That at what Time any Debts be once paid, and the Tallies thereof made rejoined and allowed in the said Exchequer, that this Debt shall never (2) come in Demand; and if it so happen, that after such Allowance made there, any Clerk of the (3) Exchequer make any Writ or Process to levy the same Debt of new, and that duly proved, the same Clerk shall lose his Office, and have Imprisonment till he hath made Gree to the Party by so much as he is endamaged, if any will sue, by the Discretion of the Treasurer and the Barons of the (3) Exchequer.

ITEM, At the grievous Complaint of the Lords and Commons of the Realm, as well Men of Holy Church as other, made in the Parliament, of that that in many Signories and Parts of the Realm of England, the Villaines and Landtenants in Villenage, who owe Services and Customs to their said Lords, have now late withdrawn, and do daily withdraw their Services and Customs due to their said Lords, by Comfort and Procurement of other their Counsellors, Maintainers, and Abettors in the Country, which hath taken Hire and Profit of the said Villaines and Landtenants, by Colour of certain Exemplifications made out of the Book of Domesday of the Manors and Towns where they have been dwelling, and by virtue of the same Exemplifications, and their evil Interpretations of the same, they affirm them to be quite and utterly discharged of all Manner Servage, due as well of their Body as of their said Tenures, and will not suffer any Distress or other Justice to be made upon them; but do menace the Ministers of their Lords of Life and Member, and, which more is, gather themselves together in great Routs, and agree by such Confederacy, that every one shall aid other to resist their Lords with strong Hand; and much other Harm they do in sundry Manner, to the great Damage of their said Lords, and evil Example to other to begin such Riots; so that if due Remedy be not the rather provided upon the same Rebels, greater Mischief, which God prohibit, may thereof spring through the Realm: It is Ordained and stablished, that the Lords which feel themselves grieved, shall have special Commissions under the Great Seal to the Justices of Peace, or to other sufficient Persons, to enquire of all such Rebels, and of their Offences, and their Counsellors, Procurers, Maintainers and Abettors, and to imprison all those that thereof shall be endited before them, as well for the Time past, as for the Time to come, without delivering them out of Prison by Mainprise, Bail, or otherwise, without Assent of their Lords, ITEM, The Prelates and Clergy of this Realm do greatly complain them, for that the People of Holy Church, pursuing in the Spiritual Court for their Tithes, and their other Things, which of Right ought, and of old Times were wont to pertain to the same Spiritual Court, and that the Judges of Holy Church, having Cognisance in such Causes, and other Persons thereof meddling according to the Law, be maliciously and unduly for this Cause indicted, imprisoned, and by Secular Power horribly oppressed, and also enforced with Violence by Oaths and grievous Obligations, and many other Means unduly compelled to desist and cease utterly of the Things aforesaid, against the Liberties and Franchises of Holy Church: Wherefore It is assented, That all such Obligations made or to be made by Duress or Violence, shall be of no Value: and as to those that by Malice do procure such Indictments, and to be the same Indictors, after the same Indictees be so acquit, such Procurers (') shall have and incur the same Pain that is contained in the Statute of Westminster the Second, of those which procure false Appeals to be made. And the Justices of Assises, or other Justices, before whom such Indictees shall be acquit, shall have Power to inquire of such Procurers and Indictors, and duly to punish them according to their Desert.

ITEM, It is accorded, That at what Time that any Person of the Holy Church be drawn in Plea in the Secular Court for his own Tithes taken, by the Name of Goods taken away, and he which is so drawn in Plea maketh an Exception, or alledgeth, that the Substance and [Suit³] of the Business is only upon Tithes due of Right and of Possession to his Church, or to another his Benefice; that in such Case the general Averment shall not be taken without shewing specially how the same was [his³] Lay-chattel.

ITEM, Because that Prelates do complain themselves, that as well beneficed People of Holy Church, as other, be arrested and drawn out as well of Cathedral Churches, as of other Churches and their Churchyards, and sometime whiles they be intending to Divine Services, and also in other Places, although they be bearing the Body of our Lord Jesus Christ to Sick Persons, and so arrested and drawn out, be bound and brought to Prison against the Liberty of Holy Church: It is Ordained, That if any Minister of the King, or other, do arrest any Person of Holy Church by such Manner, and thereof be duly convict, he shall have Imprisonment, and then be ransomed at the King's Will, and make Gree to the Parties so arrested; Provided always, That the said People of Holy Church shall not hold them within the Churches or Sanctuaries by Fraud or Collusion in any Manner.

And therefore We command, That thou cause all the said Statutes to be cried and published, and firmly kept through thy Bailiwick, according to the Form and Tenour thereof, and that do not omit in any wise. Given under the Witness of our Great Seal the First Day of February, in the First Year of our Reign.

as they were wont to do; to the great Damage of the King, of the Prelates, of the Lords, and of all the Realm, and against the common Profit, and against the Statutes and Ordinances thereof made in Times past in the said Two Parliaments: Our Lord the King, considering clearly the coming of Merchants Strangers within the Realm, to be very profitable from many Causes to all the Realm, by the Assent of the Prelates, Dukes, Earls, Barons, and of the Commons of the Realm, hath ordained and stablished, That all Merchants Aliens, of what Realms, Countries, or Seignories that they come, which be of the Amity of the King, and of his Realm, may from henceforth safely and surely come within the Realm of England, and in all Cities, Boroughs, Ports of the Sea, Fairs, Markets, or other Places within the Realm, within Franchise and without, [and '] abide with their Goods and all Merchandises under the Safeguard and Protection of the King, as long as shall please them, without Disturbance or denying of any Person. And that as well those Merchants Aliens [and Denizens,2] and every of them that will buy and sell Corn, Flesh, Fish, and all Manner other Victuals and Sustenance, and also all Manner of Spiceries, Fruit, Fur, and all Manner of small Wares, as Silk, Gold Wire, or Silver Wire, Coverchiefs, and other such small Ware, may from henceforth freely and without denying or any Manner of Disturbance, as well in the City of London as in all Cities, Boroughs, Ports of the Sea, Fairs, Markets, and other Places within the Realm, sell and buy in Gross and by Parcels, to whom and of whom they please, Denizens or Foreign, except the King's Enemies; and except that all Manner of Wines, as well sweet as other, shall be sold by the said Strangers in Gross, and by whole Vessels, as they be brought into the Realm, and not at Retale by any in the said Cities, Boroughs, and other Towns franchised, but only by the Inhabitants and Freemen in the same, And as to all other great Wares, as Cloth of Gold and Silver, Silk, Sendal, Napery, Linen Cloth, Canvas, and other such great Wares, and also all Manner of other great Merchandises not above expressed, whatsoever they be, from henceforth as well Aliens as Denizens, as well in the City of London as in other Cities, Boroughs, Ports of the Sea, Towns, Fairs, Markets, and elsewhere through the said Realm, within Franchise and without, may sell the same in Gross (3) to every Person Foreign or Denizen that will buy the same, freely and without denying, except to the King's Enemies and the Realm's, [as well 1] by the Bale, Cloth, or by whole Pieces at their Pleasure, and not at Retale, upon Pain of Forfeiture of the same Merchandises, but only the Citizens and Burgesses in their own Cities and Boroughs, and other good Towns franchised, to whom, and to none other strange Merchant of their Franchise, they may, and it shall be lawful to them without Impeachment, to unfold, undo, and cut in the same their proper Cities and Boroughs, the great Merchandises, and other great Wares aforesaid; and as well the same, as Wines and other Merchandises whatsoever, there to sell, in Gross and by Retale at their Pleasure, paying all the Customs and Subsidies due; notwithstanding any Statutes, Ordinances, Charters, Judgements, Allowances, Customs, and Usages made or suffered to the contrary; which Charters and Franchises, if any there be, they shall be utterly repealed and adnulled, as a Thing made, used, or granted against and buy and sell, in Gross and by Retail, Provisions and small Wares.

Merchant Strangers may freely come and abide within the Realm;

Aliens must sell their Wines and great Wares in Gross only. The retailing thereof in Cities and Towns to be by their Inhabitants alone;

Saving of the Franchises of Lords; Ordinance of the Staple at Calais.

Merchants may buy and sell at Fairs, as heretofore.

Penalty for disturbing Merchants;

and upon Officers not punishing Disturbers.

II. The Statute 25 Edw. III. stat. 3. cap. 3. against Forestallers confirmed.

III. Merchants of the West may buy Staple Merchandises ;

the common Profit, [or '] Oppression of the People: Saving always to Prelates and Lords of the Realm wholly their Liberties and Franchises, that they may make their Purveyances and Buyings of Victuals, and of other their Necessaries, as they were wont to do in old Time; and saving that the Ordinances made before this Time of the Staple of Calais be holden in their Force and Virtue. And it is not the King's Mind, that Merchants Strangers or Denizens, that will buy and sell their Wools, Woolfels, Wares, Cloths, Iron, and other Merchanchandises, at Fairs and Markets in the Country, should be restrained or disturbed by this Statute to sell or buy freely, in Gross or at Retale, as they were wont to do heretofore. And if it so happen, that from henceforth Disturbance be made to any Merchant Alien or Denizen, or other, upon the Sale of such Things in City, Borough, Town, Port of the Sea, or other Place that hath Franchise, against the Form of this Ordinance; and the Mayor, Bailiffs, or other that have the keeping of such Franchise, required by the said Merchants, or other in their Name, thereof to make Remedy, do not the same, and thereof be attainted, the Franchise shall be seised into the King's Hand; and nevertheless they that have done such Disturbance against this Statute, shall be bound to render and restore to the Plaintiff his double Damages that he hath suffered by this Occasion. And if such Disturbance be made to such Merchants or to other in Towns and Places where no Franchise is, and the Lord, if he be present, or his Bailiff, Constable, or other Warden of the Towns and Places, in Absence of the Lords thereof, required to do Right, and do not, and thereof be duly attainted, they shall yield to the Plaintiff his double Damages, as afore is said, and the Disturbers in the one Case and the other, as well within Franchises as without, if they be attainted, shall have one Year's Imprisonment, and be ransomed at the King's Will. And It is ordained and established, That the Chancellor, Treasurer, and Justices assigned to hold Pleas of the King in the Places where they come, shall diligently inquire of such Disturbances and Grievances, and do Punishment according as afore is ordained. And nevertheless the King shall assign by Commission certain People, where and when shall please him, to inquire of such Disturbances and Grievances, and to punish the Offenders in this Party, as before is said.

ITEM, It is ordained and stablished, that the Statute made in the time of King Edward the Grandfather, the twenty-fifth year of his reign (1), of Forestallers of Wines, Victuals, Wares, and Merchandises which come to the good Towns within the Realm by land or by water, shall be holden and firmly kept in all points, and put in due execution, for the common profit of the said Realm.

ITEM, It is ordained and assented, That all Merchants of Genoa, Venice, Catalonia, Arragon, and of other Realms, Lands, and Countries towards the West, being of the King's amity, that will bring to Hampton, or elsewhere within the Realm, carracks, ships, gallies, or other vessels, charged or discharged, may (3) freely sell their Merchandises to whom please them by the manner as afore is said, and there recharge their vessels of Wools, Leather, Woolfels, (4) Tin, and of other Merchandises of the Staple, and freely bring them into their country towards the West, paying at the Ports where they charge them all manner of Customs and Subsidies, and other [Devoirs'] of Calais, as much as they should pay if they should bring the same Merchandises to the Staple of Calais, so that they find sufficient Surety, that they shall bring the same so towards the West, and to no place elsewhere towards the East, but to the Staple of Calais, if percase they will go (6), upon pain of the forfeiture ordained before this time.

(a) ITEM, Because our Sovereign Lord the King hath perceived, as well by Letters Patents newly come to certain Cardinals, Rebels against our Holy Father for Pope. Urban now [Bishop of Rome,'] as otherwise by common Fame, that Division and Discord was betwixt our said Holy Father and the said Cardinals, which afforced them with all their Power to depose our said Holy Father from [the Estate of a Bishop,'] and to excite and move, by their untrue Suggestions, the Kings, Princes, and Christian People against him, to the great Peril of their Souls, and to an evil Example: Our said Sovereign Lord the King caused the said Letters to be shewed to the Prelates, Lords, and other Great Men of the Realm being at the said Parliament, and affer the said Letters seen and perceived, by great Deliberation upon the said Matter, it was pronounced and published by the said Prelates, by great and notable reasons there shewed, in the full Parliament, as well by Matters found in the said Letters as otherwise, that the said Urban was duly chosen [Bishop of Rome,'] and that so he is and ought to be true [Bishop,'] and ought to be accepted and obeyed as [Bishop'] and Chief of Holy Church. And to this to be done all the Prelates, Lords, and Commons in the said Parliament do [record.3] And moreover it is assented, That all the Benefices and Possessions which the said Cardinals Rebels and their Coadjutors, Fautours, Adherents, or any other Enemies of the King and of his Realm, have within the King's Power, shall be seized into the Hands of our said Sovereign Lord the King; and that the King be answered of the Fruits and Profits of the same Benefices and Possessions as long as they abide in his Hands for the Cause aforesaid. Also It is ordained that if any of the King's liege People, or other within his Power, do purchase Provision, Benefice, or other Grace, of any other by the Name of the [Bishop '] than of the said Our Holy Father Urban, or be obedient to any other [Bishop,'] he shall be out of the King's Protection, and his Goods and Chattels seized as forfeit.

ITEM, Of Labourers (5) It is ordained and stablished, That the Ordinance thereof made in the Time of the said Grandfather, which beginneth, "Because a great Part of the People," be affirmed and holden for a Statute. And that as well this Statute as all other Statutes and Ordinances made of Artificers, Servants, and Labourers before this Time be firmly kept and put in due Execution.

And therefore We command You, that the said Statutes and Ordinances you do cause to be openly and distinctly proclaimed and published in all notable Places within your Bailiwick, where need shall be; and the same there firmly to keep, and cause to be kept and maintained according to the Form and Tenor thereof.

OF THE STATUTE MADE AT WESTMINSTER IN THE SECOND YEAR; INROLLED.

STATUTE THE SECOND.

To the Honour of God and of Holy Church, and for the common Profit of the Realm of England, our Lord the King Richard, at his Parliament holden at Westminster, in the Fifteenth of Easter, the Second Year of his Reign, of the Assent of the Prelates, Dukes, Earls, Barons, and other Great Men, and of the Commons of [this Realm,'] summoned to the said Parliament, hath ordained and established in the same Parliament, for the Quietness of his said People, the Statutes and Ordinances following, perpetually to endure in his said Realm.

I. Liberties of the Church, Charters, and Laws, confirmed. FIRST, That Holy Church have and enjoy her Franchises and Liberties in all Points, in as ample Manner as she them had in the Time of his noble Progenitors Kings of England; and that the Great Charter, and the Charter of the Forest, and the good Laws of the Land, be firmly holden and kept, and put in due Execution.

II. Stat. 2 Ric. II. stat. 1. cap. 6. repealed. ITEM, It is assented, that the Article comprised in the Statute last made at Gloucester, of Assemblies, Ridings, and Routs of Offenders in the Country, which beginneth: "Item, because that our Sovereign Lord the King, &c." which Article seemeth to the said Commons very grievous, at the Prayer of the said Commons be utterly repealed and adnulled; the Statute of Northampton being always in his Force: And it is assented, that they which be taken and imprisoned by virtue of any Words comprised in the said Article, without other Indicament, shall be utterly delivered.

Statute 2 Edw. III. chapter 3. confirmed.

III.
Debtors who make feigned
Conveyances and flee to Sanctuary, shall, on Proclamation, appear to the Suits of their Creditors; or Judgment and Execution shall be had against their Lands and Goods, &c.

ITEM, In case of Debt, where the Debtors make feigned Gifts and Feoffments of their Goods and Lands to their Friends and other, and after withdraw themselves and flee into Places of Holy Church privileged, and there hold them a long Time, and take the Profit of their said Lands and Goods so given by Fraud and Collusion, whereby their Creditors have been long and yet be delayed of their Debts and Recovery; wrongfully and against good Faith and Reason: It is ordained and stablished, that after that the said Credition ditors have thereof brought their Writs of Debt, and thereupon a Capias awarded, and the Sheriff shall make his return, that he hath not taken the said Persons, because of such Places privileged, in which they be or shall be entered, then after such Return made, another Writ shall be granted and made to the Sheriff, in which Writ shall be comprised, that Proclamation be made openly at the Gate of the Place so privileged, where such Persons be entered, by Five Weeks continually, every Week once, that the same Person be at a certain Day comprised in the same Writ, before the King's Justices, there to answer to the Plaintiff of his Demand: And upon this Writ, returned by the said Sheriff, that Proclamation is made in the said Form, if the said Persons called come not in proper Person nor by Attorney, Judgment shall be given against them upon the Principal for their Default: And out of the same Judgement Execution shall be made of their Goods and Lands, bring out of the Place privileged, as well, that is to say, of those Lands and Goods so given by Collusion, as of any other out of the same Franchise, after that such Collusion or Fraud be duly found, in the same Manner as that ought to have been, if no [Devise*] had been thereof made, notwithstanding the same [Devise.*] But it is not the King's Mind, that by virtue of this Statute any Man be barred of his Suit against such Debtors by the common Course of the Law, before this present Statute used.

FIRST, It is ordained and established, That Holy Church have and wholly enjoy her Franchises and Liberties, by the Manner as she hath had and enjoyed them in the Time of the King's noble Progenitors; and that the good Laws and Customs of the Realm, and the Statutes made before this Time, and not repealed, be holden and firmly kept and put in due Execution.

ITEM, Because that the Commons do greatly complain them to be grieved, in that that Whereas in the Time of the [King's noble Grandfather,3] it was ordained (*) for the common Profit of the Realm, that all the Woollen Cloths from thenceforth to be made in England which should be set to Sale, should contain a certain Measure in Length and Breadth, upon a certain Pain comprised in the said Statute, nevertheless divers People through the Realm, not having regard to the said Statute, make now divers Woollen Cloths vendible, which do not contain the Measure nor the Assise ordained by the same Statute, and which worse is, cause subtilly to be tacked and set together with Thread divers Pieces of such Cloths, and after by Covin betwixt them and the King's Aulnegers, to hide and colour the Falsity, do procure the said Aulneger to put the Seal ordained upon the same Cloths, to the Intent that the Buyers might believe that such Cloths so sealed be sufficient Cloths, and whole, containing the same Assise, for otherwise they had not been sealed, as they say; in great Deceit of the People, and Mischief to the said Buyers, as well Denizens as Strangers: It is accorded and assented, That the Statutes made of the said Cloths before this Time, and not repealed, be kept and duly put in Execution. And moreover it is assented, That if any of the said Aulnegers or of the Collectors of the Subsidy of the said Cloths, do from henceforth set his Seal to any such Cloth so sewed in Deceit, the same Cloth shall be forfeit to the King, [in whose Hands soever 3] it be found, and also the Aulneger or Collector, thereof found guilty, shall forfeit his Office; and if he have put the same Seal to any other Cloth vendible, that is not of the said Assise, the same Aul-

ITEM, Because that our Lord the King hath perceived, as well by the Complaints of his faithful liege People, [and by their Clamour by 37 divers Petitions thereof delivered in divers Parliaments before this Time, as otherwise by the perfect Knowledge and Experience of the Deed, how the Churches Cathedral and Collegial, Abbeys and Priories and other Benefices of his Realm, which were late founden, and richly endowed by his Noble Progenitors, in which divers Dignities, Offices, Parsonages, Chanonries, Prebends, and other Benefices, were solemnly and devoutly ordained and established of the Assent of the foresaid Progenitors of the King, and of other their Noble Founders, which did give to the said Pastors of the same Churches, Abbeys, Priories, and of other great Places, the Advowsons of the same Benefices, to the Intent that the same Benefices should be given to honest and meet Persons of the Realm, to serve and honour God diligently, and also to keep Hospitality, and to inform and teach the People, and to do other worthy Things pertaining to the Cure of Souls, after the Estate and Quality of the said Benefices: And so was it done in all Times past after the Foundation of the same, till now of late, that by the Informations, Instigations and Procurements of some of the King's liege People, the same Benefices have been given, against the Will of the Founders, to divers People of another Language, and of strange Lands and Nations, and sometime to the utter Enemies of the King and of his Realm, which never made Residence in the same, nor cannot, may not, nor will not in such wise bear and perform the Charges of the same Benefices, as in hearing Confessions, Preaching, nor Teaching the People, keeping Hospitality, nor accomplishing the other Things necessary to the Governance of the same Benefices; but only thereof [have 1] and take the Emoluments and Temporal Profits, not having Regard to the Spiritual Cure, nor to other Charges to the same Benefices pertaining or belonging; but manifestly suffer the noble Buildings in old Times there made, when the same Benefices were occupied by Englishmen, wholly to fall to Decay, whereby the Divine Service is greatly minished, the Cure of Souls neglected and left, the Clergy enfeebled, the Treasure of the said Realm carried to the Hands of Aliens, and all the Estate of Holy Church brought to less Reverence than before it was wont to be; And though that in the Time of the said Grandfather certain Ordinances, Statutes, and Compositions were made and affirmed, wholly to put out, or at least to restrain the said Mischiefs in this Behalf; nevertheless the said Aliens, not having Regard to the same, do not refrain to take and receive such Benefices within the said Realm; but by the Comfort, Aid, and great Succour which they have had of the King's liege People, that be their Fermors, Procurators, and Atturnies in this Behalf [and 3] in every Part of the said Realm, do enforce themselves from Day to Day more and more [to accept 1 the greatest Dignities and Benefices within the said Realm, and by divers cautelous Manners, much prejudicial to the same Realm if that were suffered, whereby the said Mischiefs do daily (5) increase, and much more will increase, if due Remedy be not the sooner provided:

Our Lord the King, by the Advice and common As- None shall sent of all the Lords Temporal being in this Parliament, hath ordained and established, That none of the King's liege People, nor other Person, of whatsoever Estate or Condition that he be, shall not take nor receive within the same Realm of England, Procuracy, Letter of Atturney, nor Ferm, nor other Administration by Indenture, nor in any other Manner whatsoever, of any Person of the World, of any Benefice within the said Realm, but only of the King's liege People of the same Realm, without the special Grace and express Licence of our Lord the King, by the Advice of his Council; and if any before this Time have accepted of any Aliens such Procuracies, Ferms, or Administration, that they shall utterly leave them within Forty Days after Publication of this Ordinance; and that none of the said liege People, nor other that may be found in the said Realm, shall convey by virtue of such Procuracy, Ferm, or Administration, Gold, Silver, nor other Treasure nor Commodity out of the said Realm, by Letter of Exchange, by Merchandise, nor in other Manner, to the Profit of the said Aliens, without like Licence of the King by the Advice of his said Council; and if any do the contrary, in any Point contained in this Ordinance, he shall incur the Pain and Punishment contained in the Statute of Provisors, made in the Time of the King's Grandfather, the Seven and twentieth Year of his Reign, by the same Process comprised in the said Statute, and by Warning to be made to them in their Benefices, or other their Possessions within the Realm; and if they be out of the said Realm, and Inot beneficed, not having Possession'] within the same Realm where they may be warned, then a Writ shall be made in the Chancery grounded upon this Ordinance to the Sheriff of London, or to the Sheriff of the County in which they were or shall be born, at the King's Suit, returnable in the one Bench or the other; by which Writ it shall be commanded, that Proclamation be made openly, that they appear before the Justices in the Bench where the Writ is returnable at a certain Day comprised in the same Writ, containing the Space of Half a Year, to answer upon the Matters comprised in the same Writ; and after this Writ returned, the Justices shall proceed against them according to the Form above ordained. And it is [assented 1] by the King in the same Parliament, by the Assent aforesaid, That no Bishop, nor other Person of Holy Church through the Realm, shall meddle by Way of Sequestration, nor in any other Manner, with the Fruits of such Benefices given or to be given to the said Aliens, to the Profit of the same Aliens, upon the Peril that belongeth. [Dated, &c.]

And therefore We command you, that the said Statutes you do cause to be proclaimed and published in the notable places within your Bailiwick, and the same to be firmly kept and observed according to the form thereof. STATUTE MADE AT NORTHAMPTON, IN THE FOURTH YEAR.

Ex Rot. Stat. in Turr. Lond. II. m. 22.

RICHARD by the Grace of God, &c. to the Sheriff of Nottingham, Greeting. The Commons of our Realm of England have prayed Us by their Petition delivered to Us at our present Parliament holden at Northampton, containing how many Wines of divers Manners (1) oftentimes brought within the Land, which do often pass without gauging, because that the Statutes thereupon made in the Time of our Grandfather, whom God assoil, do not make express Mention of all Manner Wines, and of other Liquors; to the great Damage of the Lords and Commons of the same Realm, which be oftentimes deceived in their buying, because they cannot without Gauge have rightful Knowledge how much the same Vessel will contain, That it may please Us, for the Profit of Us and our Realm more plainly to declare the same Statutes, in such Manner, that all Manner of Wines, and other Liquors gaugeable brought within this Realm, may be comprised in the same Statutes: We, considering the said Supplication to be profitable for Us, the Lords and Commons of the same Realm, will and grant by the Assent of the Prelates and Lords aforesaid, that the Statutes thereupon made, as is said, be holden, kept and put in due Execution: And moreover We declare, and of the Assent aforesaid, will and grant, that as well all manner Vessels of Sweet Wines of the Rhine, and of other Wines, as other Vessels of Vinegar, Oil, Honey, and all other Liquors gaugeable, which from henceforth shall come within this Realm of England, or within our Lands of Wales and Ireland, shall be well and lawfully gauged by our Gaugers thereto assigned, or their Deputies. And if any set Debate and Disturbance, and will not suffer the Wines or other Liquors aforesaid to be gauged, he shall incur the Pain ordained by the said other Statutes, and in the same Manner the Gaugers shall incur the Pain comprised in the same Statutes, if Default be from henceforth found in them, or in their Deputies in this Behalf.

ITEM, Considering the great Aids which the Clergy and the Commons of the same Realm have done to Us, of their free Will in our great Necessities before this Time, and specially now in this present Parliament; We, willing for so much, and for the great Charges which they have had and suffered by the Wars, and other Manner, to do them Grace and Relief on the other Part, have of our special Grace at their Prayer, released and pardoned to the Clergy and Commons, and to every singular Person of our said Realm, as much as to Us pertaineth, for all manner Escapes of Felons made and fallen before the Date of these Presents, as well of Clerks convict out of the Ordinaries' Prisons, as of other Prisoners and Felons whatever, except Escapes adjudged before this Time. Provided always, that if any of the said Escapes were made fraudulently, by Covin or of the Assent of the Keepers of the said Prisoners, that the same Escapes shall not be comprised within this our Grace by any way. And that he that will enjoy this our Grace and Pardon, shall thereof pursue to have his Charter in our Chancery in due Form.

[And therefore We command, &c. Dated 3] at Northampton, the iiij. Day of November, the iiij. Year of our Reign.

Like Writs are directed to the several Sheriffs throughout England, mutatis mutandis, under the same Date.

The King to the Sheriff of Kent,

3 And therefore We command you, that as well the said Statute of Gauging, as the said Grace and Pardon of Escapes, you do cause to be proclaimed and published in the notable places within your Bailiwick, within Franchise and without, and the said Statute of Gauging to be duly kept and observed according to the Form thereof. RICHARD by the Grace, [&c. to the Sheriff of Nottingham, Greeting. Know thou, That to the Reverence of God and of Holy Church, and for to nourish Peace, Unity, [and Quietness of God Accord, in all Parts of our Realm of England, and especially for the good Governance of the same Realin, which We do chiefly desire, of the Assent of the Prelates, Lords, and Commons assembled at our Parliament holden at Westminster the Morrow after All Souls last past, We have caused to be made certain Ordinances and Establishments, as well for the Amendment of the said Governance, as for the common Profit of the Realm, in the Form following.

FIRST, It is assented and accorded, That Holy Church have and enjoy all her Liberties and Franchises wholly; and that the Great Charter and the Charter of the Forest, and all other good Statutes and Ordinances made before this Time, and not repealed, and especially the Statutes of Purveyors late made in the Time of the noble King Edward [our Grandfather 1] be holden, kept, and put in due Execution after the Form and Effect of the same. ITEM, For the great Mischief which the Realm suffereth, and long hath done, for that Gold and Silver, as well in Money, Vessel, Plate, and Jewels, as otherwise by Exchanges made in divers Manners, is carried out of the Realm, so that in Effect there is [none 1] thereof left, which Thing if it should longer be suffered would shortly be the Destruction of the same Realm, which God prohibit; It is assented and accorded, and the King enjoineth all Manner of People, Merchants, Clerks, and other, as well Strangers as Denizens, of what Estate or Condition they be, upon Pain of as much as they may forfeit, that none of them upon the said Pain privily nor openly send nor carry, nor cause to be sent or carried out of the said Realm, any Gold or Silver in Money, Bullion, Plate, or Vessel, neither by Exchanges to be made, nor in other Manner; but the Wages of Calais, and of other the King's Fortresses beyond the Sea; and especially excepted the Prelates, Lords, and other of the same Realm, to whom sometimes it behoveth necessarily to make Payments beyond the Sea; that of the same Payments only they make Exchanges in England, by good and sufficient Merchants to pay beyond the Sea, and first special Leave and Licence had of the King, as well for the Exchangers as for the Person which ought to make the Payments, containing expressly the Sum which shall be so exchanged: And it is assented, That the Merchants that so shall make Exchanges, shall be diligently examined and sworn in their proper Persons, as often as they shall have the said Licence, that they shall not send beyond the Sea any Manner of Gold nor Silver under the Colour of the same Exchange; and if after Proclamation of this Ordinance any Person be from henceforth duly attainted, that he hath caused to be sent or carried beyond the Sea any Gold or Silver against this Restraint and Ordinance, he shall forfeit to the King the same Sum so carried or sent. And the King our Lord, of his Royal Majesty, defendeth the Passage utterly of all Manner of People, as well Clerks as other, in every Port and other Town and Place upon the Coast of the Sea, upon Pain of Forfeiture of all their Goods; except only the Lords and other Great Men of the Realm, and true and notable Merchants, and the King's Soldiers; and every Person, other than is before excepted, which after Publication of this Ordinance made, shall pass out of the said Realm without the King's special Licence, (which Licence the King willeth and commandeth that it be not from henceforth made, but only in one of the Ports underwritten, that is to say, London, Sandwich, Dover, Southampton, Plymouth, Dertmouth, Bristow, Yarmouth, St. Botolph, Kingston upon Hull, Newcastle upon Tyne, and the other Ports and Passages towards Ireland, and the Isles pertaining to the Realm of England,) shall forfeit to the King as much as he hath in Goods, as above is said; and nevertheless, the Master or Mariner of the Ship, or of other Vessel, in which he shall carry over beyond the Sea any Person, but such only as be before excepted, without the said Licence, and thereof be convict duly, shall forfeit the said Vessel to the King. And the King commandeth all Wardens and Searchers of the Ports and Passages through England, that they shall from henceforth diligently use their Office, and make good and strait Search. And if any Searchers or Wardens of the Ports and Passages through the said Realm, by Negligence or in other Manner do or suffer wittingly to be done in any Point the contrary of the said Two Articles, touching the Money of Gold or Silver, and the said Passages of People, and thereof be duly convict, he shall forfeit to the King his said Office and all his Goods, and his Body shall be committed to Prison, there to abide an whole Year without Redemption. And thereupon whosoever espieth and proveth duly, that any Thing be done against the Intent of the said Two last Articles, whereby the said Forfeiture ought to fall upon any Person, he shall have half of the same Forfeiture for his Labour, of the King's Gift.

ITEM, To increase the Navy of England, which is now greatly diminished: It is assented and accorded, That none of the King's liege People do from henceforth ship any Merchandize in going out or coming within the Realm of England, [in any Port,'] but only in Ships of the King's Liegance; and every Person of the said Liegance, which after the Feast of Easter next ensuing, at which Feast this Ordinance shall first begin to hold place, do ship and merchandise in any other Ships or Vessels upon the Sea, than of the said Liegance, shall forfeit to the King all his Merchandises shipped in other Vessels, wheresoever they be found hereafter, or the Value of the same; of which Forfeitures the King will and granteth, that he that duly espieth, and duly proveth that any Person hath any Thing forfeited against this Ordinance, shall have the Third Part for his Labour, of the King's Gift.

ITEM, as to Wines of Gascoine, Rochel, Osey, and of Spain, and Wines of the Rhine: It is ordained and assented, That no Englishman that will from henceforth pass the Sea for the said Wines, and to bring them [in any Party'] within the same Realm, shall not, nor may not sell his Wines within the same Realm, upon

Pain of Forfeiture of the same, [or'] the Price under limited; that is to say, the Tun of the best Wine of Gascoine, of Osey, or of Spain, C. s. and other Tuns of Common Wines of the same Countries for less Price, according to the Value, as for vii. Marks, vi. Marks and an Half, and vi. Marks, (1) and the Tun of other such Wine at a less Price, according to the Value, as for Five Marks and a Half, Five Marks, Four Marks and a Half, and Four Marks; and Pipes and other Vessels of less Quantity of the same Wines shall be sold at the said Prices after the Rate of the Tuns, and the Goodness of (3) Wine. And as to the Retaile of the the said [Tuns of 3] Wines of Gascoine, of Osey, and of Spain, brought within the Realm by Englishmen, the Gallon of the best Wine shall not be sold within the said Realm, upon Pain to forfeit all the Vessel and Wine to the King, above Sixpence, and within according to the Value; and the Gallon of the best Wine of Rochel at Four-pence, and within according to the Value. And as to the Rinish Wines brought within the same Realm, because the Vessels and the [Gallons 5] of the same do not contain any certain Measure: It is accorded and assented, That the Gallon of the best Rinish Wine, nor in gross nor at Retaile, be sold in any Part within the said Realm by the said Englishmen, above vid. upon the same Pain. Also it is assented, That if any Englishman refuse, and will not sell in gross his Wines set to Sale for the said Prices before limited, but will keep them, only to sell them at Retail, or in other Manner above the same Price before limited, in Fraud, and against the Form of this Ordinance, [and of the Mayor and Bailiffs, and other Governors of the City, Borough, Town, or other Place within whose Power or Jurisdiction the said Wines shall be found, be it within Franchise or without, shall have Power by this same Ordinance, after that the Buyer according to this Ordinance, hath reasonably proffered Money for the same Wines, once or Two Times, to the Seller of the same Wines, to make Deliverance of the same Wines being in Bargain to the said Buyers, and shall deliver to them the same in Deed, as soon as they shall be thereunto required, for the Price afore ordained. And if any of the said Mayor, Bailiffs, or other Governors, after that they shall be thereof duly required, refuse to do the same, and make not the said Deliverance, and that duly proved, he shall forfeit to the King the Value of the said Wines so bought. And the King's Mind is not to restrain the [Taverns,⁷] and other Sellers of Wines, carrying the same into the Country by Carts, or in other Manner by this Ordinance, but that they may enhance the Price of their Wines for the Costs of their Carriage to be made by them reasonably, according as hath been ordained in Times past; which Ordinance shall be duly kept and put in Execution; and especially no more shall be from henceforth enhanced upon the Gallon of Wine for the Carriage of Fifty Miles than One Halfpenny only. And likewise where greater or less Carriage is to be made than by Fifty Miles, it shall be (*) upon the Gallon of Wine after the Rate and not above, upon Pain of Forfeiture of the same Wines. And this Ordinance of Wines shall begin to hold place as soon as any New Wines shall be brought within the said Realm. (9) Also (10) the King (11) defendeth, that no manner of Sweet Wine, nor Claret, from henceforth after the Nativity of Saint John Baptist next coming, shall be sold at Retaile in any Part within this Realm of England, within Franchise or without, upon Pain of Forfeiture of the same. And the King will that he that shall espie and duly prove, or do to be proved, that any hath sold any manner of Wines, Sweet or Claret, at Retaile, or otherwise [or "] offended or forfeited after the Terms

Upon Refusal of the Merchant to sell, Mayors, &c. may deliver to the Buyer the Wines at the Prices set.

ITEM, It is ordained, That all manner Manumissions, Obligations, Releases, and other Bonds made by Compulsion, Duress, and Menace, in the Time of this last Rumour and Riot against the Laws of the Land, and good Faith, shall be wholly (') adnulled and holden for void; and they that have done to be made, or do yet with-hold such Manumissions, Obligations, Releases, Bonds, and other Deeds, so made by Duress, shall be sent before the King and his Council, thereof to answer there of their Deed, and further shall be constrained to make Delivery and Restitution of the said Deeds to them that made the same against their good Gree, with the Copies of the same, if percase they have thereof made any before, another Time to use or renew the effect of the same if they may. And likewise it is accorded, That all Entries made in Lands or Tenements, and also all Feoffments made in the Time of the same Rumour by Compulsion and Menace, or otherwise with Force of People, against the Law, shall be void, and holden for none. And the King straitly defendeth to all Manner of People, upon Pain of as much as they may forfeit against him in Body and Goods, that none from henceforth make nor [begin any manner 5] Riot and Rumour, nor other like. And if any the same do, and that duly proved, it shall be done of him as of a Traitor to the King and to his said Realm.

ITEM, Touching the Charters, Releases, Obligations, and other Deeds and Muniments, burnt, destroyed, or otherwise eloined in the same Rumour, It is assented, That they which thereof feel them grieved, shall put their Petitions distinctly made upon their Matters specially before the King and his Council, betwixt this and the Nativity of Saint John Baptist next coming at the furthest, and there make sufficient Proof of the said Muniments so lost, and of the Form and Tenor of the same; and that done, such Remedy shall thereof be provided for them at every Man's Complaint, as best shall seem in the Case, saving the Law.

ITEM, Because that grievous Complaint hath oftentimes been made of the Officers of the Exchequer, for that the Heirs, Executors, Occupiers of Goods, and Land Tenants of divers Persons which have been impeached in the said Exchequer, of Debts, Accompts, and other Demands, and which although they have offered them there to shew or plead for their Discharge of those Impeachments according to the Law, they have not been always thereunto received heretofore, without having express Commandment by Writ, or Letter of the Great or Privy Seal, to the great Disquietness, Mischief, and Delay of the said Persons impeached, and no Advantage to the King; It is ordained and assented, That the Barons of the said Exchequer shall from henceforth have full Power to hear every Answer of every Demand made in the same Exchequer, so that every Person that is impeached or im-peachable of any Cause by himself, or by any Person, shall be from henceforth received in the same Exchequer to plead sue and have his reasonable Discharge in this Behalf, without tarrying or suing any Writ, (or other Commandment whatsoever.

ITEM, Because that great Mischiefs have happened in Times past to divers Persons, as well to Lords of the Realm, as other, which were retained or assigned to serve our Lord the King, by Indentures or without Indentures, in his Wars and his Messages, or in other Manner, and for the same Causes receive certain Sums of Money at the Receipt of the said Exchequer, or elsewhere by Assignment, which Sums have been put upon them in the Rolls of the said Exchequer, as Money received by Way of Loan, and for that Cause the same Sums should run in Demand upon them at the Exchequer as a clear Debt, (1) although the said Persons so retained, their Heirs, Executors, Occupiers of their Goods, or Land Tenants, after their Death, have demanded to be admitted to Accompt of the Sums received, [which 3] hath not been granted to them, but they have been constrained to pursue their [Grant 1] by the Great or Privy Seal directed to the Treasurer and Barons there, whereby it was commanded to the Treasurer and Barons to accompt with them in this Behalf; which Warrants oftentimes have been denied, because that the King's Officers newly made percase had no Knowledge of such retaining made before their Time; and sometime have been granted, but not so fully as Reason and the Case required[. And foras-much as the same Warrant would that Accompt 5] should not be received, but only of the Sum so received by Loan, whereas a greater Sum percase was due to them of Reason, to the great Mischief and Hinderance of the said Persons; It is ordained and assented, That of all People which from henceforth shall be retained or assigned to serve the King, their Covenants shall be put in Writing, and sent to the Exchequer, there to remain of Record; so that at what Time that any Person so retained, his Heirs or Executors, Occupiers of the Goods, or Land-Tenants, come to accompt thereof at the Exchequer, they shall be thereto received, and have due Allowance in their Accompt, according to the Content of their Covenant. STATUTE THE SECOND.

THE KING, to the Sheriff of Cornwall, Greeting.
Whereas with the common Assent of Us and the Nobles, Great Men, and Commons of our Realm of England, assisting Us in our last Parliament, for the better Government and Amendment of our said Realm, and the Merchandises of the same, certain Agreements or Ordinances were, among other Things, made in this Form:

For the common Profit of the Realm of England, divers Ordinances and Establishments have been made by our Lord the King, the Prelates, Lords, and Com-mons of the faid Realm, being in this present Parlia-ment holden at Westminster the [Tuesday next after the Feast '] of St. John Portlatine, the Fifth Year of the Reign of our Lord King Richard the Second, in the Form following.

FIRST, It is accorded and assented in the Parliament, 'That all Manner of Merchants Strangers, of whatsoever Nation or Country they be, being of the Amity of the King and of his Realm, shall be welcome, may freely and freely may come within the Realm of England, and elsewhere within the King's Power, as well within Fran-chise as without, and there to be conversant, to merchandise and tarry as long as them liketh, as those

III. Offer of Mariners to

ITEM, It is assented and accorded in the Parliament, That the Passage of Wools, Leather, and Woolfels be open to all manner of Merchants and other, as well Foreigners as Denizens, that will buy the same and readily pay in hand for the same the Customs, Subsidies and [Devoirs] of Calais due from henceforth to the Feast of St. Michael next come twelvemonth, in such manner, that in the meantime they [and none other] may ship and cocket the same in Ports within the Realm accustomed, and from thence to carry and bring them towards what Parts they will choose beyond the Sea, without Impediment or Impeachment, except to the Realm of France. And moreover, of the Assent aforesaid, our Sovereign Lord the King will and granteth to all those Merchants and other, which betwixt this and the Fifteenth of St. Martin next ensuing, shall pay before in hand the Subsidies, Customs, and [Devoirs'] for the Wools, Leather, and Woolfels, which they will pass and do to be carried beyond the Sea, betwixt the First Day of September next coming, and the said Feast of St. Michael next come Twelvemonth, his Pardon and Release of Half a Mark of every Sack of Wool, Half a Mark of every Two hundred and forty Woolfels, and also of their Leather after the Rate, upon their said Payments so to be made before hand, as it is said. And therewithal they and every of them shall have freely the Passage of the same their Wools, Leather, and Woolfels at large where and when they will, as above is said, before the Feast of St. Michael aforesaid without any manner Impeachment or Impediment; but the King's Mind is, that they which will not pay the Subsidies of their Wools, Leather, and Woolfels before the said Fifteenth, they shall pay wholly the Customs, Subsidies, and [Devoirs'] of their Wools, Leather, and Woolfels to be passed beyond the Sea, without having Remission of the said Half Mark by any way. And the King promiseth, and it is accorded and assented by all the Estates of the Parliament, that against this Grant and Ordinance, nor against those Persons which so shall pay beforehand, and before the said Fifteenth, their Subsidies, Customs, and Devoirs, and shall have therefore the said Passage of their Wools, Leather, and Woolfels, and Release of the said Half Mark, as is said, no Repeal, Revocation, Countermandment, Impediment, nor other Thing shall be made by our Sovereign Lord the King, his Council, his Ministers, nor none other, which may turn or sound in Disturbance of their Covenant or Passage aforesaid by any Way of the World. And the King will and granteth, at the Request of his Commons, that the Money coming of the Subsidy of the said Wools, Leather, and Woolfels granted at the last Parliament, be wholly applied upon the Defence of the Realm of England, and the Keeping and Governance of his Towns and Fortresses beyond the Sea, after the good Advice of the Lords of the Realm, and other wise Men of the King's Council.

ITEM, Upon the Proffer which hath been made in the Parliament by the Mariners of the West, to make serve at Sea: an Army upon the Sea, to endure from this Time till the Feast of St. Michael next coming in Two Years, the Lords and Commons being in this Parliament have granted to the King a Subsidy of Two Shillings to take of every Tun of Wine, and of a less Vessel

And at the Request of the Commons, the King will that Sir John Philpot, Knight, be Receiver and Keeper of the Money rising of the said Subsidy, from the Town of Southampton towards the North, and that John Polimond and Thomas Beaupenny be Receivers and Keepers of the said Subsidy in the Town of Southampton and from thence towards the West, by the King's Letters Patents thereof to be made to the said Persons in due Form. And also certain sufficient Persons shall be assigned by the King to be Comptrollers to the said Collectors. And the People being in the said Army, shall have wholly all their Gains and Profits, to be departed betwixt them during the said Army abovesaid: And the Admirals and other of the said Army, shall be assured to save the King's Friends and Allies without Damage to be done to them or to any of them by any way, and if they do, and that be duly proved, they shall bind [them'] upon a grievous Pain thereof duly to make Amends.

ITEM, The King doth will and command, and it is assented in the Parliament by the Prelates, Lords, and Commons, That all and singular Persons and Commonalties which from henceforth shall have the Summons of the Parliament, shall come from henceforth to the Parliaments, in the Manner as they are bound to do, and [have '] been accustomed within the Realm of England of old Times. And if any Person of the same Realm, which from henceforth shall have the said Summons, be he Archbishop, Bishop, Abbot, Prior, Duke, Earl, Baron, Banneret, Knight of the Shire, Citizen of City, Burgess of Borough, or other singular Person or Commonalty, do absent himself, and come not at the said Summons, except he may reasonably and honestly excuse him to our Lord the King, he shall be amerced, and otherwise punished, according as of old Times hath been used to be done within the said Realm in the said Case. And if any Sheriff of the Realm be from henceforth negligent in making his Returns of Writs of the Parliament, or that he leave out of the said Returns any Cities or Boroughs which be bound, and of old Time were wont to come to the Parliament, he shall be [amerced or otherwise 3] punished in the Manner as was accustomed to be done in the said Case in Times past.

ITEM, Forasmuch as it is openly known, that there be divers evil Persons within the Realm, going from County to County, and from Town to Town, in certain Habits under Dissimulation of great Holiness, and without the Licence (') of the Ordinaries of the Places or other sufficient Authority, [preaching'] daily, not only in Churches and Churchyards, but also in Markets, Fairs, and other open Places, where a great Congregation of People is, divers Sermons containing Heresies and notorious Errors, to the great emblemishing of the Christian Faith, and Destruction of the Laws, and of the Estate of Holy Church, to the great Peril of the Souls of the People, and of all the Realm of England, as more plainly is found and sufficiently proved before the Reverend Father in God the Archbishop of Canterbury, and the Bishops and other Prelates, (6) Masters of Divinity, and Doctors of Canon and of Civil Law, and a great Part of the Clergy of the said Realm specially

House, and for others, and all Statutes and Ordinances before this Time made, and not yet repealed, be firmly observed in all their Articles, and put in due Execution according to the Effect of the same.

ITEM, To the Intent that Writs of Debt and Accompt, and all other such Actions, be from henceforth taken in their Counties, and directed to the Sheriffs of the Counties where the Contracts of the same Actions did rise; It is ordained and accorded, That if from henceforth in Pleas upon the same Writs it shall be declared, That the Contract thereof was made in another County than is contained in the Original Writ, that then incontinently the same Writ shall be utterly abated.

ITEM, It is accorded and ordained, That all Writs of Nusances, commonly called Vicontiels, shall be from henceforth made at the Election of the Plaintiff, in the Nature of old Times used, or else in the Nature of Assises determinable before the King's Justices of the one Bench or the other, or before the Justices of Assise to be taken in the County of the Place assigned or to be assigned.

ITEM, It is accorded, That all Inrollments of Deeds, and other Muniments in the Rolls of the Chancery, of either Bench, and the Exchequer of our Lord the King, before this Time enrolled, and after by Traitors to the King and his Realm, in the Insurrection [late made within the same Realm seditiously removed, torn, and rent, or otherwise imbezzled, shall be in a due Form exemplified under the King's Great Seal without Fee of the Seal thereof to be paid, and that the same Exemplifications so had, shall be of the same Effect and Strength in all Things, as the same Deeds and Muniments should have been, if they were had whole and unhurt.

ITEM, It is ordained and accorded, That the Justices assigned and to be assigned to take Assises and deliver the Gaols, shall from henceforth hold their Sessions in the Principal and Chief Towns of every of the Counties, (') where the Shire Courts of the same Counties be holden, and hereafter shall be holden.

ITEM, Against the Offenders and Ravishers of Ladies, and the Daughters of Noblemen, and other Women, in every Part of the said Realm, in these Days offending more violently, and much more than they were wont; It is ordained and stablished, That wheresoever and whensover such Ladies, Daughters, and other Women aforesaid be ravished, and after such Rape do consent to such Ravishers, that as well the Ravishers, as they that be ravished, and every of them, be from thenceforth disabled, and by the same Deed be unable to have or challenge all Inheritance, Dower, or Joint Feoffment after the Death of their Husbands and Ancestors; and that incontinently in this Case the next of the Blood of those Ravishers, or of them that be ravished, to whom such Inheritance, Dower, or Joint Feoffment ought to (3) revert, remain, or fall after the Death of the Ravisher, or of her that is so ravished, shall have Title immediately, that is to say, (4) after the Rape, to enter upon the Ravisher, or her that is ravished, and their Assigns, and Land-Tenants in the same Inheritance, Dower, or Joint-Feoffment, and the same to hold in State of Inheritance; and that the Husbands of such Women, if they have Husbands, or if they have no Husbands in Life, that then the Fathers or other next of their Blood, have from henceforth the Suit to pursue, and may sue against the same Offenders and Ravishers in this Behalf, and to have them thereof convict of Life, and of Member, although the same Women after such Rape do consent to the said Ravishers. And further it is accorded, That the Defendant in this Case shall not be received to wage Battel, but that the Truth of the Matter be thereof tried by Inquisition of the Country. Saving always to our Lord the King, and to other Lords of the said Escheate. Realm, all their Escheats of the said Ravishers, if peradventure they be thereof convict.

STATUTE THE SECOND.

THE KING to the Sheriffs of London and Middlesex, Greeting. Know ye, that, in our last Parliament holden at Westminster, We caused to be made certain Statutes, Pardons, and Ordinances in these Words:

In the Parliament holden at Westminster on Monday in the Third Week of Lent, in the Sixth Year of the Reign of King Richard, the Second after the Conquest, Our Lord the King, with the Assent of the Prelates, Nobles, and Great Men assisting him in the same Parliament, caused certain Statutes, Remissions, and Ordinances to be made, to the Praise and Honour of Almighty God, and for the quiet of his People, in Form following.

FIRST, It is ordained and granted, that the Church of England shall fully enjoy and use all her Liberties and free Customs; and that the Great Charter and the Charter of the Forest shall be firmly holden in all their Articles, and put in due Execution according to the Effect of the same.

ALSO It is ordained and granted, that the Statutes of Purveyors of Victuals and Carriage for the King's Household, be in like Manner kept in all their Articles, and put in due Execution.

ITEM, Whereas our Sovereign Lord the King, in his Parliament summoned at Westminster, the Monday in the Utas of Saint Michael, the Sixth Year of his Reign, of his especial Grace, did pardon and remit to all and singular his Liege People and Subjects, of whatsoever Estate, Degree, or Condition they were, except certain Citizens of London and other, of whom special mention is made in the said Pardon, the Suit of his Peace, and whatsoever Thing to the said King pertained or might pertain, for all Manner of Treasons and Felonies done or committed in the Time of the Insurrection, then lately within the said Realm of England stirred, whereof they were indicted, arraigned, or

RICHARD by the Grace of God, &c. to the Sheriff of York,'] Greeting. Know thou, that at our Parliament holden at Westminster the Monday next before the Feast of All Saints last past, to the Honour of God and of Holy Church, and for the common Profit of the Realm, of the Assent of the Prelates, Lords, and Commons being at the said Parliament, We have caused to be made certain Statutes and Ordinances in the Form following:

FIRST, It is assented and accorded, That Holy Church have and enjoy all her Liberties and Franchises as wholly as she hath had and enjoyed them in the Time of the [King's noble Progenitors.²]

ITEM, That the Great Charter and the Charter of the Forest, and all other good Statutes and Ordinances made before this Time, and not repealed, shall be holden and kept, and put in due Execution according to the Effect of the same.

ITEM, At the grievous Complaint which is now made of the Officers of the Forest, It is assented and accorded, That no Manner of Jury shall be from henceforth compelled by any Officer of the Forest, or other Person whatsoever, to travel from Place to Place out of the Places where their Charge is given to them, against their Gree; nor by Malice, nor by Menace, or other Duress, constrained to give their Verdict of a Trespass done in the Forest, otherwise than their Conscience will clearly inform them; but they shall give their Verdicts upon their Charge in the Places where their Charge is given them, as above is said:

ITEM, It is assented, That no Man be taken nor imprisoned by any Officer of the Forest without due Indictment, or being taken with the Maner, or irespassing in the Forest; nor shall be constrained to make any Obligation or Ransom to any Officer of the Forest in any Sort against their Agreement and the Assise of the Forest; and if any do against this Ordinance in any Point, and thereof be attainted, he shall pay to the Party damnified their double Damages, and Fine and Ransom to the King for his Offence.

ITEM, It is ordained and assented, That the Statutes made in the Time of King Edward, Grandfather to our Sovereign Lord the King that now is, of Roberdsmen and Drawlatches be firmly holden and kept; and moreover it is ordained and assented, to refrain the Malice of divers People, Feitors and wandering from Place to Place, running in the Country more abundantly than they were wont in Times past, that from henceforth the Justices of Assises in their Sessions, the Justices of Peace, and the Sheriffs in every County shall have Power to enquire of all such Vagabonds and Feitors, and of their Offences, and upon them to do that the Law demandeth; and that as well the Justices and Sheriffs, as the Mayors, Bailiffs, Constables, and other Governors of Towns and Places where such Feitors and Vagabonds shall come, shall from henceforth have Power to examine them diligently, and to compel them to find Surety of their good bearing, by sufficient Mainpernors, of such as be distrainable, if any Default be found in such Feitors and Vagabonds; and if they cannot find such Surety, they shall be sent to the next Gaol, there to abide till the coming of the Justices assigned for the Deliverance of the Gaols, who in such Case shall have Power to do upon such Feitors and Vagabonds so imprisoned, that that thereof to them best shall seem by the Law.

ITEM, for the grievous Mischiefs and Complaints that do daily happen of Robberies, Thefts, Manslaughters, Burning of Houses, and Ridings in Routs and great Companies in every Part of the Realm; It is ordained and assented, That the Statute of Winchester, the Tenour whereof is sent by our Lord the King this Year last past into every County of England to be proclaimed, (') be holden and kept in all Points, and put in good and hasty Execution, at the Complaint and Pursuit of every Man that feeleth himself grieved against the Tenour of the same; and to the Intent that no Man shall excuse himself by Ignorance of the same Statute, it is also assented, that every Sheriff of England shall be bound from henceforth in proper Person to make Proclamation of the same Statute four Times in a Year in every Hundred of his Bailiwick, and by his Bailiffs in every Market Town, as well within Liberties as without.

ITEM, Against the Michief that happeneth to divers People of the Realm, which be impanelled and returned before the Justices and Barons of the Exchequer; in which Case, because that the Inquest is not pursued to the End by those that be Parties, but put in Delay from Year to Year, the Jurors do greatly lose, and some much more than the Value of their Land is by Year, to their great Impoverishing and Hindrance: It is accorded, That from henceforth in all Manner of Pleas where a Nisi Prius is grantable of Office, after the great Distress [returned, and three Times served] before the Justices against the Jurors, and thereupon the Parties demanded, if none of the said Parties will pursue, or if the Parties refuse to have a Writ of Nisi Prius in the Case, then at the Suit of any of the Jurors that be present, a Writ of Nisi Prius shall be made and granted, and that as well in the Exchequer as elsewhere, and thereupon the Quarrel shall be set at an End without Delay, according as the Case requireth, and the Law demandeth.

ITEM, It is accorded and assented, That the Statutes of Purveyors made before this Time be firmly holden and kept, and put in good and due Execution; joining to the same, that if the Servants of other Lords and Ladies which be not comprised in the said Statutes, do from henceforth take, in any Part within the Realm, Victuals or Carriages to the Use of their Lords and Ladies, otherwise than they thereof may agree with the Owners and Sellers of the same by Payment thereof to be made readily in Hand, that the same Servants shall incur the Pain (3) comprised in the said Statutes of Purveyors, and nevertheless the Party endamaged by such Servants, if he will, shall have his Suit at the Common Law.

ITEM, For the Mischief which daily happeneth upon the Falsehood and Deceit which is found in Cloths vendible, as well coloured as Ray Cloths, against the Assise thereof ordained before this Time, It is ordained and assented, That all the Statutes thereof made in Times past, with the Statutes made of Aulnegers and Collectors of the Subsidy of the said Cloths, be holden, kept, and put in due and good Execution; Joining to the same, that he which from henceforth shall espy and prove Default in any such Cloth set to Sale, against the Assise thereof ordained of the said Cloths, and against the Form of the said Statutes, shall have the Third Part of every such Cloth defective for his Labour, by the Delivery of the Sheriffs, if they be present, or of the Lords of the Fairs and Markets, and other Places where such Cloths shall be found defective, or of their Stewards or Bailiffs, or of the Constables of the Towns and Places aforesaid, by Indenture betwixt them duly to be made; which Indentures shall be every Year at the Feast of St. Michael delivered into the Exchequer, by them which so shall make the said Delivery, to the Intent there to charge the Aulnegers and Collectors aforesaid, by whom such Defaults ought to have been searched, corrected, and mended, and be not, but commonly maintained and concealed in all Parts; for which Third Part that pertaineth to the King as his Forfeiture by force of the Statutes made in Times past, the Aulnegers and Collectors aforesaid, in every County and Place where such Cloths defective shall be found, for the Pain against the said Offences and Concealment, shall make Gree of their own Money to our Lord the King in his Exchequer, of the Value of the same Third Part; so that as well of the same Third Part as of the Remnant of the said Cloth, the King shall be wholly answered at his said Exchequer.

ITEM, It is ordained and assented, That an Assise of Novel Disseisin shall be from henceforth granted and made of Rent behind, due of Tenements being in divers Counties, to be holden in the Confine of the Counties, within which the Tenements be; and thereupon the Assise taken and tried by People of the said Counties in the same Manner as is done of a Common of Pasture being in one County, and appendant to Tenements in another County; and that as well of Disseisins done in Time past, as of Disseisins yet to be done; and that Writs thereupon at the Suit of the Plaintiffs be made from henceforth in the Chancery without any Manner of Contradiction, in a due Form.

ITEM, Whereas in divers Parliaments holden at Westminster, the Fifth and Sixth Years of our said Lord the King, divers Ordinances and Statutes of Fishers of London and other Victuallers were made, and also of Vintners, and of the Sale of Wines, and thereupon the same Ordinances and Statutes, with the Pains in them contained, were published and proclaimed throughout the Realm, as in the said Statutes and Ordinances more plainly may appear: Nevertheless for certain Causes, at the Request of the Commons of England thereupon specially made, It is assented and agreed, That the same Ordinances and Statutes of Fishers, Vintners, and Victuallers, made in the Years aforesaid, shall be wholly annulled and repealed, and shall lose their Effect and Strength: Nevertheless saving to the King all the Forfeitures of Wines for the Time past that to him pertaineth by virtue of the same Ordinances and Statutes: Provided always, that all the [Vintners and '] Victuallers, as well Fishers as other coming with their Victuals to the City of London, shall be from henceforth under the Governance and Rule of the Mayor and Aldermen of the said City for the Time being, as in Time past it hath been used.

ITEM, Whereas late in the Parliament holden at Westminster, the Third Year of the Reign of our said Lord the King, at the Request of the Commons, and by the Assent of the Lords Temporal, it was ordained and assented, and upon a grievous Pain prohibited, that no Subject of the King nor other Person, of what Estate or Condition he were, should take, neither receive from thenceforth, within the Realm of England, Procuracy, Letter of Attorney, ne Ferm, nor any other Administration by Indenture, or in any other Manner, of any Person concerning any Benefice of Holy Church within the Realm, but only of the King's Subjects of the same Realm, without the especial Grace and express Licence of our said Lord the King, upon a certain Pain contained in the said Statute; It is assented and agreed by the same Lords, That the same Statute shall keep his Force and Effect in all Points; and moreover it is assented, That if any Alien have purchased, or from henceforth shall purchase any Benefice of Holy Church, Dignity, or other Thing, and in his proper Person take Possession of the same, or occupy it himself within the Realm, whether it be to his own proper Use, or to the Use of another, without especial Licence of the King, he shall be comprised within the same Statute; and moreover shall incur all Pains and Forfeitures in all Points as is before ordained by another Statute made the Five and twentieth Year of the noble King Edward the Third, Grandfather to our Lord the King that now is, against them that purchase Provisions of Abbeys or Priories; and to the Intent that such Licences shall not be from henceforth made, the King willeth and commandeth to all his Subjects and other, that they shall abstain them from henceforth to pray him for any such Licence to be given; and also the King himself will refrain to give any such Licence during the Wars, except to the Cardinal of Naples, or to some other special Person to whom the King is beholden for a special Cause.

ITEM, It is ordained and assented, and also the King doth prohibit, That from henceforth no Man shall ride in Harness within the Realm, contrary to the Form of the Statute of Northampton thereupon made, neither with Launcegay within the Realm, the which Launcegays be clearly put out within the said Realm, as a Thing prohibited by our Lord the King, upon Pain of Forfeiture of the said Launcegays, Armours, and other Harness, in whose Hands or Possession they be found that bear them within the Realm, contrary to the Statutes and Ordinances aforesaid, without the King's special Licence.

ITEM, In Writs of Præmunire facias, It is assented and agreed, That they against whom such Writs be sued, and who at this Time be out of the Realm, and be of good Fame, and have made their general Atturnies before their departing, that the Chancellor of England for the Time being, by the Advice of the Justices, may grant, that the same Persons may appear to answer, to do, and to receive that Thing which the Law demandeth, by their general Atturnies aforesaid, as well as in other Causes and Quarrels; and those Persons which from henceforth shall pass by the King's Licence, and be of good Fame, that at their Request the Chancellor, by the Advice of the Justices, may grant to them to make their general Atturnies in the Chancery by the King's Patent, before their Passage, to answer as well in the said Writs of Præmunire facias, as in other Writs and Plaints; in which Case express Mention shall be made at all Times of the Writs and Plaints of Præmunire facias; and this Patent so made, the said Atturnies from henceforth, in Absence of their Masters, may answer [for them, and make'] other Atturnies under them, before any Judge of the Realm, [to'] do and receive in the said Case as much as in any other Case or Matter, notwithstanding any Statute made to the contrary heretofore.

ITEM, For the grievous Complaint that is made of Maintainers of Quarrels, and Champertors; It is ordained and assented, That the Statutes thereof made in the First and Fourth Years of King Edward, Grandfather to our Lord the King that now is, and also in the First Year of our Lord the King that now is, shall be holden and kept, and duly executed in all Points.

ITEM, It is assented, and the King straitly defendeth, That from henceforth no Person, Alien nor Denizen, of whatsoever Estate or Condition that he be, shall carry nor send, nor do to be carried nor sent, by Land nor by Sea, out of the Realm of England, to any Parts of Scotland, privily nor apertly, any Manner of Armour, Corn, Malt, or other Victuals, or any other refreshing, upon Pain of Forfeiture of the same Victuals, Armours, and other Things aforesaid, together with the Ships, thereof. ITEM, Whereas late in the Time of the noble King Edward, Grandfather of our Sovereign Lord the King that now is, it was ordained, That Justices, as long as they should be in the Office of Justices, should not take Fee nor Robe of any except of the King, and that they should not take Gift nor Reward by them nor yet by other, privily nor apertly, of any Man which should have any Thing to do afore them in any wise, except Meat and Drink, of small Value; and that they should not give Counsel to any great or small in Things or Affairs, where the King is Party, or which in any wise touch the King upon a certain Pain contained in the said Ordinance: And in the same Manner it is ordained of the Barons of the Exchequer, as in the said Ordinance is more plainly contained; (') the said Ordinance being rehearsed in the Parliament, it is [ordained and assented,'] That no Justice of the King's Bench nor of the Common Bench, nor none of the Barons of the Exchequer, as long as they shall be in the Office of Justice or Barons, shall take from henceforth (1) Robe, Fee, Pension, Gift, nor Reward, of any but of the King, [except Reward'] of Meat and Drink, which shall be of no great Value. And that from henceforth they shall give no Counsel to any, great or small, in Things or Affairs, wherein the King is Party, or which in anywise touch the King, and that they be not of any Man's Counsel in any Cause, Plea, or Quarrel, hanging the Plea before them or in other of the King's (5) Courts or Places, upon Pain of Loss of their Office, and making to the King Fine and Ransom.

ITEM, At the Complaint of the said Commonalty made to our Lord the King in the Parliament, for that great Disherison in Times past was done of the People, and may be done by the false entering of Pleas, rasing of Rolls, and changing of Verdicts; It is [accorded and assented,'] That if any Judge or Clerk be of such Default, so that by the same Default there ensueth Disherison of any of the Parties, sufficiently convict before the King and his Council, by the Manner and Form which to the same our Lord the King and his Council shall seem reasonable, and within Two Years after such Default made, if the Party grieved be of full Age, and if he be within Age, then within Two Years after that he shall come to his full Age, he shall be punished by Fine and Ransom at the King's Will, and satisfy the Party. And as to the Restitution of the Inheritance Party. And as to the Restitution of the inheritance desired by the said Commons, the Party grieved shall sue by Writ of Error, or otherwise, according to the Law, if he see it expedient for him.

AND because divers Pleas concerning the Common Law, and which by the Common Law ought to be examined and discussed, are of late drawn before the Constable and Marshal of England, to the great Damage and Disquietness of the People; It is [agreed and ordained,' That all Pleas and Suits touching the Common Law, and which ought to be examined and discussed at the Common Law, shall not hereafter be drawn or holden by any Means before the foresaid Constable and Marshal, but that the Court of the same Constable and Marshal shall have that which belongeth to the same Court, and that the Common Law shall be executed and used, and have that which to it belongeth, and the same shall be executed and used as it was accustomed to be [used in the Time of King Edward.6]

The King to the Sheriff of Lincoln greeting. A certain Statute by Us, with the Assent of the Prelates, Nobles, and Commonalty of our Realm of England, in our last Parliament holden at Westminster, for the common Profit of our said Realm made, We send to you, inclosed in these Presents, commanding and firmly enjoining, that immediately on sight of these Presents and the Statute aforesaid, the same Statute in your full County, and in Cities, Boroughs, Market Towns, and other Places in your Bailiwick, where you may see it most expedient, you do cause to be read and proclaimed and as far as in you lieth, to be firmly observed. OF THE STATUTE MADE AT WESTMINSTER IN THE NINTH YEAR.

OUR Lord the King, at his Parliament holden at Westminster, the Friday next after the Feast of St. Luke, the Ninth Year of his Reign, of the Assent of the Prelates, Dukes, Marquesses, Earls, Barons, and Commons at the said Parliament assembled, hath ordained and established the Things underwritten.

I. Statutes confirmed:

Except Stat. 8 Ric.II. c. 3.

II. Villains flying and suing their Lords, shall not bar thereby.

Attaint or Writ of Error for Reversioner on false Verdict or erroneous Judgement against particular Tenant.

In case of Covin by the particular Tenant, the Reversioner shall recover the Land. FIRST, It is accorded and assented, That all the Statutes made by the Parliament in the Times of the the King's noble Progenitors, and in his own Time, as well of Sheriffs, Under-Sheriffs, Escheators, and Clerks of Sheriffs, as of Purveyors, and all other good Statutes and Ordinances not repealed by Parliament, shall be firmly holden and kept, and due Execution thereof done, according to the Effect of the same; except the Statute of the Justices and Barons of the Exchequer made at the last Parliament, which, because it is very hard, and needeth Declaration, the King will that it be of no Force till it be declared by Parliament.

ITEM, Whereas divers Villains and Neifs, as well of great Lords as of other People, as well Spiritual as Temporal, do [fly within'] Cities, Towns, and Places enfranchised, as the City of London, and other like, and feign divers Suits against their Lords, to the Intent to make them free by the answer of their Lords: It is accorded and assented, That the Lords nor other, shall not be forebarred of their Villains, because of their Answer in the Law.

ITEM, It is accorded and assented, That if the Tenant for Term of Life, Tenant in Dower, Tenant by the Courtesy of England, or Tenant in Tail after Possibility of Issue extinct, be impleaded, and plead to an Inquest, and lose by the Oath of Twelve, or by Default or in other Manner, that he to whom the Reversion of the Tenements so lost doth appertain at the Time of such Judgement given, his Heirs or Successors, shall have an Action by Writ of Attaint, to attaint the same Oath, if they will affign the same Oath to be false, and also by Writ of Error, if Error be found in the Record of such Judgement, as well in the Life of such Tenants that so do lose, as after their Death. And if such Judgement erroneous be reversed, or such false Oath be found, that the Tenant which did lose by the first Judgement, if he be in Life, shall be restored to his Possession of the Tenements so lost, with the Issues in the mean Time, and the Party pursuing, to the Arrearages of the Rent, if any be due of the same Tenements; and if such Tenant be dead at the Time of the Judgement given upon such Writs of Attaint and of Error, that Restitution of the said Tenements be made to the Party pursuing, with the Issues after the Death of the said Tenant, together with the Arrearages of the Rent, if any to him were due in the Life of the said Tenant. Provided nevertheless, that although the Tenant, which so did lose by the first Judgement, be in Life, and the Party pursuing will alledge that the same Tenant was of Covin and of Assent of the Demandant which recovered, that such Tenements [ought to be '] lost, that Restitution of the same Tenements be made to the same Party pursuing, with the Issues and Arrearages, as afore is said, saving to such Tenant his Action by Writ of Tenor of the Commission; 10 Ric. II.

RICHARD, by the Grace of God King of England and of France, and Lord of Ireland, to all them that shall see or hear these Letters, Greeting. We have certainly conceived by the grievous Complaint of the Lords and Commons of our Realm, in this present Parliament assembled, that our Profits, Rents and Revenues of our said Realm, (a) by singular and insufficient Counsel and evil Governance, as well of some late our Great Officers, as of divers other Persons being about our Person be so much withdrawn, wasted, eloyned, given, granted, aliened, destroyed, and evil dispended, that We are so much impoverished, void and nought of Treasure and Goods, and the Substance of our Crown so much diminished and destroyed, that the Estate of Us and of our House may not honourably be sustained as pertaineth, nor the Wars, which daily abound and environ our Realm, maintained nor governed without great and outragious Oppressions and importable Charges of our said People; and also that the good Laws, Statutes, and Customs of our said Realm, which We are astreyned and bound to hold and observe, be not, nor have not been duly holden nor executed, nor full Justice nor Right done to our said People, whereby many Disherisons and other great Mischiefs and Damages be happened, as well to Us as to our said People and to all our Realm: And We to the Honour of God, and for the Weal of Us and of our Realm, and for the Quietness and Relief of Us and of our said People, who have been in divers Manners greatly charged before this Time, willing, with the Grace of God, against such Mischiefs to provide a good and due Remedy, have of our free Will, and at the Request of the Lords and Commons aforesaid, ordained, made, and assigned our Great Officers, that is to say, our Chancellor, Treasurer, and Keeper of our Privy Seal, such as We hold good, sufficient, and lawful for the Honour and Profit of Us and of our said Realm. And moreover of our Authority Royal, certain Knowledge, good Gree and free Will, and by the Advice and Assent of the Prelates, Lords, and Commons aforesaid, in the full Parliament, in Aid of good Governance of our Realm and due Execution of our said Laws, and in Relief of the Estate of Us and of our People in Time to come, upon the full Trust that we have of good Advisement Wit and Discretion of the Honourable Fathers in God William Archbishop of Canterbury, Alexander Archbishop of York, our dear Uncles Edmund Duke of York, Thomas Duke of Gloucester, the Honourable Fathers in God William Bishop of Winchester, Thomas Bishop of Exeter, and Nicholas Abbot of Waltham, our well beloved and faithful Richard Earl of Arundell, John Lord of Cobham, Richard Lescrop, and John Devereux, them We have ordained assigned and deputed, and do ordain assign and depute, to be of our great and continual Council by a whole Year next following after the Date hereof, to survey and examine with our said Great Officers as well the Estate and Governance of our House and of all our Courts, Places, and Offices, as the Estate and Governail of all our Realm, and all our Officers and Ministers, of whatsoever Estate, Degree, or Condition they be, as well within our House as without, and to inquire and take Information by all the Ways which to them best shall seem, of all the Rents, Revenues and Profits that to Us pertain and be due,

Parson of Ratlesden, Friar Richard Roughton of the Order of Friars Minors, and Thomas his Brother, and all they that be beyond the Sea with the other Traitors, and all other that will go to them hereafter.

ITEM, That none which hath been of the Retinue, Company, Force, Aid, Council, Assent, or Adherence of them that be attainted or judged in this present Parliament, or of any of them, except those before excepted, be impeached, molested, nor grieved at the Suit of the King nor other Party, nor in other Manner, because of any Assembly, Riding, [Beating, '] Levying of Penons or of Baners, Discomfiture, Death of a Man, Imprisonment of any Person, taking, leading away, or withholding of Horses or other Beasts, taking or carrying (1) of Goods, Harness, Armour, Chattels, or other Moveables, Burnings of Houses or of other Possessions or of any Goods, Assault, Battery, Robberies, Thefts, coming and tarrying with Force and Arms, or armed in the King's Presence at the Parliament, Councils, or elsewhere, raising of People, or exciting of the People to rise forcibly and against the Peace, by Letters, Commissions, or other Deeds against the Intent or Pursuit of the said Duke of Gloucester, Earls of Derby, Arundell, Warwick, and Marshal, which Intent and Pursuit be declared by their Appeal in this present Parliament, or of any other Thing that may be surmised that they or any of them [ought to 3] have done or purposed to have done, from the beginning of the World, touching any of the Matters against the Intent and Pursuit aforesaid declared in the said Appeal: Which Petition of the Assent aforesaid We have granted in all Points, and thereof We will and grant full Pardon and Remission to them and every of them, to whom it pertaineth, according to the continue of the same Petition.

ALSO, We have received Two other Petitions delivered to Us in the same Parliament by the same Commons, in the Form following:

ITEM, That the Appeals, Pursuits, Accusements, [Process,*] Judgements, and Executions made and given in this present Parliament be approved, affirmed, and established as a Thing duly made for the Weal and Profit of the King our Sovereign Lord, and of all the Realm, notwithstanding that the Lords Spiritual and their Procurators did absent them out of the Parliament at the Time of the said Judgements given, for Honesty and Salvation of their Estate, as is contained in a Protestation by the same Lords Spiritual and Procurators delivered in this present Parliament; and that by Imagination, Interpretation, or any other Motion, none of the same be reversed, broken, or adnulled in any Manner: And whosoever that make pursuit to break, adnull, or reverse any of the said Points, which Pursuit is of Record, he shall be judged and have Execution as a Traitor, and Enemy of the King and his Realm; Provided always, That this Acceptance, Approbation, Affirmance, and Establishment touching the Assemblies, Appeals, Pursuits, Accusements, [Process, 1] Judgements, and Executions aforesaid, have and hold Force and Virtue in these Cases so fallen and happened or declared only, and that they be not drawn in Example nor in Consequence in Time to come; nor that the said Commission made at the last Parliament, be drawn in Example nor Consequence hereafter, but as much as is done touching the said Matters shall stand firmly, for the Time that is past, seeing they were so profitable to the King, and Sustenance and Maintenance of his Crown, and Salvation of all the Realm, and made of so great Necessity: And though that divers Points be declared for Treason in this present Parliament, other Treason. than were declared by Statute before, that no Justice have Power to give Judgement of other Case of Treason, nor in any other Manner, than they had before the beginning of this Parliament.

Petition 4.
That none of the attainted living be pardoned.

Attempt to restore them declared Treason.

Grant of the last Two Petitions.

II.
The King shall have all the Forfeitures of Parties attainted in this Parliament: Fraudulent Conveyances by any such Parties declared void.

ITEM, That none of the Traitors attainted by the Appeal aforesaid, or Accusements of the Commons, which be yet in Life, shall be reconciled nor restored to the Law, by Pardon nor in other Manner, saving the Grace and Pardon which is made in this present Parliament: And if any do pursue to reconcile them, or to make them to have Pardon, or to restore them to the [Common] Law in any Manner, and the same be duely and openly by Record proved, he shall be judged and have Execution as a Traitor, and Enemy of the King and of the Realm: And if any Charter of Pardon, or Licence to repair into England, or other Grant be made to the said Traitors, or any of them to be restored to the [Common] Law, or to abide in England, or in other Place than is limited to them in this present Parliament, that all such Charters and Grants be void and of no Value; and if any of the said Traitors come again, or hold him in England or elsewhere within the Power and Seigniory of the King or any of his Lieges by any Way, or if any of the said Traitors, which be limited to abide in certain Places, be found [out,'] or pass the Place to him limited, [as is aforesaid,] it shall be done of him as of a Traitor and Enemy of the King and of the Realm. Which Petitions We of the Assent aforesaid have granted in all Points, and We will that the same our Grant shall stand firm and stable, according to the continue of the said Petitions without blemish for ever.

ITEM, It is ordained and established, (2) That in the Right of the same Forfeitures of those that be judged in this present Parliament, before the Twentieth Day of this present Month of March, that the King have the Forfeiture of all the Castles, Seigniories, Reversions, Lands, Tenements, Fees, Advowsons, Franchises, Liberties, and all other Possessions which were to Alexander late Archbishop of York, Robert de Veere late Duke of Ireland, Michael de la Pole late Earl of Suffolk, Robert Tresilyan, Knight, Nicholas Brembre, Knight, John Blake and Thomas Uske, or to any of them, the First Day of the last Parliament, which was the First Day of October, the Tenth Year of the King that now is, or after hitherunto; and which any other had of the Gift, Grant, or Feoffment of the said Archbishop of York, Duke of Ireland, Earl of Suffolk, Robert Tresilyan, Nicholas Brembre, John Blake, and Thomas Uske, or any of them, or of the Gift, Grant, or Feoffment of any other by Bargain or in any other Manner, to the Use of the same Archbishop of York, Duke of Ireland, Earl of Suffolk, Robert Tresilyan, Nicholas Brembre, John Blake, and Thomas Uske, or any of them, the said First Day of the last Parliament, or after hitherunto, be forfeit to the King, and that all the Goods and Chattels which were to the said Archbishop of York, Duke of Ireland, Earl of Suffolk, Robert Tresilyan, Nicholas Brembre, John Blake, and Thomas Uske, or any of them, the Seventeenth Day of November last passed, or after hitherto, shall be also forfeit to the King; and if any of the said Archbishop, Duke, Earl, Robert, Nicholas, John, and Thomas have dimissed them of any of their Goods and Chattels by Colour of any feigned Gift or Sale, or Payment of Debt not due, or in other Manner by Fraud or Collusion, after the said First Day of the last Parliament till the said Twentieth Day of March, such Goods and Chattels shall be forfeit to the King. And also that all the Lands, Tenements, Reversions, Fees, Advowsons, Franchises, Liberties, and all other Possessions which were to R. AND Moreover it is ordained and stablished, That Proclamation shall be made in the Counties, that every Person that hath any of the Goods and Chattels so forfeit as afore is said, or to whose Hands such Goods and Chattels shall come, that he within Two Months after the Proclamation so made, shall come and certify the same to the King's Council, and if he do not, and be thereof duly attainted, he shall be holden to [answer to the King, and '7 the same Goods and Chattels so concealed or the Price of the same, and, besides that, as much as the same Goods and Chattels so concealed be worth, and he shall also have One Year's Imprisonment; Provided always, that if any of the said Persons adjudged, be or were seised or in Possession of any Castles, Seignories, Lands, Tenements, Reversions, Fees, Advowsons, Franchises, Liberties, or other Possessions by Feoffment Gift or Grant of any Person, to the Use and Profit of any other than to the Use and Profit of the said Persons adjudged or of any of them, that such Castles, (1) Lands, Tenements, Reversions, Fees, Advowsons, Franchises, Liberties, and any other Possessions, shall in no Manner be forfeit, nor that this Ordinance or Stablishment of Forfeiture shall extend to them.

AND Moreover it is ordained and stablished, That the King shall have all the said Forfeitures, as well within Franchises as without: Saving the Right of the Lords of the said Franchises, if any Right to them pertain in this Behalf. And it is not the Intent of the King, nor of the Lords and Commons of the Parliament, that by force of this [Statute 3] the Issues in Tail, or they in Reversion or in Remainder, or Women of their Heritage or Jointure with their Husbands, of Gifts Grants and Feoffments made before the said Time limited of Forfeiture, shall be barred or foreclosed of their Right, when their Time shall come according to the Common Law.

ITEM, That all Manner of Seignories, Lands, Tenements, Rents, Services, Goods, and Possessions, and all manner Chattels forfeit to the King, because of Judgements given against the Persons adjudged in this Parliament, and also all other Lands and Tenements, Escheats, Forfeitures, Wards, Marriages, and other Profits which be or shall come in the King's Hand by any Cause, shall abide wholly in the King's Hand during the Wars, to acquit his Debts and in Aid to maintain his Estate, and also in Ease and Supportation of his poor Commons of the Realm, notwithstanding any Warrant or Grant made to any before this Time. And that no Great Man nor small in the King's House, nor about the King's Person, nor no other of what Estate or Condition that he be, privily nor apertly, be so hardy to take of the King's Gift any of the said Seignories, Lands, Tenements, Rents, Services, Goods, Possessions, Escheats, Forfeitures, Wards, Marriages, [Castles, 1] or Profits, or any other Profits and Revenues, during the Wars, as afore, upon Pain to forfeit the Double to the King, and Repeal of the same Thing so demanded, and to be ransomed and imprisoned at the King's Will: Except Offices and Bailiwicks, Benefices and Advancements of Holy Church, and except that that the King hath given in this present Parliament: So that in the Right of the Forfeitures judged in this present Parliament, if any pretend to have Right or Interest to the same, he shall sue to the Council, if him so liketh, and Right shall be done to him; and that the King's great Officers, by Advice of other Lords of the Council, shall have Power to sell Parcel of the said Forfeitures by their (1) Discretion, and that the Gift and Grant to be made upon such Sale shall be firm and stablished.

ITEM, Whereas by a Statute made at York, the Ninth Year of King Edward III. Grandfather of the King that now is, it was ordained and established, that all Merchants, Strangers and Denizens, and all other and every of them, of what Estate or Condition soever they be, that will buy or sell Corn, Wine, Avoir de pois, Flesh, Fish, and all other Livings and Victuals, Wools, Cloths, Wares, Merchandises, and all other Things vendible, from whence soever they come, by Foreigners or Denizens, at what Place soever it be, City, Borough, Town, Port of the Sea, Fair, Market, or elsewhere within the Realm, within Franchise or without, may freely without Interruption sell them to what Persons it shall please them, as well to Foreigners as Denizens, except always the Enemies of our Lord the King and of his Realm. And if haply any Disturbance be done to any Merchant, Stranger or Denizen, or any other, for the Sale of such Things in any City, Borough, Town, Port of the Sea or other Place which hath Franchise, and the Mayors and Bailiffs, or other which hath the Rule of such Franchise, being required by the said Merchants or other thereof to provide Remedy, and do not, and be thereof attainted, the Franchise shall be seised into the King's Hands; and nevertheless he and the other which hath done this Disturbance against this Statute, shall be bound to yield and restore to the said Merchant his double Damages, which he hath thereby sustained. And if such Disturbance or Interruption be done to such Merchants, or to other, in such Towns or Places where no Franchise is, and the Lord, if he be present, or his Bailiff, Constable, or other Ruler of the said Towns and Places, in Absence of the Lords, being therein required to do Right, and do not, and thereof be attainted, they shall yield to the Party Plaintiff his double Damages, as afore is said; and the Disturbers in the one Case and the other, as well within Franchises as without, if they be attainted, shall have One Year's Imprisonment, and nevertheless be ransomed at the King's Will. And that no Alien or Denizen, upon the same Pain, shall be troubled, but that he may freely buy such Things aforesaid in the said Places, and carry them where it pleaseth him, to his own Use, or to the Profit of the King, or of the Great Men or the Commons of the Realm; saving that such Merchants Aliens shall carry no Wine out of the same Realm, as is contained in their Charter; and that the Things aforesaid shall be observed, performed, and kept in every City, Borough, Town, Port of the Sea, and other Places within the Realm, notwithstanding Charters of Franchise granted to them to the contrary, nor Usage, nor Custom, nor Judgement given upon their Charters, Usages, or Customs, that they can alledge; which Charters, Usages, and Customs, if any were, the said King the Grandfather, the Prelates, Earls, Barons, Great Men and the Commons aforesaid, held them of no Force, as Things granted, used, or accustomed to the Damage of the King and his Prelates, Earls, Barons, and Great Men of his Realm, and to the Oppression of the Commons; Saved alway to the King and to other the Customs due of the said Merchandises. And also that the Chancellor, Treasurer, and the Justices assigned to hold the King's Pleas in Places where they come, shall inquire of such Disturbances and Grievances, and the same shall punish according as is before ordained; and nevertheless the King shall assign, by Commission of his Great Seal, certain Persons where and when it shall please him, to inquire of such Disturbances and Grievances, and the same to punish as before is said. And after by a Statute made at a Parliament holden at Westminster the Twenty-fifth Year of King Edward the Third, It was accorded by the same King Edward the Grandfather, the Prelates, Earls, Barons, and other respecting Artificers,

Servants, &c.

Servants going from their Service shall carry Letters testimonial.

Seal.

If wandering without such Letters, they shall be put into the Stocks.

Exceptions.

Penalty on forging such Letters; or receiving Servants without them.

Artificers compelled to serve in Harvest.

ITEM, It is accorded and assented, That all the Statutes of Artificers, Labourers, Servants, and Victuallers, made as well in the Time of our Sovereign Lord the King that now is, as in the Time of his noble Grandfather, whom God assoil, not repealed, shall be firmly holden and kept, and duely executed; and that the said Artificers, Labourers, Servants, and Victuallers be duely justified by the Justices of Peace as well at the Suit of the King as of the Party, according as the said Statutes require; and that the Mayors, Bailiffs, and Stewards of Lords, and Constables of Towns, do duely their Offices touching such Artificers, Servants, Labourers, and Victuallers; and that a Pair of Stocks be in every Town to justify the same Servants and Labourers as is ordained in the said Statutes. And Moreover It is ordained and assented, That no Servant nor Labourer, be he Man or Woman, shall depart at the End of his Term out of the Hundred, Rape, or Wapentake where he is dwelling, to serve or dwell elsewhere, or by Colour to go from thence in Pilgrimage, unless he bring a Letter Patent containing the Cause of his going, and the Time of his Return, if he ought to return, under the King's Seal, which for this Intent shall be assigned and delivered to the keeping of some good Man of the Hundred, (1) Rape, Wapentake, City, or Borough, after the Discretion of the Justices of the Peace to be kept, and lawfully to make such Letters when it needeth, and not in any other Manner, by his own Oath; and that about the same Seal there shall be written the Name of the County and overthwart the said Seal, the Name of the Hundred, Rape, or Wapentake, City or Borough; and also if any Servant or Labourer be found in any City or Borough or elsewhere coming from any Place, wandering without such Letter, he shall be maintenant taken by the said Mayors, Bailiffs, Stewards, or Constables, and put in the Stocks, and kept till he hath found Surety to return to his Service, or to serve or labour in the Town from whence he came, till he have such Letter to depart for a reasonable Cause: And It is to be remembered, that a Servant or Labourer may freely depart out of his Service at the End of his Term, and to serve in another Place, so that he be in a certainty with whom, and shall have such a Letter as afore; but the meaning of this Ordinance is not, that any Servants, which ride or go in the Business of their Lords or Masters, shall be comprised within the same Ordinance for the Time of the same Business; and if any bear such Letter, which may be found forged or false, he shall have Imprisonment of Forty Days for the Falsity, and further till he hath found Surety to return or serve or labour as before is said. And that none receive Servant or Labourer going out of their Hundred, Rape, or Wapentake, City, or Borough, without Letter Testimonial, nor with Letter Testimonial above one Night, except it be for Cause of Sickness or other Cause reasonable, or which will and may serve and labour there by the same Testimonial, upon a Pain to be limited by the Justices of Peace; and that as well Artificers and [People of Mystery, 7 as Servants and Apprentices, which be of no great [Avoyr,3] and of which Craft or Mystery a Man hath no great Need in harvest Time, shall be compelled to serve in Harvest, to cut, gather, and bring in the Corn; and that these Statutes be duly executed by Mayors, Bailiffs, (4) and Constables of Towns, upon Pain to be limited and judged by the said Justices of Peace in their Sessions; and that no Man take above a Penny for the making, sealing, and delivering of such Letter.

ITEM, Because that Servants and Labourers will not, nor by a long Season would, serve and labour without outrageous and excessive Hire, and much more than hath been given to such Servants and Labourers in any Time past, so that for Scarcity of the said Servants and Labourers, the Husbands and Landtenants may not pay their Rents, nor [unnethes'] live upon their Lands, to the great Damage and Loss as well of the Lords as all the Commons; Also because that the Hires of the said Servants and Labourers have not been put in certainty before this Time: It is accorded and assented that the Bailiff for Husbandry shall take by Year xiij s. iiij d. and his Clothing once by Year at the most. The Master Hine x s. the Carter x s. the Shepherd x s. the Oxherd vj s. viij d. the Cowherd vj s. viij d. the Swineherd vj s. a Woman Labourer vj s. a [Deye 1] vj s. a Driver of the Plough vij s. at the most; and every other Labourer and Servant according to his Degree, and less in the Country where less was wont to be given without Clothing, Courtesie, or other Reward by Covenant. And that no Servant of Artificer nor Victualler within City, Borough, nor other Town, shall take more than the Servants and Labourers above named after their Estate, without Vesture, Courtesie, or other Reward by Covenant as is aforesaid. And if any give or take by Covenant more than is above specified, at the first Time that they shall be thereof attainted, as well the Givers as the Takers, shall pay the Value of the Excess so given or taken, and at the Second Time of their Attainder, the Double Value of such Excess, and at the Third Time the Treble Value of such Excess, and if the Taker so attainted have nothing whereof to pay the said Excess, he shall have Forty Days Imprisonment.

ITEM, It is ordained and assented, That he or she, which use to labour at the Plough and Cart, or other Labour or Service of Husbandry, till they be of the Age of Twelve Years, that from thenceforth they shall abide at the same Labour, without being put to any Mystery or Handicraft; and if any Covenant or Bond of Apprentice be from henceforth made to the contrary, the same shall be holden for none.

ITEM, It is accorded and assented, That no Servant of Husbandry, or Labourer, nor Servant [or 3] Artificer, nor of Victualler, shall from henceforth bear any [Buckler, 1] Sword, nor Dagger, upon Forfeiture of the same, but in the Time of War for Defence of the Realm of England, and that by the surveying of the Arreyers for the Time being, or travailing by the Country with their Master, or in their Master's Message; but such Servants and Labourers shall have Bows and Arrows, and use the same the Sundays and Holydays, and leave [all playing at Tennis or Football, and other Games called Coits, Dice, Casting of the Stone, [Kailes,6] and other such importune Games; 5] and that the Sheriffs, Mayors, Bailiffs, and Constables, shall have Power to arrest, and shall arrest all Doers against this Statute, (7) and seize the said [Bucklers, 3] Swords, and Daggers, and keep them till the Sessions of the Justices of Peace, and the same present before the same Justices in their Sessions, together with the Names of them that did bear the same. And it is not the King's Mind that any Prejudice be done to the Franchises of Lords, touching the Forfeitures due to them.

VII. Punishment of wandering Beggars.

See Chap. 3.

Maintenance of impotent Beggars.

Pilgrims shall carry Testimonials.

VIII. Travelling Beggars shall carry Testimonials.

See Chap. 3.

IX. How these Statutes shall be put in Execution.

X. Six Justices of Peace in each County;

Quarterly Sessions, &c.

ITEM, It is accorded and assented, That of every Person that goeth begging, and is able to serve or labour, it shall be done of him as of him that departeth out of the Hundred and other Places aforesaid without Letter Testimonial as afore is said, except People of Religiori, and Hermits (') having Letters testimonial of their Ordinaries. And that the Beggars impotent to serve, shall abide in the Cities and Towns where they be dwelling at the Time of the Proclamation of this Statute; and if the People of Cities or other Towns will not or may not suffice to find them, that then the said Beggars shall draw them to other Towns within the Hundreds, Rape, or Wapentake, or to the Towns where they were born, within Forty Days after the Proclamation made, and there shall continually abide during their Lives. And that of all them that go in Pilgrimage as Beggars, and be able to travail, it shall be done as of the said Servants and Labourers, if they have no Letters testimonial of their Pilgrimage under the said Seals. And that the Scholars of the Universities that go so begging, have Letters testimonial of their Chancellor upon the same Pain.

ITEM, It is ordained and assented, That they that feign themselves Men travelled out of the Realm, and there to be imprisoned, shall bring Letters testimonial of the Captains where they were abiding, or of the Mayors or Bailiffs where they arrived; and the same Mayors and Bailiffs shall enquire of such People where and with whom they have dwelled, and in what Place their Dwelling is in England; and that the same Mayors and Bailiffs make them Letters Patents under the Seal of their Office, testifying the Day of their Arrival, and [also witnessing] where they have been, as they have said; and that the said Mayors and Bailiffs cause them to swear, that they shall hold their right Way towards their Country, except they have Letters Patents under the King's Great Seal to do otherwise. And if any such travelled Man be found without such Letter [as afore is said,] it shall be done of him as of the said Servants and Labourers; and also this Ordinance shall be intended of Men travelled, that go begging through the Country after their Arrival.

ITEM, It is ordained and assented, That the Ordinances aforesaid of Servants and Labourers, Beggars and Vagabonds, shall hold place and be executed as well in Cities and Boroughs, as in other Towns and Places within the Realm, as well within the Franchises as without. And that the Sheriffs, Mayors, Bailiffs, and Keepers of the Gaols shall be holden and charged to receive the said Servants, Labourers, Beggars, and Vagabonds, and to keep them in the Prison in the Form aforesaid, without letting to Mainprise or in Bail, and without Fee or any other Thing taking of them by themselves or by any other, as long as they be so imprisoned, or at their Entry, or at their [going forth, 1] upon Pain to pay an C. s. to our Sovereign Lord the King.

STATUTE THE FIRST.

und in their Time ; pointing to the source, this

IN [the '] Parliament holden at Westminster the Monday next after the Feast of Saint Hillary, the Thirteenth Year of the Reign of King Richard the Second after the Conquest, our Lord the King, to the Honour of God and Holy Church, and for the common Profit of his liege People of his Realm, of the Assent of the Prelates and Lords Temporal, and Commons, being in the same Parliament, hath ordained and established the Things under-written.

FIRST, Whereas it is ordained by a Statute made the Twenty-fifth Year of the Reign of King Edward the 25 Edw. III.

Grandfather of our Lord the King that now is, that at what Time that the King shall make Collation or Preconfirmed. what Time that the King shall make Collation or Presentment to any Benefice in another's Right, that the Title upon which he groundeth himself shall be well examined that it be true; and at what Time before Judgement given, the Title be found by good Information untrue, and not just, the Collation or Presentment thereupon made shall be repealed; And notwithstanding the same Statute, some of the King's Presentees, by Favour of the Ordinaries be instituted and inducted in Benefices of Holy Church without due Process, the Parties not warned nor called, and sometime [taken by false Inquests favourably,"] and the Incumbents in such Manner put out; It is ordained and assented, That the said Statute be firmly holden and kept; And moreover our Lord the King, for the Reverence of God and Holy Church, doth will and grant, That if he present to any Benefice that is full of any Incumbent, that the Presentee of the King shall not be received by the Ordinary to the Benefice, till the King hath recovered his Presentment by Process of the Law in his own Court: And if any Presentee of the King be otherwise received, and the Incumbent put out without due Process, as afore is said, the said Incumbent shall begin his Suit within a Year after the Induction of the King's Presentee [at the least.1]

ITEM, Because that the Commons do make a grievous Complaint, that the Court of the Constable and the Marshal hath incroached to him, and daily doth incroach Contracts, Covenants, Trespasses, Debts, and Detinues, and many other Actions pleadable at the Common Law, in great Prejudice of the King and of his Courts, and to the great Grievance and Oppression of the People; our Lord the King, willing to ordain a Remedy against the Prejudices and Grievances aforesaid, hath declared in this Parliament, by the Advice and Assent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, the Power and Jurisdiction of the said Constable, in the Form that followeth: To the Constable it pertaineth to have Cognisance of Contracts touching Deeds of Arms and of War out of the Realm, and also of Things that touch (*) War within the Realm, which cannot be determined nor discussed by the Common Law, with other Usages and Customs to the same Matters pertaining, which Prohibition to the Constable and Marshal. other Constables heretofore have duly and reasonably used in their Time; joining to the same, that every Plaintiff shall declare plainly his Matter in his Petition, before that any Man be sent for to answer thereunto. And if any will complain, that any Plea be commenced before the Constable and Marshal, that might be tried by the Common Law of the Land, the same Plaintiff shall have a (') Privy Seal of the King without Difficulty, directed to the said Constable and Marshal, to surcease in that Plea, until it be discussed by the King's Council, if that Matter ought of Right to pertain to that Court, or otherwise to be tried by the Common Law of the Realm of England, and also that they surcease in the mean Time.

VII. Statute 12 Ric. II. c. 10 recited. Who shall be Justices of the Peace:

ITEM, It is accorded and assented, That the Court of the Steward and Marshal of the King's House, nor also the Jurisdiction thereof, shall not pass the Space of Twelve Miles, to be counted [from the Lodging ³] of [our said Lord] the King.

ITEM, At the Request of the said Commons It is ordained and assented, That the Clerk of the Market of the King's House shall do his Office well and duely; and that all false Measures and Weights shall be burned after the Form of the Statute; and that the said Clerk take no common Fine, but that every Person which is found in Default touching the same Office, be punished according to his Desert; and that he shall not ride but with Six Horses at the most, and that he shall not tarry in any Town nor other Place longer than the Necessity of his Business shall require; and if he do any Thing contrary to this Statute, and be thereof duely convict, he shall pay to the King at the first Time that he shall be convict, an C. s. and at the Second Time x. t. and at the Third Time xx. t.

ITEM, Forasmuch as a great and common Clamour and Complaint hath been oftentimes made before this Time, and yet is, for that the Admirals and their Deputies hold their Sessions within divers Places of this Realm as well within Franchise as without, accroaching to them greater Authority than belongeth to their Office, in Prejudice of our Lord the King, and the common Law of the Realm, and in diminishing of divers Franchises, and in Destruction and impoverishing of the common People: It is accorded and assented, That the Admirals and their Deputies shall not meddle from henceforth of any Thing done within the Realm, but only of a Thing done upon the Sea, as it hath been used in the Time of the noble Prince King Edward, Grandfather of our Lord the King that now is.

ITEM, At the grievous Complaint made by the Commons to our Lord the King in this Parliament, of the excessive and superfluous Number of Serjeants at Arms, and of many great Extortions and Oppressions done by them to the People, the King therefore doth will, that they shall all be discharged; and that of them and other there shall be taken of good and sufficient Persons to the Number of Thirty, and no more from henceforth; and moreover the King prohibiteth them to meddle with any Thing that toucheth not their Office; and that they do no Extortion nor Oppression to the People, upon Pain to lose their Office, and to make a Fine and Ransom at the King's Pleasure, and full Satisfaction to the Party.

ITEM, Whereas it is contained in the last Statute made at [Canterbury,³] that no Steward of any Lord shall be assigned in the Commission of the Justice of Peace; nevertheless for certain Causes shewed in this Parliament, It is accorded and assented, That Justices of Peace shall be made of new in all the Counties of England, of the most sufficient Knights, Esquires, and Gentlemen of the Law of the said Counties, notwithstanding the said Statute; and that the said Justices be sworn duely without Favour to keep and put in Execution all the Statutes and Ordinances touching their Offices.

ITEM, It is ordained and assented, That the Statutes and Ordinances made in the last Parliament holden at [Canterbury,'] as well of Servants, Labourers, Artificers, and Victuallers, as of all other Things, saving the Exception of the next Article before, touching Justices of Peace, and also all other Statutes and Ordinances made before this Time and not repealed, shall be firmly kept and duly executed. But forasmuch as a Man cannot put the Price of Corn and other Victuals in certain, It is accorded and assented, that the Justices of Peace in every County, in [Two of 1] their Sessions to be holden betwixt the Feast of Easter and St. Michael, shall make Proclamation by their Discretion according to the Dearth of Victuals, how much every Mason, Carpenter, Tiler, and other Craftsmen, Workmen, and other Labourers by the Day, as well in Harvest as in other Times of the Year, after their Degree, shall take by the Day with Meat and Drink, or without Meat and Drink, between the Two [Sessions 3] beforesaid, notwithstanding the Statutes thereof heretofore made, and that every Man obey to such Proclamations from Time to Time as a Thing done by Statute. And in the Right of Victuallers, It is accorded, that they shall have reasonable Gains, according to the Discretion and Limitation of the said Justices, and no more, upon Pain to be grievously punished according to the Discretion of the said Justices, where no Pain is limited in certain before this Time (4): And that Sheriffs, Stewards of Lords of Franchises, Mayors, and Bailiffs, and all other that have Assise of Bread and Ale to keep, and the Correction of the same, shall take no Amerciament or Fine for any Default touching the Assise, for the which a Man or Woman by the Law ought to have bodily Punishment, according as it is another Time ordained by Statute; but they shall judge them to the same bodily Punishment as the Offence requireth, and shall do Execution thereof; and that Mayors, Bailiffs, and Stewards of Franchise, and all other that have the Order and Survey of Victuals in Cities, Boroughs, [Merchant Towns, 3] and elsewhere where Victuals be sold in the Realm, shall put the Statute made the Twenty-third Year of the Reign of King Edward, Grandfather to the King that now is, which beginneth "Because a great Part of the People," touching the Estate of Victuallers and Hostellers, and other Sellers of Victuals, in due Execution; and that no Assize of Hosteller make Horse Bread in his Hostry nor without, but Bakers shall make it; and the Assise thereof shall be [kept, and that 3] the Weight be reasonable after the Price of the Corn in the Market; and that the same Hay and Hostellers shall sell Hay and Oats after a reasonable Oats. Price, so that they take not for the Bushel but One Halfpenny over the common Price in the Market.

ITEM, It is ordained and accorded, That one Measure and one Weight be through all the Realm of England, as in the Great Charter and other Statutes and Ordinances thereof made, is more plainly contained; and every one that shall be convict that he hath or useth any other Measure or Weight shall have Imprisonment of Half a Year, and make Recompence to the Party grieved to the Double of his Loss; except it be in the County of Lancaster, because in that County it hath always been used to have greater Measure than in any other Part of the Realm; and that none buy or sell Wool

And that none shall make Wools to be cocketed, but in the Name of him to whom the Wools be, upon Pain of Forfeiture of the same, as it hath been another Time ordained by Statute.

ITEM, Although it be ordained by divers Statutes, that all Manner of Cloths of Ray and of Colour shall be of a certain Length and Breadth comprised in the same Statutes, Nevertheless, for as much as it hath been a common Custom to make certain Cloths in divers Counties of England, called Cogware and Kendal Cloth, of the Breadth of Three Quarters (3) of a Yard, whereof some be of the Price of xl. d. and some of v. s. and sold to Cogmen out of the Realm, and also to poor and mean People within the Realm, of the which Cloths a great Part is made of the worst Wool within the Realm, that cannot well serve for any other Cloths: It is accorded and assented, That from henceforth it shall be lawful to every Man to make such Manner of Cloths of the Length and Breadth as it hath been used before this Time, notwithstanding any Statute made to the contrary: Provided always, that the Makers and Workers of such Cloths shall not make them of any better Wool than they were wont to do. And also It is assented, That all such Cloths as be arrested by Force or Colour of the said Statutes or any of them, shall be discharged and redelivered.

ITEM, Forasmuch as divers plain Cloths that be wrought in the Counties of Somerset, Dorset, Bristol, and Gloucester, be tacked and folded together, and set to Sale, of the which Cloths a great Part be broken, broused, and not agreeing in the Colour, neither be according in Breadth, nor in no Manner to the Part of the same Cloths shewed outwards, but be falsely wrought with divers Wools, to the great Deceit, Loss, and Damage of the People, in so much that the Merchants that buy the same Cloths, and carry them out of the Realm to sell to Strangers, be many Times in Danger to be slain, and sometime imprisoned, and put to Fine and Ransom by the same Estrangers, and their said Cloths burnt or forfeit, because of the great Deceit and Falsehood that is found in the same Cloths when they be untacked and opened, to the great Slander of the Realm [of England;] It is ordained and assented, That no plain Cloth tacked nor folded shall be set to Sale within the said Counties, but that they be opened, upon Pain to forfeit them, so that the Buyers may see them, and know them, as it is used in the County of Essex; and that the Workers, Weavers, and Fullers shall put their Seals to every Cloth that they shall work, upon a certain Pain to be limited by the Justices of the Peace; and that this Ordinance begin to hold Place at the Feast of Saint John Baptist next following: Provided always, That after the Merchants have bought the same Cloths to carry, and do carry them out of the Realm, they may tack them and fold them at their Pleasure, for the more easy Carriage of them.

ITEM, For as much as divers Shoemakers and Cordwainers use to tan their Leather, and sell the same falsely tanned, also make Shoes and Boots of such Leather not well tanned, and sell them as dear as they will, to the great Deceit of the poor Commons: It is accorded and assented, That no Shoemaker nor Cordwainer shall use the Craft of tanning, nor Tanner the Craft of shoemaking; and he that doth contrary to this Act, shall forfeit to the King all his Leather so tanned, and all his Boots and Shoes so wrought, and shall be ransomed at the King's Pleasure, notwithstanding any Charter or Patent made to the contrary, which if there be any, the King will that they be utterly adnulled and holden for none.

ITEM, Forasmuch as divers Artificers, Labourers, and Servants, and Grooms, keep Greyhounds and other Dogs, and on the Holydays, when good Christian People be at Church, hearing Divine Service, they go Hunting in Parks, Warrens, and Connigries of Lords and others, to the very great Destruction of the same, and sometime under such Colour they make their Assemblies, Conferences, and Conspiracies for to rise and disobey their Allegiance; It is ordained and assented, That no Manner of Artificer, Labourer, nor any other Layman, which hath not Lands or Tenements to the Value of xl. s. by Year, nor any Priest nor other Clerk, if he be not advanced to the Value of x. t. by Year, shall have or keep from henceforth any Greyhound, [Hound, nor other Dog'] to hunt; nor shall they use [Fyrets,2] Heys, Nets, Harepipes, nor Cords, nor other Engines for to take or destroy [Deer, Hares, nor Conies, nor other Gentlemen's Game,37 upon Pain of One Year's Imprisonment; and that the Justices of Peace have Power to enquire, and shall Enquiry by Justices of the Offenders in this Behalf, and punish the Peace. them by the Pain aforesaid.

ITEM, Forasmuch as divers Recognizances and other Bonds be now of late begun and made in the Exchequer of double, for the Surety of Debts and Ferms of our Lord the King, otherwise than it was wont to be done heretofore, to the great [Hindrance 1] of many of the People; It is accorded and assented by our Lord the King, and all the Lords of the Parliament, at the Request of the Commons, That no such Recognizance nor other Bond of the Double be made nor taken in the Exchequer from this Time forth; and that all such Recognizances, and other Bonds which be made at this present, be utterly cancelled and annulled: Provided always, That the King have sufficient Surety of his Duty in the Manner accustomed.

ITEM, It is ordained and assented, That the King's Castles and Gaols which were wont to be joined to the Bodies of the Counties, and be now severed, shall be rejoined to the same Counties.

ITEM, Because that many Persons be delayed, as well in Actions real as in Actions personal, by Protection with the Clause of Volumus, for that many People, as well such as be not able to be retained in War, as other, by the Testimonial of the Governors of the Marches, Captains of Garrisons, Admirals, and other, do purchase divers Protections with Clause of Volumus, and with Clause Quia profecturus, &c. after that a Plea is commenced against them, rather to delay the same Plea, than for the King's Service, whereas Plenty of other sufficient that be not impleaded, may be found to do the King's Service in such Case, and often do remain in the Country without going to [the 3] said Service, to the great Damage of the Pursuants and Disturbance of common Right; It is therefore ordained and assented, That no Protection with Clause of Profecturus be allowed in any Plea, whereof the Suit is commenced before the Date of the Protection, if it be not in a Voyage that the King himself goeth, or other Voyages Royal, or in the King's Messages for Business of the Realm, but they that be impleaded shall make their Attornies to answer for them in such Pleas, or else they shall tarry themselves if they will; Howbeit, it is not the Intent of [the making of] this Statute, but that the Protection with Clause Quia moraturus be allowed in all Cases, as it hath been before this Time; And if any tarry in the Country, without going to their Service for the which he is retained, over a convenient Time after that he hath any Protection, or return from the same Service, if the Chancellor be thereof duly informed, he shall repeal such Protection, as it hath been used before

ITEM, Because that when Tenants for Term of Life, Tenants in Dower, or by the Law of England, or in Tail after Possibility of Issue extinct, be impleaded, they be often of the Covin of the Demandants, that the Tenements demanded against them shall be recovered, and they will not pray in Aid, nor vouch to Warranty them in the Reversion, but plead in chief such a Plea whereby they know well the Tenements shall be lost, in Disherison of them in the Reversion; It is accorded and assented, That if any such Tenant be impleaded, and he in the Reversion come into the Court, and prayeth to be received to defend his Right at the Day that the Tenant pleadeth to the Action, or before, he shall be received to plead in chief to the Action, without taking any Delay by Voucher, Aid Prayer, Nonage, or any other Delay whatsoever, so that after such Receipt he shall have no manner Delay by Protection, Essoin of the King's Service, common Essoin, nor any other Delay whatsoever, but that the Business shall be hasted in as much as it may be by the Law; and that Days of Grace be given by the Discretion of the Judges between the Demandant and him that is received in such Case, without giving the common Day in Plea of Land, if the Demandant will not assent; to the Intent that the Demandants be not too much delayed, because they must plead with two Adversaries. And in the Right of Pleas that be now depending in such Case, they in the Reversion shall be received in the Manner aforesaid, at the next Day that the Parties have in Court, although the same Parties have pleaded in chief before this Time: Provided always, that they in the Reversion which pray to be received, as before is said, shall find Surety of the Issues of the Tenements demanded, for the Time that the same Demandants be delayed, after the said Plea determined between the Demandants and Tenants, if the Judgement pass for the Demandant against [them in the Reversion aforesaid,'] as well where the Receipt is counterpleaded, as where it is granted.

STATUTE THE SECOND.

UR Lord the King, at his Parliament holden at Westminster the Monday next after the Feast of Saint Hillary, the Thirteenth Year of his Reign, hearing the grievous Complaint of his said Commons in the same Parliament, of the outrageous Mischiefs and Damages which have happened to his said Realm, for that Treasons, Murders, and Rapes of Women be commonly done and committed, and the more because Charters of Pardon have been easily granted in such Cases; the said Commons requested our Lord the King, That such Charters might not be granted; [to whom '] the King answered, That he will save his Liberty and Regality, as his Progenitors have done heretofore; but to nourish the more Quietness and Peace within his Realm, by the Assent of the Great Men and Nobles, being in the same Parliament, he hath granted, That no Charter of Pardon from henceforth shall be allowed before any Justice for Murder, or for the Death of a Man slain by Await, Assault, or Malice prepensed, Treason, or Rape of a Woman, unless the same Murder, Death of the Man slain by Await Assault or Malice prepensed, Treason, or Rape of a Woman, be specified in the same Charter; and if a Charter of the Death of a Man be alledged before

ITEM, Whereas the noble King Edward, Grandfather to our Lord the King that now is, at his Parliament holden at Westminster, at the Utas of the Purification of our Lady, the Five and twentieth Year of his Reign, caused to be rehearsed the Statute made at Carleil in the Time of (4) King Edward, Son of King Henry, touching the Estate of the Holy Church of England; the said Grandfather of the King that now is, by the Assent of the Great Men of his Realm, being in the same Parliament, holden the said Five and twentieth Year, to the Honour of God and of Holy Church, and of all his Realm, did ordain and establish, that the free Elections of Archbishopricks, Bishopricks, and all other Dignities and Benefices elective in England, should hold from thenceforth in the Manner as they were granted by his Progenitors, and by the Ancestors of other Lords Founders; And that all Prelates and other People of Holy Church, which had Advowsons of any Benefices of the Gift of the King, or of his Progenitors, or of other Lords and Donors, should freely have their Collations and Presentments; and thereupon a certain Punishment was ordained in the same Statute for them which accept any Benefice or Dignity contrary to the said Statute made at Westminster the said Twenty-fifth Year, as afore is said; which Statute our Lord the King hath caused to be recited in this present Parliament at the Request of his Commons in the same Parliament, the Tenor whereof is such as hereafter followeth:

" WHEREAS late in the Parliament of good Memory of Edward King of England, Grandfather to our Lord the King that now is, the Five and thirtieth Year of his Reign, holden at Carlisle, the Petition heard, put before the said Grandfather and his Council in his said Parliament by the Commonalty of the said Realm, containing, That whereas the Holy Church of England was founded in the Estate of Prelacy, within the Realm of England, by the said Grandfather and his Progenitors, and the Earls, Barons, and other Nobles of his said Realm, and their Ancestors, to inform them and the People of the Law of God, and to make Hospitalities, Alms, and other Works of Charity, in the Places where the Churches were founded, for the Souls of the Founders, their Heirs, and all Christians; and certain Possessions, as well in Fees, Lands, Rents, as in Advowsons, which do extend to a great Value, were assigned by the said Founders to the Prelates and other People of the Holy Church of the said Realm, to sustain the same Charge, and especially of the Possessions which were assigned to Archbishops, Bishops, Abbots, Priors, Religious, and all other People of Holy Church, by the Kings of the said Realm, Earls, Barons, and other great Men of his Realm; the same Kings, Earls, Barons, and other Nobles, as Lords and Advowees, have had and ought to have the Custody of such Voidances, and the Presentments and the Collations of the Benefices being of such Prelacies; And the said Kings in Times past were wont to have the greatest Part of their Council, for the Safeguard of the Realm, when they had need, of such Prelates and Clerks so advanced; the Pope of Rome, accroching to him the Seignories of such Possessions and Benefices doth give and grant the same Benefices to Aliens, which did never dwell in England, and to Cardinals, which might not dwell here, and to other as well Aliens as Denizens, as if he had been Patron or Advowee of the said Dignities and Benefices, as he was not of Right by the Law of England; whereby if they should be suffered, there should scarcely be any Benefice within a short Time in the said Realm, but that it should be in the Hands of Aliens and Denizens by virtue of such Provisions, against the good Will and Disposition of the Founders of the same Benefices; and so the Elections of Archbishops, Bishops, and other Religious should fail, and the Alms, Hospitalities, and other Works of Charity, which should be done in the said Places, should be withdrawn, the said Grandfather, and other Lay-Patrons, in the Time of such Voidances, should lose their Presentments, the said Council should perish, and Goods without Number should be carried out of the Realm, in Adnullation of the Estate of the Holy Church of England, and disherison of the said Grandfather, and the Earls, Barons, and other Nobles [of the said Realm,] and in Offence and Destruction of the Laws and Rights of his Realm, and to the great Damage of his People, and in Subversion of all the Estate of his said Realm, and against the good Disposition and Will of the first Founders: By the Assent of the Earls, Barons, and other Nobles, and of all the said Commonalty, at their Instances and Requests, the Damage and Grievances afore considered, in the said full Parliament It was provided, ordained, and established, That the said Oppressions, Grievances, and Damages in the same Realm from henceforth should not be suffered in any Manner. And now it is shewed to our Lord the King in this present Parliament holden at Westminster, at the Utas of the Purification of our Lady.

D' Statuto edito apud Mestm Anno quarto decimo.

OF THE STATUTE MADE AT WESTMINSTER; IN THE FOURTEENTH YEAR.

FOR the Relief and Increase of the common Profit of the Realm of England, and of the Lands of Wales and Ireland, which have been in divers Manners greatly hindered in Times past; Our Lord the King, at his Parliament holden at Westminster the Morrow of St. Martin, the Fourteenth Year of his Reign, hath ordained and established, by the Assent of the said Parliament, the Things underwritten.

FIRST, That the Staple be removed from Calice into England, so that it be in England the Monday next after the Feast of the Epiphany at the furthest: And that it be holden in the Places contained in the [Statutes '] of the Staple, made in the Seven and twentieth Year of the King's Grandfather that now is, and in none other Place; and that the said Statute be [firmly and surely holden, and duely executed in all Points, with the Additions under-written, notwithstanding any Declaration or Statute made since to the contrary; that is to say; That every Person Alien, of what Degree or Condition that he be, that bringeth any Merchandize into England, shall find sufficient Sureties before the Customers, in the Port where the Merchandize shall be brought, to buy other Merchandize, to the Value of Half the said Merchandises so brought, at the least, as Wools, Leather, Woolfels, Lead, Tin, Butter, Cheese, Cloths, or other Commodities of the Land.

ITEM, That for every Exchange that shall be made by Merchants to the Court of Rome, or elsewhere, that the said Merchants be firmly and surely bound in the Chancery, to buy within Three Months after the said Exchange made, Merchandises of the Staple, as Wools, Leather, Woolfels, Lead, or Tin, Butter or Cheese, Cloths, or other Commodities of the Land, to the Value of the Sum so exchanged, upon Pain of Forfeiture of the same.

ITEM, That in every Port and Place where the Staple shall be, the Mayors, Constables, Brokers, and all other Officers and Ministers of the Staple shall be sworn first to the King, and after to the Staple.

ITEM, to keep the (3) Price of Wool the better, That no Denizen of England shall buy no Wools but of the [Owners *] of the Sheep and of [the Tithes, 5] except in the Staple: And that no Denizen regrate Wools nor other Merchandises of the Staple privily nor apertly, upon Pain to forfeit the Value of the Thing regrated: And that the Justices of Peace in the Country have Power to enquire, and shall enquire from Time to Time of such English [Gratours 6] and of the Weights of the Staple, and punish them by the Pain aforesaid. And that no Englishman buy any Wool of any Person, but for himself or for his own Use, as to sell at the Staple and [for to make Cloth.7] all other Things rising within the Bodies of Counties, as well by Land as by Water, as afore, and also Wreck of the Sea, shall be tried, determined, discussed, and remedied by the Laws of the Land, and not before nor by the Admiral, nor his Lieutenant in any wise. Nevertheless, of the Death of a Man, and of a Maihem done in great Ships, being and hovering in the main Stream of great Rivers, only beneath the [Bridges '] of the same Rivers [nigh 1] to the Sea, and in none other Places of the same Rivers, the Admiral shall have Cognizance; and also to arrest Ships in the great Flotes for the great Voyages of the King and of the Realm; saving always to the King all Manner of Forfeitures and Profits thereof coming; And he shall have also Jurisdiction upon the said Flotes, during the said Voyages only: Saving always to the Lords, Cities, and Boroughs their Liberties and Franchises.

ITEM, Whereas it is ordained by divers Statutes, that one Measure of Corn, Wine, and Ale should be throughout the Realm, and that Eight Bushels striked make the Quarter of Corn; Nevertheless, because that no Pain is thereupon ordained in the said Statutes, divers People of divers Cities, Boroughs, Towns, and Markets, will not take, neither buy in the said Cities, Boroughs, Towns, Markets, ne in none other Place, but Nine Bushels for the Quarter; and if they cannot buy in that Manner, they arrest it as forfeit, to the great Damage and Oppression of all the People, and manifestly against the Statutes aforesaid; It is ordained and assented, That the said Statutes shall be firmly kept and holden, as well in the City of London, as in every other Place throughout the Realm, and that as well by Water as by Land, notwithstanding any Usage in Times past to the contrary; and that none from henceforth do buy in the City of London, nor in other Place, any Manner of Corn or Malt, but after Eight Bushels for the Quarter, according to the Purport of the said Statutes, upon Pain of Forfeiture of all the Corn or Malt so bought; saving to the King the said Forfeiture, except Franchises Royal, to whom the King at this Time of his special Grace hath granted the same Forfeiture; and that as well the Mayor and Sheriffs of London, as the Mayors and Bailiffs of other Cities, Boroughs, Towns, and Markets, if they do not thereof full and due Execution, shall incur like Pain, as well at the Suit of the King as of the Party, or of any other Person that will sue for the King.

ITEM, Whereas it is contained in the Statute De religiosis, That no Religious, nor other whatsoever he be, do buy or sell, or under Colour of Gift, or Term or any other Manner of Title whatsoever, receive of any Man, or in any Manner by [Gift 3] or Engine cause to be appropriated unto him any Lands or Tenements, upon Pain of Forfeiture of the same, whereby the said Lands and Tenements in any Manner might come to Mortmain; And (4) if any Religious, or any other, do against the said Statute by Art or Engine in any Manner, that it be lawful to the King, and to other Lords, upon the said Lands and Tenements to enter; as in the said Statute doth more fully appear: And now of late by subtile Imagination, and by Art, and Engine, some religious Persons, Parsons, Vicars, and other spiritual Persons, have entered in divers Lands and Tenements, which be adjoining to the Churches, and of the same, by Sufferance and Assent of the Tenants, have made Church-yards, and by Bulls of the Bishop of Rome have [dedicated and hallowed the same,] and in them

Armour, Corn, or Victuals allowed to be carried to Berwick.

ITEM, Because divers Damages and [Hindrances 5] oftentimes have happened, and daily do happen to the Parishioners of divers Places, by the Appropriation of Benefices of the same Places; It is agreed and assented, That in every Licence from henceforth to be made in the Chancery, of the Appropriation of any Parish Church, it shall be expressly contained and comprised, that the Diocesan of the Place, upon the Appropriation of such Churches, shall ordain, according to the Value of such Churches, a convenient Sum of Money to be paid and distributed yearly of the Fruits and Profits of the same Churches, by those that shall have the said Churches in proper Use, and by their Successors, to the poor Parishioners of the said Churches, in Aid of their Living and Sustenance for ever; and also that the Vicar be well and sufficiently endowed.

ITEM, Whereas it is ordained by the Statute made the Seventh Year of our Lord the King, that from henceforth no Person Alien or Denizen, of what Estate or Condition that he be, shall take or carry, or cause to be taken or carried by Land, or Sea, out of the Realm of England, to any Parts of Scotland, privily or openly, any Manner of Armour, Corn, Malt, or other Victual, or any other Refreshment whatsoever, upon Pain of Forfeiture of the same Victual, or Armour, and other Things aforesaid, together with the Ships, Vessels, Carts, or Horses that bear or carry them, or else the very Value of them: whereupon our Lord the King at the Request of the Commons, and by the Advice and Assent of the Lords, hath declared in this Parliament the said Statute in such Manner, that it was not his Intent at (6) the making of the said Statute, ne yet is, that they that have carried or taken, or from henceforth shall take or carry Victuals or Merchandises to the Town of Berwick upon Tweed, which is the sepulture parochiele font continuelment en ycelles sanz licence du Roi & des chiefs f's; declare est en cest plement q ce est ovtement en cas du dit estatut. Et en outre accordez est & assentuz q toutz ceux q sont possessionez p feoffement ou p autre voie al oeps de gentz de religion ou aut's psones espiritiels, des tres tentz fees advoesons ou auts possessions que que pr les amortiser, & dont les ditz religiouses & psones espiritiels Pignent les pfitz, q pentre cy & le fest de Seint Michel pschein venant ils les facent estre amortisez p licence du Roi & des f's, ou autrement qils les vendent & alienent a autre oeps pentre cy & le dit fest, sur peine destre forfaitz au Roi & as f's solonc la fo'me de lestatut de religious come tentz p'chasez p gentz de religion; & q de cest temps enavant null tiel purchace se face, issint q tielx religiouses ou aut's psones espiritiels ent Pignent les pfitz come desuis sur la peine avantde; & mesme cest estatut sextende & soit tenuz de toutz tres & tentz fees advoesons & autres possessions p'chacez & a p'chesers al oeps des gildes & frat nitees. Et enoutre est assentuz, p' ce q Mairs Baillifs & Cões de Citees Burghs & aut's villes qont coe ppetuel & aut's qont offices ppetuels sont aussi ppetuels come gentz de religion, q de cest temps enavent ils ne p'chacent a eux & a lour coe ou office sur la peine contenue en le dit estatut de religiouses; & de ce q auts sont possessionez ou sra p'chacez en temps avenir a lour oeps & ils ent pignent ou padront les pfitz, soit semblablement fait come dev'nt est dit de gentz de religion.

Item p' ce q plusours damages & deseases sont sovent avenuz & aveignent de jour en autre as pochiens de divses lieux p lappropriacion [des bnfices de mesmes les lieux, accordez est & assentuz qen chescune licence desore a faire en la Chauncellarie dappropriacion dascune esglise pochielle, soit expssement contenuz & compris q le Diocesan del lieu, en lappropriacion de tielx esglises ordeine solonc la value de tielx esglises une covenable some dargent destre paiez & distributz annuelment des fruitz & pfitz de mesmes les esglises p ceux qavont les dées eglises en ppre oeps & p lour successours as povres parochiens des dées esglises en eide de lour vivre & sustenance a toutz jours; & q le Viker soit auxint bien & covenablement dowez.

King's Town, and of his Liegance, shall incur the Pain of the said Statute, ne shall not be bound to pay Customs and Subsidies granted to our Lord the King of Merchandises that be or shall be carried out of the Realm. Provided alway that they which carry any Cloth, Victuals, or other Merchandises out of the said Town of Berwick, to any Places being in Amity with the King, shall pay the Subsidies, Customs, and other Duties thereof due [to our Lord the King,] and if they do carry (') to any Parts of the King's Enemies, they shall incur the Pain of the said Statute.

ITEM, Whereas it was ordained at the last Parliament, that the Passage of Tin out of the Realm should be at the Port of Dartmouth, and no Place else: It is agreed, that the said Ordinance be adnulled, and that between this and the Feast of Saint John Baptist next coming, all Merchants Denizens and Aliens shall be at large, to lade Tin in Ships and other Vessels, to carry out of the Realm in what Haven they will choose within the Realm, and to what Part it please them. And after the said Feast they shall repair to Calais for the Time that the Resort of Wool shall be there, paying always the Customs, Subsidies, and [Devoirs ²] thereof due before the Passage of the said Tin.

ITEM, Whereas it is contained in the Statute of the Staple, to the Intent that the Contracts made within the Staple should be the better performed, and the Payments readily made, that every Mayor of the Staple shall have Power to take Recognisances of Debts that any Man will make before him in the Presence of the Constables of the Staple, or one of them; and that in every of the said Staples be one Seal ordained to remain in the Custody of the said Mayor, under the Seals of the said Constables: It is agreed and assented, That the said Statute be firmly kept and holden; and that no Mayor of the Staple take or receive any Recognisance of Debt contrary to the Form of the said Statute, upon Pain to pay to the King the Moiety of the Sum recognized before him.

ITEM, At the Complaint of the Commons made in the Parliament, because that of old Times divers Cloths were made in the Town of Gilford, and other Places within the Counties of Surrey, Sussex, and [South,3] called Cloths of Gilford, which were of good making and of good Value, and did bear a great Name: And now because that Fullers and other of the same Country, do use to buy the Cloths of the said Countries before that they be fulled and performed, and in (*) making, for Covetousness to have the said Cloths of greater Measure over the common Assise that late was used, do draw the Cloths more longer and more large than they were wont or ought to be, to the great (3) impairing of the said Cloths, and great Deceit of the People: For to eschew such Damages and Deceits in Time to come, It is agreed and assented, That from henceforth no Fuller nor other Person, whatsoever he be, shall buy within the said Towns and Counties any Cloth before the same Cloth be fulled and fully performed in his nature, and also sealed under the Seal thereto ordained, upon Pain of Forfeiture of the same.

ITEM, It is agreed and assented, That all the Girdlers of the Realm that work Girdles garnished with white Metal, may work use and continue their said Craft, that is to say, to garnish the Girdles with white Metal as of old Times it hath been used, notwithstanding any Charters or Patents made or granted (°) to the contrary: And if any Charters or Patents be made to the contrary, that they shall be void and of no force.

of what Condition that he be, as well Alien as Denizen, that bringeth Wines, Flesh, Fish or other Manner of Victuals, Cloth, Fells, or Avoir de pois, or other Wares or Merchandises, to the City of London, or other Cities, Boroughs, and good Towns of England or Ports of the Sea, may freely and without Challenge or Impeachment of any, sell them in Gross or at Retail, or by Parcels at his Pleasure, to any People that will buy them, notwithstanding any Franchise, Grant or Custom used, or any other Manner of Thing made to the contrary, and that without Disturbance or Impediment of any, upon certain Pains contained in the aforesaid Statutes: And after in the Eleventh Year of the Reign of our said Lord the King, it was also ordained and established by the Statute made in the same Year, That those Two Statutes aforesaid should be holden, kept, maintained, and fully executed in all Points and Articles of the same, notwithstanding any Statute, Ordinance, Charter, Letters Patent, Franchise, Proclamation, Commandment, Usage, Allowance, or Judgment made or used to the contrary, as in the said [Statute'] more fully is contained: Nevertheless, Forasmuch as it seemeth to our Lord the King, that the said Statutes, if they shall be fully holden and executed, shall extend to the great Hindrance and Damage, as well of the City of London, as of other Cities, Boroughs, and Towns of the Realm; It is ordained and assented, That no Merchant Stranger Alien shall sell, nor buy, nor merchandise within the Realm with another strange Merchant Alien, to sell again; nor that no strange Merchant Alien shall sell to retail within the same Realm, nor shall [put to sale*] any Manner of Wares or Merchandises, except Livings and Victuals, and also that (3) Aliens shall sell Wines by whole Vessels, and Spicery by whole Vessels and Bales, and in no other Manner; and that no Manner of Spicery, after that it be brought [in 1] the Realm, shall be carried out of the same Realm by Alien or Denizen, upon Pain of Forfeiture of the same. And moreover the King will that the said Statutes in all Articles and Points shall be firmly holden and kept.

ITEM, Whereas at the last Parliament it was accorded and assented, That none of the King's liege People from henceforth should be bound, compelled, nor constrained by any Means, to come nor to appear before any Lord's or Lady's Council, there to answer of his Freehold, nor of Things which touch Freeholds, nor of any other Thing real nor personal, which belongeth to the Law of the Land in anywise, as by the Statute thereof made more fully appeareth; It is accorded and assented, That the said Statute shall be firmly holden and kept; and if any Lord or Lady, or other of the King's liege People do to the contrary, they shall incur the Pain of xxl. to the King.

ITEM, It is ordained and assented, That all the Weights and Measures through the Realm shall be according to the Standard of the Exchequer, after the Purport of the Statutes thereof made; and (3) the King willeth, That the Clerk of the Market shall have all his Measures and Weights [ready 6] according to the Standard of the Exchequer, and signed and marked of the Sign of the Exchequer thereunto ordained; and the same Weights and Measures so signed and marked, to carry and bring with him at all Times, when he shall make the Assay of Weights and Measures in any Part within the Realm; and that he, nor [any 7] other of the King's liege People, shall use [any 7] other Measure nor Weight, upon the Pains contained in the Statutes thereof made before this Time.

The Danger therefrom to the Freedom of the Crown of England.

The Promise of the Comthe King in Defence of the Liberties of his Crown.

ITEM, It is accorded and assented, That no Yeoman nor other of lower Estate than an Esquire, from henceforth shall not use nor bear no Livery, called Livery of Company, of any Lord within the Realm, if he be not menial and familiar, continually dwelling in the House of his said Lord, and that the Justices of Peace shall have Power to enquire of them which do to the contrary, and them to punish according to their Discretion.

ITEM, Whereas the Commons of the Realm in this present Parliament have shewed to our redoubted Lord the King, grievously complaining, That Whereas the said our Lord the King, and all his liege People, ought of Right, and of old Time were wont to sue in the King's Court, to recover their Presentments to Churches, Prebends, and other Benefices of holy Church, to the which they had Right to present, the Cognisance of Plea of which [Presentment'] belongeth only to the King's Court of the old Right of his Crown, used and approved in the Time of all his Progenitors Kings of England; and when Judgement shall be given in the same Court upon such a Plea and [Presentment,1] the Archbishops, Bishops, and other Spiritual Persons which have Institution of such Benefices within their Jurisdiction, be bound, and have made Execution of such Judgements by the King's Commandments of all the Time aforesaid without Interruption, for another, Lay-person, [cannot '] make such Execution, and also be bound of Right to make Execution of many other of the King's Commandments, of which Right the Crown of England hath been peaceably seised, as well in the Time of our said Lord the King that now is, as in the Time of all his Progenitors till this Day: But now of late divers Processes be made by the [Bishop of Rome 3] and Censures of Excommunication upon certain Bishops of England, because they have made Execution of such Commandments, to the open Disherison of the said Crown, and Destruction of (*) our said Lord the King, his Law, and all his Realm, if Remedy be not provided: And also it is said, and a common Clamour is made, that the said [Bishop of Rome 5] hath ordained and purposed to translate some Prelates of the same Realm, some out of the Realm, and some from one Bishoprick into another within the same Realm, without the King's Assent and Knowledge, and without the Assent of the Prelates, which so shall be translated, which Prelates be much profitable and necessary to our said Lord the King, and to all his Realm; by which Translations, if they should be suffered, the Statutes of the Realm should be defeated and made void; and his said Liege Sages of his Council, without his Assent, and against his Will, carried away and gotten out of his Realm, and the Substance and Treasure of the Realm shall be carried away, and so the Realm destitute as well of Council as of Substance, to the final Destruction of the same Realm; and so the Crown of England, which hath been so free at all Times, that it [hath been in no Earthly Subjection, 6] but immediately subject to God in all Things touching the Regalty of the same Crown, and to none other, should be submitted to the Pope, and the Laws and Statutes of the Realm by him defeated and avoided at his Will, in perpetual Destruction of the Soveraignty of the King our Lord, his Crown, his Regalty, and of all his Realm, which God defend: And moreover, the Commons aforesaid say, That the said Things so attempted be clearly against the King's Crown and his Regalty, used and approved of the Time of all his Progenitors: wherefore they and all the Liege Commons of the same Realm will stand with our said Lord the King, and his

So much as relates to the passing of Pardons, and It or Persons soliciting them, repealed.

ITEM, Whereas in an Article of a Statute made in the Parliament holden at Westminster, the Monday next after the Feast of St. Hillary, the Thirteenth Year of the [Reign 1] that now is, it was ordained and granted, That no Charter of Pardon from thence should be allowed before any Justices, for Murder, Death of a Man slain by Await, Assault, or Malice prepensed, Treason, or Rape of a Woman, if [it3] were not specified in the same Charter. And if any Charter of the Death of Man were alledged before any Justices, in which Charter was not specified, that he of whose Death any such was arraigned, was murthered, or slain by Await, Assault, or Malice prepensed, the Justices should inquire, by a good Inquest of the Visne where the dead Person was slain, if he were murthered or slain by Await, Assault, or Malice prepensed, and if they should find that he was murdered or slain by Await, Assault, or Malice prepensed, the Charter should be disallowed, and moreover done as the Law should require; which Things our Lord the King doth will and grant, that they shall be firmly holden and kept : And moreover, by the Assent of the Lords in this present Parliament, and at the Prayer of the Commons, he hath ordained and granted, That the Residue of the said Article shall be wholly out, repealed, and adnulled; that is to say; "If any be a Suiter to the King for a Charter of Pardon for Murder, Death of a Man slain by Await, Assault, or Malice prepensed, Treason, or Rape of a Woman, if the Chamberlain indorse, or cause to be indorsed such Bill, he shall set the Name of him that maketh Suit for such Charter upon the same Bill, upon Pain of One thousand Marks, and if the Under-Chamberlain indorse such Bill, he shall do likewise, upon Pain of Five hundred Marks; and that none other than the Chamberlain or Under-Chamberlain indorse nor cause to be indorsed any such Bill, upon Pain of One thousand Marks: And that such Bill be sent and directed to the Keeper of the Privy Seal; and that no Warrant of the Privy Seal be made to have such Charter, unless the Keeper of the Privy Seal have such Bill indorsed or signed by the Chamberlain or Under-Chamberlain, as afore is said: And that no Charter of Pardon, of Treason nor of other Felony, pass the Chancery without Warrant of the Privy Seal, but in Case where the Chancellor may grant it of his Office, without speaking thereof to the King: And if he, at whose Suit any Charter of Pardon for Murder, Death of a Man slain by Await, Assault, or Malice prepensed, Treason, or Rape of a Woman, be granted, be an Archbishop or Duke, he shall pay to the King One thousand Pounds: And if he be a Bishop or Earl. he shall pay to the King One thousand Marks; and if he be an Abbot or Prior, Baron or Banneret, he shall pay Five hundred Marks; and if he be a Clerk, Bachelor, or other of less Estate, of whatsoever Condition that he be, he shall pay to the King Two hundred Marks, and have One Year's Imprisonment:" Because that the said Commons of the Realm sithence have perceived great Grievance of this Ordinance aforesaid, for that many People for Malice have indicted divers

THESE be the Things ordained and established by our Lord the King at his Parliament holden at Westminster the Fifteenth Day of Saint Hillary, the Seventeenth Year of his Reign, by the Assent of the said Parliament, which he doth will and command, that they shall be firmly holden and kept after the Purport

FIRST, Where it was ordained by the noble King Edward, Grandfather to our Lord the King, [the Ninth Year '] of his Reign, that no Sterling Halfpenny nor Farthing, shall be molten for Vessel, nor other Thing thereof to be made by the Goldsmith, nor others, upon Pain of Forfeiture of the Money so molten, and Imprisonment of the Founder, till he have yielded to the King the Half of that which he hath so molten, notwithstanding any Charter or Franchise granted or used to the contrary; It is accorded and assented, That the said Ordinance shall be firmly holden and kept. And moreover it is ordained and assented, that no Groat nor Half-groat shall be molten by any Man to make Vessel, or other Thing thereof, upon the same Pain. And that no Gold nor Silver of Scotland, nor of other Lands beyond the Sea, shall run in any Manner of Payment within the Realm of England, but shall be brought to the Bullion, there to be molten [in 1] the Coin of England, upon Pain of Forfeiture of the same, and of Imprisonment, Fine, and Ransom of him which doth contrary; and that no Man shall send any English nor Exchange Money into Scotland, to change the same [in Money, lish Money or for Scottish Money, 1] upon the Pain next aforesaid.

any Ordinance, Proclamation, or any Defence made before this Time to the contrary; Nevertheless he will, That his Council may restrain the said Passage when they shall think best for the Profit of the Realm.

ITEM, Whereas at the Parliament holden at Westminster, the [Tenth 1] Year of the Reign of our Sovereign Lord the King that now is; forasmuch as Villains and other Offenders of late [have '] risen by Assemblies and outrageous Number in divers Parties of the Realm, against the King's Dignity and his Crown, and the Laws of his Land; it was straitly defended by the King to all Manner of People, That none from [henceforth37 should make, or begin again such Riot or Rumour, nor other like; and if any Man did, and that duly proved, he should be taken as a Traytor to the King and his Realm: Nevertheless a grievous Complaint was made to our Sovereign Lord the King in this present Parliament, That divers People not having Consideration to the said Defence, as well in the Counties of Chester, Lancaster, and elsewhere in England, have made such Assemblies in outrageous Manner, to accomplish their Malice against the King's Peace, his Crown, his Dignity, and the Laws of his Land: Wherefore our Sovereign Lord the King in this present Parliament hath defended to all [the '] liege People, as well Lords as other, of whatsoever Estate that they be, that none shall make such Assemblies, Riot, or Rumour against the Peace in no wise; and if any such Assembly be begun as soon as the Sheriffs and other the King's Ministers may thereof have Knowledge, they with the Strength of the County and Country, where such Case shall happen, shall set Disturbance against such Malice with all their Power, and shall take such Offenders, and them put in Prison, till due Execution of the Law be of them made; and that all Lords and other liege People of the Realm, shall be attending (5) with all their Strength and Power to the Sheriffs and Ministers aforesaid (°).

ITEM, Where it is contained in the Statute of Westminster the Second, that young Salmons shall not be taken nor destroyed by Nets, or by other Engines, at the Stanks of Mills, from the Midst of April till the Nativity of St. John the Baptist, upon a certain Pain limited in the same Statute: And whereas by a Statute made the xiij Year of the King that now is, it was ordained, That the said Statute of Westminster the Second should be firmly holden and kept, joyning to the same, That young Salmons should not be taken at the [Mills, Stanks,7] or elsewhere, upon the same Pain; and that no Fisher nor Garthman, nor none other, of what Estate or Condition that he were, should not put from [henceforth 87 in the Waters of Thamise, Humber, Ouse, Trent, nor none other Water of the Realm, by the said Time, nor by none other Time of the Year, any Nets called Stalkers, nor other Nets or Engines whatsoever, whereby the Fry or Breed of Salmons, Lampreys, or of any other Fish whatsoever, [may 9] in any wise be taken or destroyed, upon the Pain aforesaid: And also it was rehearsed in the said Statute, made the said Thirteenth Year, that where it is contained in the same Statute of Westminster, that all the Waters, in which Salmons be taken in the Realm, shall be put in Defence, as to the taking of Salmons, from the Day of the Nativity of our Lady, till St. Martin's Day; it was ordained and assented in the said Statute made in the said xiij Year, That the Waters of Lone, Wyre, Mersee, Rybbyl, and all other Waters in the County of Lancaster, should be put in Defence, as to the taking of Salmons, from the Day of St. Michael till the Day of the Purification of our Lady, and in none other Time of the Year, because that Salmons be (') seasonable in the said Waters by the Time aforesaid; and that in the Parts where such Rivers be, good and sufficient Conservators of the said Statute made the said Thirteenth Year should be assigned and sworn, as it was ordained in the Statute of Westminster, and that they should punish the Offenders upon the Pain contained in the same Statute of Westminster, without shewing any Favour thereof: which Statutes have not been hitherto duly executed for Default of good Conservators, as our said Lord the King hath perceived by Complaint to him made in this present Parliament: Wherefore It is accorded and assented, That the Justices of the Peace of all the Counties of England shall be Conservators of the said Statutes in the Counties where they be Justices; and that they and every of them, at all Times when they may attend, shall survey the Offences and Defaults attempted against the Statutes aforesaid; and also shall survey and search all the Wears in such Rivers, that they shall not be [very 1] strait for the Destruction of such Fry and Brood, but of reasonable Wideness after the old Assise [used or accustomed]; and that the same Justices, or any of them, which shall find Default or Abuse against the Statutes aforesaid, shall make due Punishment of them which be found in Default after the Content of the same [Statute; 1] and that the same Justices shall put good and sufficient Under-Conservators of the same Statutes under them, which shall be sworn to make like Surveying, Search, and Punishment, without any Favour thereof to be shewed; and moreover, that the same Justices, in their Sessions, shall inquire as well by their Office, as at the Information of the Under-Conservators aforesaid, of all Trespasses, Misprisions, and Defaults made against any of the Points aforesaid, and shall cause them which be thereof indicted to come before them, and if they be thereof convict, they shall have Imprisonment, and make Fine after the Discretion of the same Justices; and if the same be at the Information of any of the Under-Conservators aforesaid, the same Under-Conservator shall have the half of the same Fine. And Forasmuch as it is granted to the Citizens of London, by the King's Progenitors, that they may remove and take away all the Wears in the Waters of Thames and Medeway, and that they shall have the Punishments thereof pertaining to the King; our said Lord the King, in this present Parliament, by the Assent aforesaid hath granted, That the Mayor or Warden of London for the Time being shall have the Conservation of the Statutes aforesaid, and shall make thereof due Execution, and like Punishment, as afore is ordained of the Justices of the Peace, in the said Water of Thames, from the Bridge of Stanes to London, and from thence [over 3] in the same Water, and in the said Water of Medeway, as far as it is granted to the said Citizens, as afore is said.

ITEM, Forasmuch as Thieves notoriously defamed, and others taken with the Maner, by their long abiding in Prison, after that they be arrested, be delivered by Charters, and favourable Inquests procured, to the great Hindrance of the People: It is accorded and assented, That in every Commission of the Peace through the Realm, where Need shall be, Two Men of Law of the same County where such Commission shall be made, shall be assigned to go and proceed to the Deliverance of such Thieves and Felons, as often as they shall think it expedient.

ALTHOUGH that it were ordained and granted by King Edward Great Grandfather and also by King Edward Grandfather of our Lord the King that now is, that the Aldermen of the City of London should cease and should be removed from their said Office every Year at the Feast of Saint Gregory, and that they should not be re-elected the Year next ensuing; but that other sufficient Persons of the said City should be every Year newly elected and put in the Offices aforesaid: Nevertheless our said Lord the King, for certain Causes him especially moving, and at the same Time for the better Governance of his said City in Time to come, willeth and hath ordained by the Advice and Assent of his Council in this present Parliament, That henceforth the Aldermen of the said City be not ousted nor removed from the said Office of Aldermanship at the said Feast of Saint Gregory, nor at any other Time of the Year, without good and reasonable Cause, nor any other elected nor put in their Places; but shall remain on from Year to Year in their said Office, until they be removed for just and reasonable Cause as above; Notwithstanding the Ordinances aforesaid.

WHEREAS by a Statute made in the Time of King Edward, Grandfather to our Lord the King that now is, in the Twentyeighth Year of his Reign, it is ordained and established, that the Mayor, Sheriffs, and Aldermen of the City of London which have the Governance of the same City, shall cause to be redressed and corrected the Errors, Defaults, and Misprisions which be notoriously used in the said City for Default of good Governance of the said Mayor, Sheriffs, and Aldermen, and the same duely punish from Time to Time, upon a certain Pain; that is to say, at the First Default a Thousand Marks to the King, and at the Second Default Two thousand Marks, and at the Third Default that the Franchise of the said City be taken into the King's Hand; and that every of the said Mayor, Sheriffs, and Aldermen which shall appear before the King's Justices in Manner and Form as is ordained by the said Statute, shall answer particularly for himself as well at the Peril of other which be absent as of himself; and that this Ordinance shall be holden firm and stable, notwithstanding any Manner of Franchises, Privileges, or Customs; as in the said Statute is more fully contained: And now our Lord the King, considering the Generality of the said Words, that is to say, "Errors, Defaults, and Misprisions," and the several Intendments which may thereof be conceived, hath, at the Supplication of the Mayor, Sheriffs, and Aldermen of the said City, declared and granted, by the Advice and Assent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal in this present Parliament, that it is not his Will nor his Intent, nor the Intent of the said Statute, that the Mayor, Sheriffs, and Aldermen of the said City who now are, or have heretofore been, or hereafter shall be, should incur nor suffer the Pain of the said Statute for any erroneous Judgement given or to be given within the said City.

ALSO, Whereas the Ward of Farringdon Within and Without of the City of London is so increased in Possessions and Inhabitants therein within these few Years past, that the Governance thereof is too laborious and grievous for one Person to occupy and duly govern the same; Our Lord the King by the Assent of his Council in this present Parliament, at the Prayer of the Mayor, Aldermen, and Commonalty of the said City, hath ordained and granted, That between this and the Feast of Saint Gregory next coming, the People of the said

Our Lord the King, considering the great Clamour made to him in this present Parliament, because that the said Statute is not holden, hath ordained and established in the said Parliament, That the said Statutes shall be fully holden and kept, and duly executed; and that the said Launcegayes shall be clear put out upon the Pain contained in the said Statute of Northampton, and also to make Fine and Ransom to the King. And moreover, that no Lord, Knight, nor other, little nor great, shall go nor ride by Night nor by Day armed, nor bear [Sallet'] nor Skull of Iron, nor [of'] other Armour, upon the Pain aforesaid; save and except the King's Officers and Ministers in doing their Office. And Moreover, the King will and hath ordained, that the Statute made the First Year of his Reign, of Liveries of Hats, shall be holden and kept upon the Pain contained in the same Statute, and upon Pain to be imprisoned, and make Fine and Ransom to the King.

ITEM, That no Varlets called Yeomen, nor none other of less Estate than Esquire, shall use nor bear no [Sign of Livery 3] called Livery of Company of any Lord within the Realm, unless he be menial and familiar or continual Officer of his said Lord. And that the Justices of the Peace shall have Power to enquire of them, which do to the contrary, and them to punish according to their Discretion.

ITEM, The King doth will and forbid, That no Lord, nor other of the Country, little nor great, shall sit upon the Bench with the Justices to take Assises, in their Sessions in the Counties of England, upon great Forfeiture to the King; and hath charged his said Justices, that they shall not suffer the contrary to be done.

ITEM, Whereas it is contained in a Statute of the late King Edward, Grandfather to the King that now is, the xxviij Year of his Reign, That no Manner of Ship, which is freighted toward England, or elsewhere, shall be compelled to come to any Port of England, nor there to tarry against the [Agreement 1] of the Masters and Mariners of the same, or of the Merchants to whom the Goods be; and if such Ships come of their own Good-will, or be driven by Tempest, [Casualty, or other Misfortune, 1] to any Port of England, and the Masters or Mariners, or Merchants of the same Ships, will sell or deliver Part of their Merchandizes with their Good-will, it shall be lawful to every Person to buy such Merchandizes freely without Impeachment in the Port where such Ships shall come, albeit the Merchandizes be not [put to Sale to the Land; 6] And the Masters, Mariners, and Merchants, after that they have so sold so much as pleaseth them of their said Goods, and the Custom thereof paid, may freely depart and go with their Ships, and all the Remnant of their Goods, where it shall please them, without paying thereof Custom: Our said Lord the King, for the Quietness and Ease of his People, willeth, That the said Statute shall be holden and kept in all Points, and duly executed, notwithstanding any Ordinance or Usage to the contrary.

ITEM, Forasmuch as the Commons have made Complaint, that many great Mischiefs, Extortions, and Oppressions be done by divers People of evil Condition, which of their own Authority take and cause to be taken royally Horses and other Things, and Beasts out of their Wains, Carts, and Houses, saying and devising that they be to ride on hasty Messages and Business, where of Truth they be in no wise privy of any Business or Message, but only in Deceit and Subtilty by such Colour

" RICHARD, by the Grace of God King of England and of France, and Lord of Ireland, to all them that shall see or hear these Letters, Greeting. We have certainly conceived by the grievous Complaint of the Lords and Commons (a) of our Realm, in this present Parliament assembled, that our Profits, Rents and Revenues of our said Realm, by singular and insufficient Counsel and evil Governance, as well of some late our Great Officers, as of divers other Persons being about our Person be so much withdrawn, wasted, eloyned, given, granted, aliened, destroyed, and evil dispended, that We are so much impoverished, void, and nought of Treasure and Goods, and the Substance of our Crown so much diminished and destroyed, that the Estate of Us and of our House may not honourably be sustained as pertaineth, nor the Wars, which daily abound and environ our Realm, maintained nor governed without great and outragious Oppressions and importable Charges of our said People; and also that the good Laws, Statutes, and Customs of our said Realm, which We are astreyned and bound to hold and observe, be not, nor have not been duly holden nor executed, nor full Justice nor Right done to our said People, whereby many Disherisons and other great Mischiefs and Damages be happened, as well to Us as to our said People and to all our Realm: And We to the Honour of God, and for the Weal of Us and of our Realm, and for the Quietness and Relief of Us and of our said People who have been in divers Manners greatly charged before this Time, willing, with the Grace of God, against such Mischiefs to provide a good and due Remedy, have of our free Will, and at the Request of the Lords and Commons aforesaid, ordained, made, and assigned our Great Officers, that is to say, our Chancellor, Treasurer, and Keeper of our Privy Seal, such as We hold good, sufficient, and lawful for the Honour and Profit of Us and of our said Realm. And Moreover of our Authority Royal, certain Knowledge, good Gree and free Will, and by the Advice and Assent of the Prelates, Lords, and Commons aforesaid, in the full Parliament, in Aid of good Governance of our Realm and due Execution of our said Laws, and in Relief of the Estate of Us and of our People in Time to come, upon the full Trust that we have of good Advisement Wit and Discretion of the Honourable Fathers in God William Archbishop of Canterbury, Alexander Archbishop of York, our dear Uncles Edmund Duke of Opinion of the greater Party have Force and hold place: Commanding and charging all Prelates, Dukes, Earls, Barons, Steward, Treasurer, and Comptroller, and all other Officers of our House, Justices of the one Bench and of the other, and all our other Justices, Barons, and Chamberlains of the Exchequer, Sheriffs, Escheators, Mayors, Bailiffs, and all our other Officers, Ministers, and Liege People, that they be attending, obedient, counselling, and aiding, as often and by the Manner as our said Counsellors and Officers shall do them to wit, on our Behalf. In Witness whereof We have done to be made these our Letters Patents. Dated under our Great Seal, at Westminster, the Nineteenth Day of November, the Tenth Year of our Reign."

[So that the said Commission and the said Statute 17 touching the same Commission, seemeth to the said Commons to be prejudicial to the King and to his Crown, and Usurpation of [the regal '] and royal Power; and that the said Duke of Gloucester and Earl of Arundel, did send a great Man and Peer of the Realm in Message to our Lord the King, who of their part said (3) That if he would not grant and assent to the said Commission and Statute, he should be in great Peril of his Life; and so as well the said Commission as the said Statute touching the said Commission, were made by constraint and compulsion, and against the Agreement of the King and his Will; Wherefore the said Commons pray our said Sovereign Lord the King, that the said Commission, and Statute touching the same Commission, with all their Dependants, be repealed and utterly adnulled, as a Thing done traitorously and against his [regal 1] Crown and Dignity: Whereupon our Sovereign Lord the King, of the Assent of all the Lords Spiritual and the Proctors of the Clergy, at the Request of the said Commons, here hath repealed the said Statute in this Article, and the said Commission and all the Pains and Dependants of the same, [utterly to be adnulled 37 for ever, for the Causes aforesaid. And moreover, [that 6] the King, of the Assent of all the said Lords and Commons hath ordained and stablished, That no such Commission neither such like, be from henceforth purchased, pursued, nor made; and he that purchaseth, pursueth, or procureth to be made (7) any such Commission, or any like in Time coming, privily or apertly or use Jurisdiction or Power by virtue of any such Commission, and of the same be duly convict in the Parliament, he shall be adjudged for a Traitor, and that of high Treason done against the King and his Crown; and (*) the King shall have the Forfeiture of his Lands, Tenements, Possessions, and all other Hereditaments, to him and to his Heirs as well holden of himself as of other.

ITEM, It is ordained and stablished, That every Man, which compasseth or purposeth the Death of the King, or to depose him, or to render up his [Homage or Liege,9] or he that raiseth People and rideth against the King to make War within his Realm, and of that be duly attainted and judged in the Parliament, shall be judged as a Traitor of high Treason against the Crown; and he for him and his Heirs shall forfeit all the Lands, Tenements and Possessions, Liberties and all other Hereditaments, which he hath or any other hath to his Use, or had the Day of the Treason done, as well in Fee Tail as in Fee Simple, to the King and his Heirs, as well such Lands holden of other as of himself for ever; and also such Possession as other have to his Use.

And that this Statute shall extend and hold place as well to them which be judged or attainted for (') these iiii. Points of the said Treasons in this present Parliament, as of them which shall be judged or attainted in the Parliament in Time to come of any of the iiij. Points of Treasons aforesaid. And it is not the Mind of the King, nor of the Lords, nor the Assent of the Commons aforesaid, that if any such, which forfeiteth in the Manner aforesaid, be infeoffed in any Land, Tenement, or Possession to others' use, that that shall be comprised in the same Forfeiture.

ITEM, The King, by the Assent aforesaid, hath ordained and established, That if any, of what Estate or Condition that he be, do (') procure or counsel to repeal, abate, reverse, or adnul any of the Judgments given against any (3) Statutes or Ordinances made in the same Parliament or any Parcel of the same in any wise, and that duly proved in the Parliament, that he shall be judged and have Execution as a Traitor to the King and to the Realm. To which Ordinances and Statutes well and lawfully to be holden and kept, the Lords of the Realm, as well Spiritual as Temporal, be sworn, and have made Oaths before the King, as it appeareth in the Roll of the Parliament.

ITEM, Moreover our Sovereign Lord the King, for the more Surety in Time coming, hath ordained and established, That the Oath of the said Lords shall be put of Record in the Parliament Roll, and that it be inrolled in the Chancery, so that the Successors of all the Prelates, upon the [forfeiture 1] of their Fealty for their Temporalties before that they have Livery of the same out of the Chancery, shall make the same Oath in all Times to come. And also that all the Heirs of the said Lords Temporal in Time to come, at the making of their Homage or Fealty, before that they have Possession of their Lands out of the Chancery, shall make such an Oath.

ITEM, The King, at the Request of the said Commons, by the Assent aforesaid, for the more Surety of him and of his Realm [of England, and also of his People] in Time to come, hath ordained and stablished, That the Issue Males [of such Persons forejudged now begotten shall not 5] come to the Parliaments nor to the Councils of the King nor of his Heirs, nor shall not be of the King's Council nor of his Heirs: Saving always, That the Issues Females of the said Persons forejudged, and their Issues, which have other strange Fathers, shall not be indamaged by this Statute.

ITEM, The King hath ordained and stablished, That all the Annuities, Fees, Corodies, and all other Charges made or granted by them or any of them that be by Traitors judged Traitors in the same Parliament, after the Day repealed. of the Treasons done, shall be void, adnulled, and holden for none.

ITEM, It is ordained and stablished, That the King shall have the Presentments, Gifts, and Collations of all the Benefices, whose Advowsons were to the Persons attainted in the said Parliament, of every Voidance fallen after the Treasons of the said Persons done and begun; except the Benefices, of which the Owners or Incumbents have Ratifications of our said Sovereign Lord the King, which Owners the King will that they shall enjoy their said Benefices. And saving [always, 6] That they, which be in by way of Permutation [with ?" such Benefices that they have thereof Ratification if they will pursue.

ITEM, Our Sovereign Lord the King hath ordained and stablished, for the great Charity and Affection that he hath [in'] the County of Chester, and to the [Gentiles'] of the same, and forasmuch as the King himself before that he did take the High Dignity of King, and his Honourable Father before him, and other his Noble Progenitors, have been Earls of the said County of Chester, and for the great Honour of his eldest Son, if God send him any, and of his other Heirs, which shall have the same Seignory hereafter, by the Assent and Accord of all the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and at the Prayer of the said Commons, hath ordained (3) and stablished, for him and his Heirs, that the said County of Chester shall be the Principality of Chester, (4) from henceforth named and holden the Principality of Chester, with all the Liberties and Franchises thereof had and used, and in the same Manner as it hath been before, when he was named Earl of Chester, for ever. And Moreover the King, of his certain Science, and by the Assent and Accord aforesaid, and for the Increase and Honour of the State of (5) Princes, which shall be there, and for the Ease, Concord, and Tranquillity of his liege People of the said Principality, and of the Counties of Flint and Shropshire, and of the Seignories, which be joining to the same, hath granted, ordained and stablished, That the Castle of Lyons, with the Seignory of Bromfield and Yale, to the said Castle belonging, the Castle of [Chike,6] with the Seignory of Chirkesland to the said Castle belonging, the Castle of [Oswaldstreet,7] with the Town well walled with Stone, and the Hundred, and eleven Towns to the said Castle belonging, the Castle of Isabell, with the Seignory to the same belonging; [to *] the Castle of Dallilay, with the Appurtenances in the County of Shropshire, and the Reversion of the Seignory of [Cleue,9] with all their Appurtenances, which Edward Earl of Rutland holdeth for Term of his Life, all which Towns, Castles, and Seignories aforesaid were to Richard late Earl of Arundell, and which by force of the Judgment given against the said Earl in the said Parliament, be forfeit to our Sovereign Lord the King, shall be from henceforth annexed, united, and incorporate to the said Principality of Chester, and shall wholly abide and remain to the same Principality, as Parcel and a Member of the same for ever, without being given, sold, aliened, severed, or departed from the (10) Principality, to any Person by any way hereafter. And that no Gift nor Grant at any Time hereafter be made of the said Principality. nor of the Castles, Seignories, and Towns aforesaid, to no Person, but all only to the King's eldest Son, which shall be Prince there, if it please the King to make him; and that the said eldest Son, which shall have the said Principality, shall have also the said Castles, Seignories, and Towns as united and annexed to the same Principality, without being severed or departed from the same in Time to come: So that the said Resiants, Land-Tenants, and all the Inhabitants within the said Castles, Seignories, and Towns, shall have use and enjoy all their ancient Laws, Rights, and Customs, there of old Time reasonably had and used: Saved and reserved always to our Sovereign Lord the King his Regalty, Liberty, and Franchise, and the Rights of his Crown. Provided (") always, That the said Principality and the Seignories aforesaid, shall have and enjoy the same Laws, Liberties, and Customs, Usages, Rights, and Franchises, of old Time in the same reasonably had and used, as plainly and wholly as it was had and used, their Lands, Tenements, Goods, and Chattels; (1) the said Duke and Earls made divers Statutes and Ordinances in the said Parliament at their Will: Whereupon the said Appellants, considering the Summons of the said Parliament to be made expressly against the Right of the King's Crown, and contrary to the Liberty and Franchise of his Person and Royal Estate, willing to acquit them to the King as his faithful liege People, prayed him that the said Parliament be adnulled and clearly holden for none; and that all the Judgments, Ordinances, and Statutes, made and given in the said Parliament, and all Things depending upon the same, shall be adnulled [and revoked,3] and holden for none, as a Thing done without Authority, and against the Will and Liberty of the King, and the Right of his Crown; and that the Lands, Tenements, Fees, and Advowsons, and all other Possessions seized by Colour of the said Judgments, shall be restored and delivered to them which were so judged, to them and to their Heirs. And also the said Commons prayed to the King, as the said Appellants prayed and said, that their Intent was to have prayed likewise: And thereupon the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the [Procurers 3] of the Clergy severally examined, assented expressly, that the said Parliament, and all the Statutes, Judgments, Ordinances, and all other Things thereof made and followed, shall be void and adnulled and of no Force nor Value, and Restitution made as afore is said. And also as well the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the [Procurers 3] of the Clergy, as the said Commons were severally examined of the said Questions, and of the Answers of the Justices aforesaid, the Tenor whereof followeth in this Manner.

"Memorandum, That the xxv. day of the Month of August, the xi. First, It was inquired of them, Whether [the same 6] new Statute and Ordinance, and the Commission made (7) in the last Parliament holden at Westminster, be hurtful to the King's Royal Prerogative? [Whereunto all of one Mind answered, 6] That they be hurtful, and specially because they were against the King's Will.

they shall truly answer to certain Questions under

Item, It was inquired of them, How they ought to be punished, which procured the said Statute, Ordinance, and Commission to be made? [Whereunto, with one Assent, they answered,*] That they deserve to be punished by Capital Pain, that is to say, of Death, unless the King, in this Part, of his Grace, will pardon them.

Item, It was inquired, How they ought to be punished, which excited the said King to consent to the making of the said Statute, Ordinance, and Commission? [Whereunto, of one Mind, they said,*] That unless the King would give them his Pardon, they ought to be punished by Capital Pain.

Item, It was inquired of them, What Pain they deserved, that compelled (') the King to consent to the making of the said Statute, Ordinance, and Commission? [Whereunto, by one Assent, they gave Answer,²] That as Traitors they ought to be punished.

Item, How they (1) ought to be punished, that did interrupt the King, so that he might not exercise those Things that [pertaineth 1] to his Regalty and Prerogative? [Whereunto, of one Assent, it was answered,1] That they (3) ought to be punished as Traitors.

Item, It was inquired of them, Whether that after that the Business of the Realm, and the Cause of the Assembly of the Parliament were by the King's Commandment disclosed and declared in the Parliament (1), and [other 6] Articles limited by the King, upon which the Lords and Commons of the Realm ought to proceed in the same Parliament, if the Lords and Commons would in anywise proceed upon other Articles, and in no wise upon the Articles limited by the King, till the King had answered to the Articles expressed by them, notwithstanding that they were by the King injoined to the contrary; Whether the King in this Case ought to have the Rule of the Parliament, and indeed to rule, to the Intent that upon the Articles limited by the King, they ought first to proceed [or not,"] before they proceeded any further? [To which Question, of one Mind, they answered, That the King in this Party shall have the Rule, and so in order one after another in all other Articles touching the Parliament, till the End of the (*) Parliament. And if any do contrary to this Rule of the King, he ought to be punished as a Traitor.

Item, It was inquired of them, Whether the King, whensoever it pleaseth him, might dissolve the Parliament, and command his Lords and Commons to depart from thence or not? [Whereunto it was, of one Mind, answered,2] That he may; and if any [would proceed in the Parliament against the King's Will,9] he is to be punished as a Traitor.

Item, It was inquired, Since that the King, whensoever him pleased [might 10] remove his Officers or Justices, and to justify and punish them for their Offences, Whether the Lords and Commons might, without the King's Will, impeach the same Officers and Justices upon their Offences in the Parliament, or not? [To which Question it was by one Mind answered, 1 That they might not; and he that doth contrary is to be punished as a Traitor.

Item, It was inquired, How he is to be punished that Production moved in the Parliament, That the Statute should be sent for, whereby Edward the Son of King Edward, great Grandfather to the King that now is, was another Time [indicted "] in the Parliament, by the Inspection of which Statute, the said new Statute [or Ordinances "] and Commission were conceived in the Parliament? [To which Question of one Accord they answered,*] That as well he that so moved, as the other which by force of the same Motion brought the said Statute into the Parliament House, be as criminous and Traitors worthy to be punished.

Item, It was inquired of them, Whether the Judgment Judgment given in [our 13] Parliament holden at Westminster, against the Earl of Suffolk, were erroneous and revocable or not? [To which Question of one Assent, they said, 2]

All the said Answers declared legal.

Which Questions and the Answers of the same, as well before the King and the Lords, as before the Commons, were read and perceived, and it was demanded of all the States of the Parliament, how they thought of the Answers aforesaid, and they said, That they thought, that the said Justices made and gave their Answers duly and lawfully, as good and lawful liege People of the King ought to do; and in the same Manner Sir Thomas of Skelton learned in the Law, and William Hankeford, and William Brenchley, the King's Serjeants, demanded by the King of their Advice in this Behalf, said that the Answers were good and lawful; and that they would have given the same Answers, if the said Questions had been demanded of them. And my Lord William Thirning Chief Justice of the Common Bench, said that the Declaration of Treason not declared, belongeth to the Parliament; but if he were a Lord, or a Peer of the Parliament, if he had been demanded, he would have said in the same Manner; and (4) in like Manner said my Lord William Rikehyll, Justice of the Common Place, and after the coming of my Lord Walter Clopton, Chief Justice, he said in like wise: Wherefore the said Answers be judged and affirmed for good and sufficient in the said Parliament. Whereupon (3) the King by the Assent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Procurators of the Clergy, and the said Commons, and by Advice of the Justices and Serjeants aforesaid, there being, It was awarded and judged, ordained and stablished, that the said Parliament holden the said xi. Year, shall be clearly adnulled and holden for none, as a Thing made without Authority, and against the Will and Liberty of the King and the Right of his Crown; and that all the Judgments, Statutes, and Ordinances made in the same, with all Things depending upon the same, shall be revoked and adnulled, reversed, and clearly repealed and holden for none: And that all Lands, Tenements, Fees, Advowsons, and all other Possessions seised as forfeit by colour of the said Judgments, shall be restored and delivered to them which were judged or put out, to their Heirs, and to them that have in other Manner Cause of Action or Title of Right in this Behalf, with all Manner of Liberties and Franchises and Privileges, as far forth and wholly as they had at any Time, [with 6] Restitution of Goods and Chattels. But our Sovereign Lord the King, by Advice of the said Lords and Commons, considering how the King, for Recovery and Relief of his liege People, which were so judged or put out, and to make them to have Restitution of their Estates and Lands, Tenements, Fees, Advowsons, and other Possessions aforesaid, hath had and supported great and excessive Costs and Expences;

It seemeth to the King and to all the Lords, that touching the said Restitution it shall be a competent Satisfaction to the said Persons forejudged and put out, and to their Heirs, to have Restitution (') of their Goods and Chattels, or of the Issues and Profits of the said Lands and Tenements taken in the mean Time. And Moreover, as to them which have bought and purchased of the King much of the Lands and Tenements aforesaid, (1) some in Demean, and some in Reversion, for certain Sums to be paid to the King, he hath charged his Council to inquire by their Advice of the Value of the said Lands and Tenements so sold, and how much the Buyers thereof have taken in the mean Time; and thereupon treat and make with them such End as good Faith and Conscience requireth: And thereupon It is ordained and stablished, That all they which will pursue for the Restitution aforesaid, or for their Recovery in this Behalf, shall have a Writ of Scire facias, returnable in the Chancery, as often and such as they shall think needful, or take any other Action at the Common Law if they will, and that they may sue against them which be Tenants of the Freehold, the Monday next after the said [xv. Year 3] of Saint Hillary, and that their Recovery be good and effectual against them, notwithstanding any Alienations or Demises made since the said Monday, or against other Tenants at their Election; and that no Protection be allowed in this Case, nor no Delay by Non-age, nor [restraint 1] nor Aidprayer, but by Aidprayer of the King; and that the said Keeper of the Privy Seal shall make thereof Letters of Procedendo, without pursuing or speaking to the King, or other Delay, without doing Waste or Destruction in the mean Time.

ITEM, Our Sovereign Lord the King, at the Instance of the said Lords Appellants, and by Assent of (') other Lords of the Parliament, considering how it was judged by all the Estates of the Parliament, that the Answer made by Robert Tresilian and other his said Companions the King's Justices at Nottingham, the said xi. Year, upon a certain Question of them demanded, as it appeareth above, touching Michael de la Pole, late Earl of Suffolk, was just, good, and lawful; and that the said Judgment given against the said Earl in the said Parliament, the said x. Year of our said Sovereign Lord the King, was erroneous and revocable, as before it appeareth; hath, by the Assent of the Parliament awarded, judged, and also stablished, that the said Judgment given against the said Earl in the said Parliament, the said x. Year, shall be repealed, reversed, and clearly adnulled, in like Manner and Form as the Judgments given against the said Earl and other judged in the said Parliament, holden the said xi. Year, were reversed and adnulled in [the 6] same Parliament determined at Shrewsbury; and that all the Lands and Tenements, Rents, Fees, and Advowsons, and all other Possessions, which were to the said Earl, and seized as forfeit by colour of the said Judgment in the said Parliament the said x. Year, with all Manner of Liberties [of] Franchises and Privileges, as far forth, and as wholly as the said Earl had them at any Time before, should be restored to the Heirs of the said Earl, without having any Issues or Profits of the same in the mean Time; and that the said Heirs have their Suit and Recovery in the same Manner as before.

Provided always, That none shall have the Benefit of this Pardon for Treason nor Felony, if he pursue not a Charter of Pardon. Provided also ('), That they that rid and gathered them forcibly against the King, the xi. Year of his Reign, with the Lords which be now judged and convict, shall have no Benefit of this Act at this Time, if they pursue not a Charter of Pardon in this Behalf betwixt this and the Feast of Saint John the Baptist next coming. And the King our Sovereign Lord, upon the Grant of this Grace and Pardon so made to his liege People at this Time, made an open Declaration by his own [Mouth. So that if'] the Lords and Commons of the Realm, which shall come to the Parliaments in Time to come do put or make any Let or Disturbance contrary to the Grant of the said Subsidy of Wools, Leather, and Woolfels, so granted to him for Term of his Life, that then the said Grace and Pardon shall be void and clearly adnulled.

ITEM, It is to be Remembered, That whereas the King at the Request of [the same Parliament, making to them 3] divers Petitions as well for special Persons as other, not read nor answered, and which for shortness of Time [may 1] not well be determined during the Time of the Parliament, [it is ordained 1] and assigned, by Authority and Assent of the said Parliament, That John Duke of Lancaster, Edmund Duke of York, [Edmund 6] Duke of Aumarle, Thomas Duke of Surry, John Duke of Exeter, John Marquis of Dorset, Roger Earl of March, John Earl of Salisbury, and Henry Earl of Northumberland, Thomas Earl of Gloucester, Thomas Earl of [Winchester,'] and William Earl of Wiltshire, or Six of them, John [Hussey, 1] Henry Greene, John [Rushel,9] Henry Chelmeswike, Robert Tey, and John Golofre, Knights, coming for the Commons of the Realm to the said Parliament, or Three of them, shall examine, answer, and plainly determine all the said Petitions, and the Matters contained in the same, as they shall think best by their good Advice and Discretion in this Behalf, by Authority of the said Parliament, as it appeareth more plainly in the Roll of the said Parliament: Our Sovereign Lord the King by the Assent of the Dukes of [Lancaster,] York, Aumarle, Surry, and Exeter, and of the said Marquis, and of the said Earls of March, Salisbury, and Gloucester, and the said John [Hussey,] Henry Green, and John [Rushell,] by virtue and Authority (10) to them committed in the Parliament, hath received and heard certain Petitions, and thereupon made certain Ordinances and Statutes following, that is to say: Whereas in a Statute made in the Parliament of our Sovereign Lord the King, holden at Westminster the [Fourteenth "] Year of his Reign, was contained, That no Shoemaker nor Cordwainer should not use the Mystery of Tanning, nor no Tanner shall use the Mystery of Cordwainer or Shoemaker, upon a certain Pain comprised in the same Statute; and notwithstanding the said Statute and Pain many Cordwainers and Shoemakers do yet use the Mystery of Tanner, [as is aforesaid,"] in Contempt of the King and in great Deceit and Impoverishment of the Commons, because that due Execution is not thereof made: Whereupon the King will and hath ordained and stablished by the Assent aforesaid, That the said Statute so made be holden and kept, and duly executed with the Pains of the same in all Points, notwithstanding any Repeal, Statute, or Ordinance made to the contrary.

XVII. No Licences allowed for exporting Staple Merchandises, except to Calais.

ITEM, At the grievous Complaint of the Commons [shewed'] how the Staple was limited to remain at Calais, and that all the Wools, Woolfels, Leather, Lead, Tin, Cheese, Butter, and Honey, (1) passing out of the Realm of England, and of the Lands of Ireland and Wales, had Recourse to the said Place of Calais, and no Place elsewhere, certain Persons, by their Suggestion, have purchased Licences to carry Wools and other Merchandises aforesaid towards what Parts it pleaseth them beyond the Sea, Whereas they that have no such Licences ought to abide at the said Place of Calais, to the great Profit of them that be licensed, and Damage of them which have no Licence, and Destruction of the said Staple, to the great Damage of the Mint, Coinage, and Customs [of 3] Calais; the King, by the Assent aforesaid, will, ordaineth, and stablisheth, That the Statute thereof made be holden and kept, as to the great Merchandises, that is to say, Wools, Leather, Woolfels, Tin, and Lead all only, without granting any Licence to the contrary, but by the special Licence of the King himself; and if any such Licence be granted it shall be repealed.

XVIII. Stones shall be carried for Ballast towards the Repair of the Beacons, &c. at Calais.

ITEM, Whereas (1) many Works being about the Town of Calais, which in Salvation and Defence of the same Town, and the Marches there, need daily to be maintained and repaired, there be Two great Works, most necessary of all to be sustained and supported, that is to say, the Beacons before the Port there, and the Place called Paradise, which is nigh to the Ditches of the same Town, which [Ditches, 3] by the (6) Concourses and Rages of the Sea, be always feebled and impaired, as well of Stones cast out of the stuffing of the same, as also of Timber, so that if they be not hastily amended, made, and repaired, the said Port is likely to be destroyed and undone for ever; and the said Place of Paradise is now so ruinous and feeble, that if it be not newly made, and sufficiently maintained and kept, it is likely that in that Default the Walls of the same Town [in this Behalf,'] in short Time, by the great abundant Concourses of the Sea, shall be clearly [decayed,8] in Destruction and undoing of the said Town, to the great Damage of the King, and of his Realm of England, which God defend; against which Perils always to set sufficient Remedy, [it is all only at the King's Costs and Expences,9] and shall be very great and grievous Charge, if a convenient Ordinance thereof be not provided: Wherefore our Sovereign Lord the King, by the Assent aforesaid, hath ordained and stablished, That all manner of Ships accustomed to come to the said Port out of [the Country of] England, Fisher-boats all only except, shall bring with them all their Lastage of good Stones, convenient for the stuffing of the said Beacons, [in making their 10] reasonable Deliverance from Time to Time at their coming thither to the Treasurer, which for the Time shall be there, or to other Ministers thereto by him ordained, upon the Pain of iid. for the Weight of every Ton, [and as much"] as the said Ships be of Portage. And that all Manner of Ships entering at the said Place of Paradise, there to rest, shall pay at every their Entry there, xiiij d. Sterling, and thereupon it shall be lawful to them, if they will, there (") tarry for xiiij Days, with as many Nights then next ensuing, without paying thereof more for their said Entry:

And the Intent of the King is not that Offenders, which committed Trespasses or other Offences out of the said Pursuit without special Warrant shall be aided or have any Advantage of this Statute; But that they be thereof answerable at the Common Law.

Repeal of the whole Parliament 21 Ric. II. and of the Authority deputed thereby.

ITEM, Whereas the Monday next after the Feast of the Exaltation of the Holy Cross, the xxj. Year of the Reign of the said late King Richard, a Parliament was summoned and holden at Westminster, and from thence adjourned to Salop, at which Town a certain Power was committed by Authority of the Parliament, to certain Persons to proceed upon certain Articles and Matters comprised in the Roll of the Parliament thereof made, as by the same Roll may appear, in which Parliament, and also by Authority aforesaid, divers Statutes, Judgments, Ordinances, and Stablishments were made, ordained, and given erroneously and [dolefully;'] in great Disherison and final Destruction and undoing of many honourable Lords and other liege People of the Realm, and of their Heirs for ever: Our Sovereign Lord the King, considering the great Mischiefs aforesaid, by the Advice and Assent of all the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and of all the Commonalty, hath judged the said Parliament, holden the said xxi. Year, and the Authority thereof given, as afore is said, with all the Circumstances and Dependents thereupon to be of no Force nor Value: And that the same Parliament, with the Authority aforesaid, and all the Circumstances and Dependents thereupon, be wholly reversed, revoked, voided, undone, repealed, and adnulled for ever.

ITEM, It is accorded, assented, and established, That the Parliament holden at Westminster, the Eleventh Year of the said late King Richard, be firmly holden and kept according to the Purport (') of the same, as a Thing [made'] for the great Honour and common Profit of this Realm.

ITEM, It is ordained and assented, That the Lords and other which were forejudged in the said Parliament, holden the said one-and-twentieth Year, or by Authority of the same, which now be in Life, and the Heirs of the Lords and other that be dead, shall be wholly restitute and restored to their Names, all manner of Inheritaments and Possessions, Reversions, Fees, Advowsons, Offices, Liberties, and Franchises, as entirely as the said Lords and other which be in Life, or the Lords and other which be dead, Ancestors of the Heirs (*) or the Feoffees of the said Lords or (5) other aforesaid, or other Feoffees to their Use, were at the Time of the Judgment given against them, the said xxi. Year, by Entry, without other Suit thereof to be made, or Livery to be had of the same: Saving always that the said Lords or the other aforesaid shall have nothing of the Issues taken in the mean time: And as to the Goods and Chattels, which were to the said Lords, or the other Persons aforesaid, so forejudged, whereof the King is not answered, and be in the Hands of the Sheriffs, Escheators, or other Officers, Ministers, or any other, and concealed by them; the King will and granteth, That the same Lords and other which now be in Life, and the Executors and Administrators of them that be dead, shall have thereof Livery and Restitution; and that the Sheriffs, Escheators, Officers, and Ministers, so occur pying the said Goods and Chattels by such Concealment, be punished for the said Concealment.

ITEM, To the Intent that our said Lord the King in Time to come shall not be deceived in his Grants or Gifts, annual or in Fee, or in any Offices by him to be given, made, or granted, He will, by the Assent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal aforesaid, and at the Request of the said Commons, be counselled by the wise Men of his Council in Things touching the Estate of him and of his Realm, saving always his Liberty; also he hath ordained and stablished by the Assent aforesaid, That all they which from henceforth do demand of the King, Lands Tenements Rents Offices Annuities, or any other Profits, shall make express Mention in their Petitions of the Value of the Thing so to be demanded, and also of that which they have had of the King's Gift, or of other his Progenitors or Predecessors before. And in case they make not such Mention in their said Petitions, and that duely proved, the King's Letters Patents thereof made shall not be available, nor of any Force nor Effect, but wholly revoked, repealed, and adnulled for ever; to the Punishment of them which so have done Deceit to the King, as they that be not worthy to enjoy the Effect and Benefit of the Letters Patents to them granted in this Behalf.

ITEM, To eschew Maintenance, and to nourish Love, Peace, and Quietness, of all Parts through the Realm: It is ordained and stablished, by the King and his Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons aforesaid in the full Parliament, That no Lord, of what Estate or Condition soever he be, shall use nor [ordain '] any Livery of Sign of Company, to no Knight, Esquire, nor Yeoman, within the Realm aforesaid: Saving always that our Sovereign Lord the King shall give only his Honourable Livery to his Lords Temporal, whom shall who may please him; saving also that our (1) Sovereign Lord shall give his Honourable Livery to his Knights, and Esquires menial; and also to his Knights and Esquires, which be of his Retinue, and do take of him their yearly Fee for Term of Life. Moreover it is accorded and assented by the King, [his 3] Lords and Commons aforesaid, That the Knights and Esquires shall not in any wise wear their said Liveries in their Countries or Counties where they be resident or dwelling, nor in none other Place within the Realm out of the King's Presence; and if any Lord do the contrary, and that duly proved, he shall make Fine and Ransom at the King's Will; and if any Knight or Esquire do the contrary, and be thereof duly attainted, he shall lose his said Livery, and forfeit his Fee for ever: And that no (4) Yeoman take nor wear any Livery of the King, nor of none other Lord upon Pain of Imprisonment, and to make Fine and Ransom at the King's Will: Provided alway, That the Constable and Marshall of England for the Time being, [in 5] their retinue of Knights and Esquires, may wear the said Livery of the King, upon the Borders and Marches of the Realm in Time of War: Provided also, That all they that will travel, and pass over (6) into the Parts beyond the Sea to seek Honour, may wear the same Livery in those Parts, without being thereof any wise grieved or impeached. Moreover it is accorded and assented, That no Archbishop, Bishop, Abbot, nor Prior, nor none other Man of Holy Church, or Temporal, of what Estate or Condition he be within the said Realm, shall give any Livery of Cloth to any Man, but only to his menial Servants and Officers [or to7] them that be of his Council, as well Spiritual as Temporal, learned in the one Law or the other,

SECOND YEAR.

In Margine Rotuli.

A T the Parliament holden at Westminster in the Utas of St. Hillary, the Second Year of the Reign of King Henry the Fourth, the same our Lord the King, by the Assent of the Prelates, Dukes, Earls, and Barons, and at the special Instance and Request of the Commons assembled at this present Parliament, hath caused to be ordained and stablished certain Statutes and Ordinances in Form following.

STATUTE OF THE

I. Confirmation of Liberties, Charters, Statutes, &c.

Recital of the Statute 1 Hen. IV. chapter 6.

respecting Grants of the King.

FIRST, That Holy Church have her Rights and Liberties; and that all the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and all the Cities, Boroughs, and Towns enfranchised, have and enjoy all their Liberties and Franchises, which they have lawfully used, and which they have of the Grant of his Noble Progenitors and Predecessors Kings of England; and that the Great Charter, and the Charter of the Forest, and all other good Ordinances and Statutes made in his Time, and in the Time of his Noble Progenitors, not repealed, be firmly holden and kept in all Points: And that all his liege People and Subjects may freely and peaceably in his sure and quiet Protection go and come to his Courts, to pursue the Laws, or defend the same, without Disturbance or Impediment of any; and that full Justice and Right be done, as well to the Poor as to the Rich, in his Courts aforesaid.

ITEM, Whereas in the last Parliament of our Sovereign Lord the King that now is, amongst other Things it was ordained and stablished, that all they which from henceforth shall demand of the King, Lands, Tenements, Rents, [or Fees, '] Annuities, or any other Profits, should make express mention in their Petitions of the Value of the Thing so to be demanded, and also of that that they have had of the Gift of the King, or of other his Progenitors or Predecessors before; and in case they did not make such Mention in their said Petitions, and that duly proved, the King's Letters Patents should not be available to them, nor of no Force nor Effect, but wholly revoked, repealed, and adnulled for ever, to the Punishment of them which had done such Deceit to the King, as they that be not worthy to enjoy the Effect and Benefit of the Letters Patents to them granted in this Behalf: Our said Sovereign Lord the King considering, That a great Part of the said Statute is very hard for his liege People, and for so much willing thereof to provide Remedy, of his own Will and certain Knowledge hath granted to do Grace and Pardon to those that will pursue, of as much as they have mistaken themselves in their Suit against the Form of the said Statute. this Behalf, because that the same Statute is very obscure, and hath Need of Declaration, specially for Ease and Quietness of his People, will and granteth, That all they which from henceforth do sue to the same our Sovereign Lord the King, to have of him any Grace or [yearly Gift,] or in Fee or otherwise, shall make express mention in their Petition, of how much they have had of the Gift and Grant of the Noble King Edward, Grandfather to our Sovereign Lord the King, or of Richard late King, or of Edward late Prince of Wales, or of John late Duke of Lancaster, Father of our Sovereign Lord the King, or of the King himself, and of none other Progenitor or Predecessor of the same our Sovereign Lord. And he that maketh not such mention in his Petition, his Letters Patents made to him at [the same 1] Time by our Sovereign Lord the King, shall be of no Force nor Effect. And Moreover as to the Words, that is to say, "other Profits" comprised in the said Statute, our Sovereign Lord the King hath declared and granted, That of no Profits, Gifts, Goods, or Chattels, or any other Things granted or given by the same our Sovereign Lord the King to any, to the Value of C. li. or within, except Wards and Marriages, of which the King will that he, which so shall sue to him, shall make express mention in his Petition of the Value of the same, none shall incur the Pain comprised in the said Statute. And it is not the King's Mind, That for any Confirmation or Licence made to any by our said Sovereign Lord the King, of any Liberties, Franchises, Annuities, or any other Things granted by any of his Progenitors or Predecessors or other Person, and not specified in any Petition, so to be demanded otherwise than above is declared, none shall incur the Pain of the said Statute. And as to the other Articles comprised in the same Statute, our said Sovereign Lord will that they be firmly holden and kept and put in due Execution.

ITEM, It is ordained and stablished, That if any Provision be made by [the Bishop of Rome'] to any Person of Religion, or to any other Person, to be exempt of Obedience regular, or of Obedience ordinary, or to have any Office perpetual within Houses of Religion, or as much as one regular Person of Religion, or Two or more, have in the same; that if such Provisors from henceforth do accept or enjoy any such Provision, they shall incur the Pains comprized in the Statute of Provisors, made in the xiij. Year of King Richard the Second.

ITEM, For as much as our Lord the King, upon grievous Complaint to him made in this Parliament, hath perceived, That the Religious Men of the Order of [Cisteaux*] in the Realm of England, have purchased certain Bulls to be quit and discharged to pay [the 5] Tithes of their Lands, Tenements, and Possessions let to Ferm, or [manured, or 6] occupied by other Persons than by themselves, in great Prejudice and Derogation of the Liberty of Holy Church, and of many liege People of the Realm: Our Lord the King willing thereupon to ordain Remedy, by the Advice and Assent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and at the Instance and Request of the said Commons, hath ordained and stablished, That the Religious Persons of the Order of [Cisteaux *] shall stand in the Estate that they were before the Time of such Bulls purchased; and that as well they of the said Order, as all other Religious and Seculars, of what Estate or Condition they be, which do put the said Bulls in Execution, or from henceforth do purchase other such ITEM, Whereas in the Statute made at Westminster in the Fifth Year of the said King Richard, amongst other Things it is contained, how it was assented, accorded, and enjoined by the said late King to all manner of People, Merchants, Clerks, and others, as well Strangers as Denizens, of whatsoever Estate or Condition they should be, upon Pain of as much as they might forfeit, that none of them, upon the said Pain, privily nor openly should send or carry, nor cause to be sent or carried, out of the said Realm of England, any Gold or Silver in Money, Bullion, Plate, Vessel, nor by Exchange to be made, except the Wages of Calais, and other the King's Fortresses beyond the Sea, [saving certain '] Prelates, Lords, and others comprized in the same Statute, [without special Leave, and Licence 1] thereupon first had, as by the same Statute may more fully appear: Our Lord the King, for to prevent the Subtilty of them that will do Fraud or Deceit to him in this Behalf, hath ordained and stablished, That if from henceforth any Searcher of the King may find Gold or Silver in Coin, or in Mass, in the keeping of any that is passing, or upon his Passage, in any Ship or Vessel to go out of any Port, Haven, or Creek of the Realm, without the King's special Licence, all that Gold or Silver shall be forfeit to the King, saving his reasonable Expences, which he shall be bound to confess and discover presently after that he is warned and charged so to do by the same Searcher, or else all the said Money so concealed shall be forfeit to the King. Provided always, That the Merchants Strangers that do sell their Merchandise within the Realm of England, and the One-half of the Money of England received for the same Merchandises do employ upon other Merchandises of the Realm, may freely carry out from the same the other Half of the said Money by the King's Licence, according to the Statute thereof made.

ITEM, For the great Deceit that is in the Money of Gold and Silver of Flanders and Scotland, that doth commonly run in Payments made in divers Parts of the Realm, to the great Damage of the King and of his People: It is ordained and stablished, That all the Money of Gold and Silver of the Coin of Flanders, and of all other Lands and Countries beyond the Sea, and also of the Land of Scotland, shall be voided out of the Realm of England, or put to coin to the Bullion within the same Realm, betwixt this and the Feast of Christmas next ensuing, upon Pain of Forfeiture of the same. And that all the Merchants and other at Calais, which do receive any such Gold or Silver of the Coin of Flanders, or of other Lands and Countries beyond the Sea, or of the Land of Scotland, shall put the same to Bullion at Calais, without bringing it in Coin within the Realm of England, and if the Merchants, or any other from henceforth bring any such Money within the Realm of England, they shall forfeit the same Money to the King. And Moreover it is accorded, That a good and convenient Search be made as well at Calais as on this side the Sea in every Port and other Places upon the tringing of the Money aforesaid.

ITEM, Whereas upon Verdict found before any Justice in Assise of Novel disseisin, Mortdauncester, or any other Action whatsoever, the Parties before this Time have been adjourned upon Difficulty in Law upon the Matter so found; It is ordained and established, That if the Verdict pass against the Plaintiff, that the same Plaintiff shall not be nonsuited.

ITEM, Upon the grievous Complaint made to our Lord the King by the Commons in this present Parliament, how that the Office of the Cirographer in the Common Bench of the King is let to farm, to which Office appertaineth, for making and writing of every Fine levied in the said Bench, Four Shillings and no more; and notwithstanding the same Fee, the Farmers of the same Office will deliver no Fine to any without giving to them other Four Shillings, or more by Extortion, to the great Damage and Impoverishment of all the King's liege People; Our Lord the King willing in this Behalf to provide Remedy, by the Advice and Assent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and at the Supplication of the said Commons, hath ordained and established, That the Cirographer, nor his Farmer, Deputy, or Lieutenant for the Time being, shall from henceforth take any more than Four Shillings for any Fine levied in the Court. And if the said Farmer, Lieutenant, or Deputy, take any more than Four Shillings for a Fine, as before is said, he shall lose his Office, and be forejudged the Court, and have One Year's Imprisonment, and pay to the Party grieved his Treble Damages; and the Party grieved shall have his Suit before the Justices of the said Bench.

ITEM, Whereas late in the Time of King Richard divers Persons were assigned at divers Times by Commissions of the said King Richard, to inquire, and to do after the Purport of their Commission within the Realm of England, and now Process is made as well in the Chancery as in the Exchequer against the said Commissioners, to certify the Inquisitions and other Things before them taken by virtue of the said Commissions, Whereas some of the said Commissioners in the Pursuit of the said King Richard were rifled and pilled of the said Inquisitions and other Things before them taken by force of their said Commissions, and also of their proper Goods, and some of the said Commissioners by the Commandment of Sir William le Scrope, sometime Treasurer of England, did deliver all their Inquisitions and other Things so taken before them to the said Treasurer, so that the Commissioners have nothing in their Custody to certify to the said Courts: Whereupon our Sovereign Lord the King, considering the Mischiefs aforesaid, and by so much willing to do grace to such Commissioners, by the Advice and Assent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and at the Prayer of the said Commons, hath ordained and stablished, That none of the said Commissioners so rifled or pilled, nor none that delivered their Inquisitions and other Things taken before them to the said late Treasurer, shall in no wise be charged to make thereof any Certification in any Court of the King, but shall be thereof by their Oath clearly discharged.

ITEM, Because that Complaint is made to our said Lord the King by the said Commons, how the Clerk of the Clerk of the Crown of the King's Bench, whereas Fourscore or an Hundred Men be indicted of One Felony, or of One Trespass, and all they plead to an Issue as Not guilty, the said Clerk ought not to take for the Venire facias,

And moreover our said Lord the King hath charged the Justices of the King's Bench, that no Extortion be done in this Behalf in the Bench aforesaid.

ITEM, Whereas in the Statute made at Westminster the Thirteenth Year of the said King Richard, amongst other Things it is contained, that the Admirals and their Deputies shall not intermeddle from thenceforth of any Thing done within the Realm, but only of a Thing done upon the Sea, according as it hath been duly used in the Time of the noble King Edward, Grandfather to the said King Richard; Our said Lord the King will and granteth, That the said Statute be firmly holden and kept, and put in due Execution. And Moreover, the same our Lord the King, by the Advice and Assent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and at the Prayer of the said Commons, hath ordained and stablished, that as touching a Pain to be set upon the Admiral, or his Lieutenant, that the Statute and the Common Law be holden against them; and that he that feeleth himself grieved against the Form of the said Statute, shall have his Action by Writ grounded upon the Case against him that doth so pursue in the Admiral's Court, and recover his double Damages against the Pursuant; and Statuta de Anno quarto.

STATUTES OF THE FOURTH YEAR.

In Margine Rotuli.

To the Honour of God and Holy Church, and for the common Wealth and Profit of all the Realm of England, Our Lord the King, by the Assent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and at the Special Instance and Request of the Commons, assembled at the Parliament holden at Westminster the Morrow after the Feast of St. Michael, the Fourth Year of his Reign, hath ordained and stablished certain Statutes and Ordinances by the Manner as followeth.

FIRST, That Holy Church have all her Liberties and Franchises; and that the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and all the Cities, Boroughs, and Towns franchised, have and enjoy all their Liberties and Franchises, which they have had of the Grant of the Progenitors of our said Lord the King, Kings of England, and of the Confirmation of the same our Lord the King; and that the Great Charter, and the Charter of the Forest, and all the good Ordinances and Statutes made in the Time of our said Lord the King, and in the Time of his Progenitors, not repealed, be firmly holden and kept.

ITEM, Our said Lord the King having in Remembrance the faithful Hearts and the inward Affection that the Clergy of England hath borne to him, and also the great Charges which the same Clergy hath had and sustained for his Honour and Profit after the Time of his Coronation, and therefore willing to be a gracious Lord to them in their Affairs, by the Assent of the said Lords at the special Suit and Request of the said Commons, will and granteth, That the Statutes made the Five-and-twentieth Year of King Edward, Grandfather to our Lord the King that now is, touching the Clergy of England be entirely holden and kept and put in due Execution. And Moreover the same our Lord the King, considering that the Words and Terms, that is to say, ["Insidiatores viarum, & depopulatores agrorum," 1] comprised in the Petition delivered to him in this Parliament by the Clergy of England, have not been commonly used in Indictments, Arraignments, [Appeals,] nor in other Impeachments in the Time of his said Grandfather, nor in the Time of his other Progenitors; and willing therefore to avoid such Novelties, for the great Quiet and Surety of his People, by the Assent of the Lords and Commons of the same Parliament, will and granteth, and hath ordained and established, That the said Words and Terms shall not be from henceforth used, nor put in Indictments, Arraignments, Appeals, or any other Impeachments; nor that by force of any such Word or Term, any Clerk religious or secular, nor any other of the King's liege People, shall be from henceforth Weyliggers and Robbers of fieldis MS. ITEM, It is ordained and assented, That every Sheriff of England shall abide in proper Person within his Bailiwick, for the Time that he shall be such Officer; and that he shall not let the said Bailiwick to farm to any Man, for the Time that he occupieth such Office; and that the said Sheriff be sworn from time to time to do the same in special, amongst other Articles comprised in the Oath of the Sheriff.

ITEM, Whereas before this Time, to avoid the Deceit which hath been used in Cloths sold in London, under the Name and Colour of Cloths made in London and the Suburbs of the same, there was ordained a Seal of Lead for to seal such Cloths made in the said City and Suburbs; till now of late, that for the singular Profit of certain Persons, the Seal of Lead hath been excluded, to the great Damage of the People, and great Slander to the City and Suburbs: Our said Sovereign Lord the King, by the [Advice and '] Assent aforesaid, to [obvent 1] such Subtlety and Deceit hath ordained and established, That one sufficient Man shall be assigned by the same our Sovereign Lord the King to seal the said Cloths, which shall be wrought, woven, and fulled, in the said City, and the Suburbs of the same, with a Seal of Lead, as in old Times was used in the same City and Suburbs; and that no such Cloth so wrought, woven, and fulled within the same City and Suburbs, be in any wise sold or bargained, nor set to Sale, unless it be sealed with a Seal of Lead, as before is said. And the same our Sovereign Lord the King shall have the Forfeiture of the Cloths sold contrary to this Statute, if any be.

ITEM, Whereas in the Statute made the First Year of King Richard the Second, it was ordained, That where several Persons did disseise other of their Freehold, and made Feoffment to divers People, as well to have Maintenance, as also to make the Disseisees to be ignorant against whom they ought to take their Writ, that the Disseisees in such Case might take their Writ against them which thereof shall take the Profits so that the Disseisees commence their Suit within the Year next after the Disseisin; and (3) the same Ordinance should hold Place in every other Action or Plea where such Feoffments be made by Fraud or Collusion, to have their Recovery against such Feoffors, if they thereof take the Profits: Our said Lord the King thinking the said Statute to be very mischievous and prejudicial to his People, because of the Shortness of the Time, by the Assent of the said Lords, and at the Request of the Commons aforesaid, hath ordained and stablished, That such Disseisees shall have their Action against the first Disseisor, during the Life of the same Disseisor, so that such Disseisor thereof take the Profits at the Time of the Suit commenced. And as to other Writs in Plea of Land, the Demandant shall commence his Suit within the Year against him which is Tenant of the Freehold at the Time of the Action accrued to him, so that such Tenant thereof take the Profits at the Time of such Suit commenced; notwithstanding the said Statute.

ITEM, Because daily the great Persons of the Realm, do make forcible Entries into other Men's Lands, and put out the Possessors of the same, claiming sometime in their own Right, where their Entry is not lawful, and sometime in another's Right, where they have nothing in Reversion, in Right, nor in Demean, nor is there any Affinity or Cousinage betwixt them and those in whose Right they have entered, and also take their Goods and Chattels in Manner of Robbery; so that oftentimes they be in such Manner put out, and of their Goods and Chattels spoiled, that they have nothing [to pursue for '] their Right, and so by such forcible Entries and Maintenance, the Land-Tenants and Possessors be utterly disherited and undone: Our Lord the King, willing to do equal Right to all his liege People, as well the small as the great, and that his Laws be duly executed, at the grievous Complaint of the said Commons, and by the Advice and Assent of all the Lords aforesaid, for to punish and chastise such Riots and forcible Entries so made, and hereafter to be made, against the Laws of the Land, hath ordained and established, That if any Man, great or small, of what Estate or Condition that he be, make any such forcible Entry in his own Right, or to his own Use, or in another's Right (1) to another's Use by way of Maintenance, or take or carry away any Goods after such forcible Entry from the Possessor of the Freehold, that if the Party grieved, or other lawful Man, will make Affiance in his Name, that the Entry was made in such forcible Manner, that the Chancellor of England for the Time being shall have Power, by his Discretion, to grant a special Assise in this Case to the Party grieved, of whatsoever Value the Tenements be, without suing to the King. And if such Disseisor be attainted of such Disseisin made in such forcible Manner, he shall have One Year's Imprisonment, and yield to the Party grieved, his double Damages: And if he be convict by the same Assise, that he hath taken or carried away any Goods or Chattels of such Disseisees, the Justices of Assise shall have Power to hear and determine, as well for our Lord the King, as for the Party, of the Goods and Chattels so carried away, and to award to the Party grieved his Damages: And that in every such special Assise be named one of the Justices of the one Bench or of the other, or the Chief Baron of the Exchequer, if he be a Man of the Law. And that hereafter no Writ of Supersedeas be granted to the contrary of such special [Assises.3]

ITEM, Because that many Commissions be made in the Chancery, directed to divers Persons of the Realm, sometime to inquire and certify, sometime to inquire, hear, and determine, and sometime to seize Lands and Tenements, Goods and Chattels, which Commissions never came to the Hands of the said Commissioners, whereupon Writs issued out of the Exchequer of our Lord the King to distrain such Commissioners, their Executors, Heirs, and Land-Tenants, sometime to yield the Estreats of the Fines Issues and Amerciaments, which pertain to our Lord the King because of the said Commissions, sometime to certify that which is found before them by Inquest, and sometime to account of certain Things contained in the said Commissions, to the great Damage and Disquietness of many of the King's liege People: The same our Lord the King, for the Ease and Quietness of his People, willing in this Case to provide Remedy, by the Assent aforesaid doth will, and hath ordained and stablished, That the Chancellor of England for the Time being shall use his Power, as he hath done before this Time in this Case: And in other Cases, the same Chancellor shall have Power by Authority of Parliament, calling to him such Justices as shall please him, or the Chief Baron of the Exchequer, if need be, to provide Remedy from Time to Time by their Discretion.

ITEM, For the great Scarcity that is at this present within the Realm of England, of Halfpence and Farthings of Silver: It is ordained and stablished, That the Third Part of all the Money of Silver which shall be brought to the Bullion, shall be made in Halfpence and Farthings; and that of this Third Part the one Half be made in Halfpence, and the other Half in Farthings: And the same to do and perform the Coiner shall be sworn in special. And that no Goldsmith nor other Person, whatsoever he be, cause to be molten any such Halfpence or Farthings, upon Pain to pay to the King the quatreble of that which so shall be molten against the Form of this Statute.

ITEM, Because that by Wears, Stakes, and Kidels, being in the Water of Thames, and [of'] other great Rivers through the Realm, the common Passage of Ships and Boats is disturbed, and much People perished, and also the young Fry of Fish destroyed, and against Reason wasted and given to Swine to eat, contrary to the Pleasure of God, and to the great Damage of the King and his People; the same our Lord the King intending to provide a due Remedy for the same Mischiefs, by the Advice and Assent of the Lords aforesaid, and at the Request of the said Commons, doth will and grant, That the Statutes thereof made be holden and kept, and put in due Execution; joining to the same, that Commissions be awarded to certain Justices and others, in every County of the Realm where Need shall be, to inquire of all that which is contained in the said Statutes, and to punish the Offenders of the same Statutes by Fine, according to their Discretion; Saved always and reserved to the King our Lord, the Penalties comprised in especial in the said Statutes; and that the Estreats of such Fines be delivered by the said Justices to the Sheriff of every County by Indenture: And that the said Sheriff pay of the Issues and Profits rising of the said Estreats, to every of the said Justices, for every Day that he shall travel to execute the said Commission, four Shillings, and that the said Sheriffs have thereof due Allowance from Time to Time in the Exchequer.

ITEM, It is ordained ('), That the Statute of Appropriation of Churches, and of the Endowment of Vicars in the same, made the Fifteenth Year of King Richard the Second, be firmly holden and kept, and put in due Execution: And if any Church be [appropriated 1] by Licence of the said King Richard, or of our Lord the King that now is, sithence the said Fifteenth Year, against the Form of the said Statute, the same shall be duly reformed according to the Effect of the same Statute, betwixt this and the Feast of Easter next coming. And if such Reformation be not made within the Time aforesaid, that the Appropriation and Licence thereof be made void, and utterly repealed and adnulled for ever; except the Church of Hadenham in the Diocese of Ely, which, for to eschew divers Damages, Discords, and Debates, that have been before this Time betwixt the Bishop of Ely and the Archdeacon of Ely, upon the Exercise of their Jurisdiction, as it was openly declared by the same Bishop in Presence of the King, and of the Lords in Parliament, was of late appropried, by the Licence of the King our Lord, to the Archdeacon and his Successors, to do Divine Service, keep Hospitality, and to support other Charges as pertaineth. Moreover It is ordained and stablished, that all the Vicarages united annexed or appropried, and the Licences thereof had, after the First Year of the said King Richard, [how well soever'] that they which have united

New Practice of paying to the Court of Rome more for the First-Fruits of Bishoprics than usual.

OR the grievous Complaints made to our Sovereign Lord the King by his Commons of this Parliament, holden at Coventry, the vj. Day of October, the vj. Year of his Reign, of the horrible Mischiefs and damnable Custom which is [introduct '] of new in the Court of Rome, that no [Parson, Abbot,2] nor other, should have Provision of any Archbishoprick or Bishoprick, which shall be void, till that he hath compounded with the Pope's Chamber, to pay great and excessive Sums of Money, as well for the First Fruits of the same Archbishoprick or Bishoprick, as for other less Services in the same Court, and that the same Sums or the greater Part thereof be paid beforehand; which Sums pass the Treble, or the Double at the least, of that that was accustomed of old Time to be paid to the said Chamber and otherwise by the Occasion of such Provisions, whereby a great Part of the Treasure of this Realm hath been brought and carried to the said Court, and also shall be in Time to come, to the great impoverishing of the Archbishops and Bishops within the same Realm, and elsewhere within the King's Dominions (3) if convenient Remedy be not for the same provided: Our said Sovereign Lord the King, to the Honour of God, as well to eschew the Damage of his Realm, as the Perils of their Souls [which owen to be 1]

STATUTE OF THE SEVENTH YEAR.

OUR Lord the King, at his Parliament holden at Westminster the First Day of March, the Seventh Year of his Reign, by the Advice and Assent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and at the Request of the Commons in the same Parliament, hath ordained and established divers Ordinances and Statutes in the Form as followeth.

FIRST, That Holy Church have all her Liberties and Franchises; and that all the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and all the Cities, Boroughs, and Towns franchised, have and enjoy all their Liberties and Franchises, which they have of the Grant of the King's Progenitors, and of the Confirmation and Grant of our Lord the King that now is. And that the Great Charter, and the Charter of the Forest, and all the Ordinances and Statutes made in the Time of our Lord the King, and in the Time of his Progenitors, not repealed, be firmly holden and kept, and duly executed in all Points: And that the Peace within the Realm be holden and kept, so that all the King's liege People and Subjects may from henceforth safely and peaceably go, come, and abide, according to the Laws and Usages of the same Realm: And that good Justice and [even '] Right be done to every Person; saving to the same our Lord the King his Regalty and Prerogative.

X. Length and Breadth of Cloths;

ITEM, Whereas in divers Parliaments of King Edward the Third, Grandfather of our Sovereign Lord the King that now is, it was ordained, That the Cloth of Ray should be in Length xxviij. Yards, and in Breadth vi. Quarters, and the whole coloured Cloth in Length xxvj. Yards measured by the [Creast, 1] and in Breadth vj. Quarters and a Half, to the Intent that the One whole Cloth and the other watered and rowed should be in Length xxiiij. Yards; and now the Makers of the said Cloths do make them subtilly, so that the Cloth unneth containeth xxj. or xxij. Yards, and of less Breadth by much than it should be, in Deceit and great Damage of the common People of the Realm: It is ordained and stablished, That the whole coloured Cloth shall contain in Length xxviij. Yards, and the Cloth of Ray as much measured without [defoiling 3] the Cloths, and in Breadth as before is ordained by the Statute. And if the Clothmakers from henceforth make their Cloths of less Length or Breadth, that then the same Makers shall forfeit the Cloths, which by the Aulneger shall be found of less Length or Breadth; and that the Aulneger take the same, and deliver them to the Wardrobe, to the Use of our Sovereign Lord the King. to them granted by some of the said Kings, of certain Sums to be taken of the Issues of the said Counties for Term of Life or in other Manner in surcharging of the said Counties, by Favour or Pardon [hath'] been paid, the first Grantees set apart, or many of them not paid, to their great Wrong, and against Right and Reason and likely to the Disherison of the said first Grantees: It is ordained and stablished, That they, which have Letters Patents effectual and of force, being of the elder Date, shall be first paid, according to the Effect of the same, and of the sufficient Grants thereupon made. Saving to our Sovereign Lord the King the Profers made or to be made in his Exchequer, and saving that that is granted to the Queen and the King's [Son.2] And if any Sheriff, Customer, or any other pay to any having Letters Patents of a later Date, and leave any other having Letters Patents of an elder Date unpaid, except those which before be excepted, that he which so doeth, he not excused nor discharged, against them that have their Letters Patents of the elder Date, (3) nor discharged out of the Exchequer till he hath made Gree to the Party according to Law and Reason, and Damages after the Discretion of the Barons of the Exchequer.

ITEM, It is ordained and stablished, That the good Statutes made in the Time of King Edward, Grandfather of our Sovereign Lord the King that now is, the xxv. Year of his Reign, and the Statutes made at [Canterbury 1] in the Time of King Richard late King of England, the xii. Year of his Reign, touching Labourers, Artificers, and other Servants of Husbandry, shall be holden and kept in all points, and put in due Execution. And Whereas in the Statutes made at [Canterbury, 1] among other Articles it is contained, That he or she that useth to labour at the Plough or Cart, or other Labour or Service of Husbandry, till he be of the Age of Twelve Years, that from the same Time forth he shall abide at the same Labour, without being put to any Mystery or Handicraft; and if any Covenant or Bond be made from that Time forth to the contrary, it shall be holden for none: Notwithstanding which Article, and the good Statutes afore made through all Parts of the Realm, the [Infants 5] born within the Towns and Seignories of Upland, whose Fathers and Mothers have no Land nor Rent, nor other Living, but only their Service or Mystery, be put by their said Fathers and Mothers and other their Friends to serve and bound Apprentices to divers Crafts within the Cities and Boroughs of the said Realm, sometime at the Age of Twelve Years, sometime within the said Age, and that for the Pride of Clothing and other evil Customs that Servants do use in the same; so that there is so great Scarcity of Labourers and other Servants of Husbandry that the Gentlemen and other People of the Realm be greatly impoverished for the Cause aforesaid: Our Sovereign Lord the King considering the said Mischief, and willing thereupon to provide Remedy, by the Advice and Assent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and at the Request of the said Commons, hath ordained and stablished, That no Man nor Woman, of what Estate or Condition they be, shall put their Son or Daughter, of whatsoever Age he or she be, to serve as Apprentice, to no Craft nor other Labour within any City or Borough in the Realm, except he have Land or Rent to the Value of Twenty Shillings by the Year at

And if any Covenant be made of any such Infant, of what Estate that he be, to the contrary, it shall be holden for none. Provided always, That every Man or Woman, of what Estate or Condition that he be, shall be free to set their Son or Daughter to take learning at any manner School that pleaseth them within the Realm. And that from henceforth every Person that will make his Son or Daughter Apprentice to any Craft within City or Borough, that he bring to the Mayor or Bailiffs of the said City or Borough a Bill sealed under the Seals of Two Justices of Peace of the County where such [Infant 1] is born, testifying the valor of the Lands or Rents of his said Father and Mother, as afore is said. And that no Man nor Woman receive any Apprentice contrary to this Ordinance, upon Pain to pay to the King C. Shillings, as well at the King's Suit as of every Person that will complain, as well before the Justices of Peace, as in any other Court of the King. And he that will sue in this Behalf shall have the One Half for his Labour, and the King the other Half. And that in every Leet be it in the King's Hand, or of any other the King's Liege Man, once in the Year all the Labourers and Artificers dwelling in the same Leet shall be sworn, to serve and take for their Service after the Form of the said Statutes; And if they refuse that to do, they shall be put in the Stocks within the Town where they be taken by Three Days without Bail or Mainprise, till they will make Gree, and from thence they shall be sent to the next Gaol. And that every Town or Seignory that faileth of their Stocks, so that they be not made before the Feast of Easter next coming, shall incur against the King the Pain of Cs. to be levied and paid in Aid of the Quinzime to be granted hereafter.

ITEM, It is ordained and stablished, That none of the Lords Spiritual nor Temporal, Knights nor Esquires of the Realm, nor none other Person, of what Estate or Condition that he be, shall not be in any wise grieved, molested, inquieted, nor endamaged, for (3) any of them, or for their journeying or Pursuit made with the King (4) at his Commandment, for to chastise and punish the Riots and Insurrections, which hath been diversly made (5) at sundry Seasons within the Realm, after the coming of our said Sovereign Lord the King into the same Realm; but that they and every of them be thereof utterly quit, released, pardoned, and discharged for ever.

THE KING to the Sheriff of Kent, Greeting. Certain Statutes and Ordinances made in our last Parliament, We send to you, in Form Patent, under the Tenor which followeth.

be allow without being differently by illicationing; or by

Because that divers Complaints have been made to our Lord the King by the Commons of [this '] Realm, in the Parliament holden at Gloucester, the Twentieth Day of October, in the Ninth Year of the Reign of our said Lord King [Henry the Fourth after the Conquest]; the same our Lord the King, willing to remedy the said Complaints, by the Advice and Assent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and at the Instance and Request of the said Commons, hath caused to be ordained and stablished divers Statutes and Ordinances, in Form as followeth.

FIRST, That Holy Church have all her Liberties and Franchises; and that all the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and other the King's liege People, having Liberties and Franchises, and all Cities and Boroughs of the Realm, have and enjoy their Liberties and Franchises, which they have of the Grants of the Progenitors of our Lord the King, and of his own Grant or Confirmation; except the Franchise now late granted to the Scholars of the University of Oxenford; and that the Great Charter, and the Charter of the Forest, and all other good Statutes made before this Time, and not repealed, stand in their Force.

ITEM, It is ordained and established, That no Cloth called Kendall, whereof the Dozen passeth not Six Shillings and Eight-pence shall be (1) sealed with any of the King's Seals [nor Aulnage great nor little 3] be paid for the same. And that the Owners of such Cloths may freely sell the same Cloths not sealed without forfeiting any Thing to the King for the same, notwithstanding any Statute or Ordinance made to the contrary.

ITEM, Touching Felonies and Robberies done within any Seignory of South Wales: It is ordained and stablished, That the People of the Country where such Felons be born, received, or dwelling, shall take the same Felons, and bring them to the Gaol of the same Country where they shall be taken; or else they shall be charged and make Satisfaction of the Felonies and Robberies aforesaid to the Parties, and that by the Ordinance and Award of the Lord of the same Seignory.

ITEM, It is ordained and established, That no Thief nor Felon in Wales, openly known, be suffered to disclaim out of the Seigniory where the Felony was done, and that such Manner of disclaiming be utterly put out; and that as well the said Thieves openly known, as other

V. Where the Mayors of Towns and the Lords of ancient Demesne, &c. be named Disseisors in Writs, to take away their Franchise, the Writ shall abate.

ITEM, Whereas divers People do oftentimes sue Assises of Novel disseisin, or other Writs of Plea of Land (1) at the Common Law, of Lands, Tenements, and Rents being within franchised Towns, and ancient Demesne, against certain Persons, and cause to be named also in their said Assises and Writs, the Mayor and Bailiffs, and Commonalty of the Franchises, and the Lords and Bailiffs within ancient Demesne aforesaid, whereas of Truth they be not Disseissors nor Tenants of the said Lands Tenements or Rents so being in Plea, but named by Collusion and Fraud, to bar and exclude the said Mayors Bailiffs and Commonalty, and the said Lords and Bailiffs of ancient Demesne, of (1) their Franchises and Liberties, Cognisance and Jurisdiction of their Court before them: It is ordained and established, That in such Assises or Writs purchased or sued from henceforth, or at this present depending betwixt any Parties before any such Justices at the Common Law, in which such Mayor Bailiffs and Commonalty, or Lords [of 1] Bailiffs of ancient Demesne be named, that the same Justices shall first inquire by the said Assise in the Country, whether the said Mayor, Bailiffs, and Commonalty, or Lords or Bailiffs of ancient Demesne, if they require it before such Justices, be Disseisors or Tenants in that Case, or be named by Collusion and Fraud, as afore is said: And if it be found that they be not Disseisors nor Tenants of the said Lands, Tenements, or Rents, but acquit before the same Justices, and found that they be named by Collusion and Fraud in the Form aforesaid, that in such Case the Justices shall cause the said Writs of Assises, or other Writs purchased in the Form aforesaid, to be abated and adnulled; and that the said Plaintiff or Plaintiffs shall be in grievous Mercy of the King, notwithstanding that other Tenants or Disseisors be named [or '] found in such Assises or Writs.

VI. The Statute 7H. IV.c.10, as to the Measure of Cloth. repealed.

Pardon of incurred.

ITEM, Whereas in the Statute made (6) at Westminster the Seventh Year of the Reign of our said Sovereign Lord the King, it was ordained and established, that the Cloths of Ray should contain in Length xxviii Yards measured by the List, and in Breadth vi Quarters; and if the Makers of the said Cloths from that Time forth should make their Cloths of less Length or Breadth, they should forfeit their Cloths which should be found by the Aulneger of less Length or Breadth; as in the said Statute is more fully contained: Our said Sovereign Lord the King considering the said Statute in this behalf very grievous and prejudicial, by the Advice and Assent of the said Lords, and at the (7) Request of the said Commons hath ordained and established, That the Makers of the said Cloths of Ray, and the Sellers of the same, shall be as free in the making and selling of the same as they were before the said Parliament holden at Westminster: And that the said Statute made in the said Parliament, touching this Matter, be wholly adnulled and repealed, and of no Force nor Value (*). And moreover, our said Sovereign Lord the King of his especial Grace hath pardoned the Makers of the said Ray Cloths, and the Sellers of the same, the Forfeiture and all that to him pertaineth, or in any manner may pertain by Occasion thereof.

And that the Collectors of the same Disme Quinzime or Tax for the Time being, within such Towns, shall have Power by Authority of their Office to tax and assess such Foreigners according to the Quantity of their Goods, Chattels, and Possessions, being in the said Towns at the Days of the Grant of the said Disme, Quinzime, or Tax; and for the Sums whereto they be assessed or taxed, to distrain in every Place within the County, as well before that our said Lord the King be answered of the whole Sums that attain to such Towns, as after. Provided always, That no Man nor Woman be Two Times charged for any such Beasts, Goods, nor Chattels, in any wise by occasion thereof.

ITEM, Our said Sovereign Lord the King, considering how that the Money of his Realm of England is in divers Ways conveyed out of the same Realm to the Court of Rome in Exchange, by Provisors [or 1] Provisions purchased of the Pope, and Translations of Archbishopricks and Bishopricks, to the great impoverishing of the same Realm, hath ordained and established by the Assent aforesaid, That all the Statutes and Ordinances made against Provisors, Translations of Archbishopricks and Bishopricks, their Executors, Procurators, Notaries, Fautors, Maintainers, and Receivers, as well in the Times of King Edward the Third and King Richard the Second, as in the Time of our said Sovereign Lord the King that now is, with all the Pains and Additions to the same, shall be from henceforth firmly holden and kept in all Points; the Moderation of the said Statutes made before this Time to our said Sovereign Lord the King notwithstanding: And that from henceforth all the Elections of all Archbishopricks, Bishopricks, Abbies, Priories, Deanries, [and other Dignities, or any other Elections,] be free; without being in any wise interrupted by the said Pope, or by Commandment of our said Sovereign Lord the King. Provided always, That our said Sovereign Lord the King have as freely his Liberties and Prerogatives, as any of his noble Progenitors hath had before this Time, and as he himself had at the Time of the making of this Statute. And also the same our Sovereign Lord the King hath pardoned (6) all them that have purchased Provisions or Translations of Archbishopricks or Bishopricks purchased and executed [and 1] not executed before this First Day of December, and all their Procurators, Notaries, Fautors and Executors, all Manner of Trespasses, Contempts, Forfeitures, and Misprisions done by them or any of them concerning the said Purchases; so that they may (*) put their Grace in Execution, as well by themselves as by their Procurators, Notaries, and Executors aforesaid.

And therefore We command you that forthwith, on View of these Presents, the Statutes and Ordinances aforesaid, in the several Places within your Bailiwick where it may be most expedient and necessary, publicly on our Behalf you do cause to be proclaimed and notified, and, as far as in you lieth, to be firmly and inviolably holden and observed, according to the Tenour of the same. And this in no wise omit. Witness the King at Westminster the First Day of February in the Ninth Year.

ITEM, Whereas in the Statute made at [Cant.] the xii Year of the Reign of King Richard, amongst other Things it was accorded and assented, That the Servants and Labourers of Husbandry, and Labourers and Servants of Artificers, and of Victuallers, should have Bows and Arrows, and use the same the Sundays and other festival Days, and utterly leave playing at the Balls, as well Hand-ball as Foot-ball, and other Games called Coits, Dice, [Bowling, and Kails, and other such unthrifty Games, and that the Sheriffs, Mayors, Bailiffs, and Constables, shall have Power to arrest all that do contrary; as in the said Statute is more fully contained: Our Sovereign Lord the King will, That the said Statute be firmly holden and kept; joined to the same, that every such Labourer or Servant that doth contrary to the same Statute, shall have Imprisonment by Six Days. And the Mayors and Sheriffs, or the Mayors and Bailiffs of Cities and Boroughs, and the Constables in other Towns, shall have Power to put this Statute in execution from Time to Time; and if they do not thereof Execution, the same Mayors and Sheriffs, or Mayors and Bailiffs aforesaid, shall pay to the King for every Default xxs; and the Constables or Constable of every Town that doth not like Execution of this Statute, shall pay (5) for every their or his Default vi s. ITEM, Because that Gally Half-pence do commonly run in the Realm for Payment, in Derogation of the King's Crown, and in great Deceit of the common People: It is ordained and stablished, That the said Gally Half-pence shall never be current in Payment nor in other Manner within the Realm of England, upon Pain of Forfeiture thereof. And moreover that the Gally Half-pence, in whose Hands soever they be found within the Realm, shall be forfeit to our Sovereign Lord the King, after the Two Months next ensuing the Proclamation of this Statute. And also the same our Lord the King will, that all the Statutes and Ordinances made before this Time by him, or by his noble Progenitors, not repealed, as well of (7) Money of Scotland, as of the Money of other Realms and Parts beyond the Sea, be holden and kept, and put in due Execution.

ITEM, Whereas by the Statute made the Seventh Year of the Reign of our said Lord the King that now is, it was ordained, That every [whole coloured 8] Cloth made within the Realm should contain by Assise the Length of Eight and twenty Yards by the Crest, and every Dozen of Cloth [of the Length9] of Fourteen Yards by the Crest, and the Rays measured by the List should contain the same Length, that is to say, the whole Cloth Eight and twenty Yards, and the Dozen Fourteen Yards; And certain Aulnegers thereto assigned through the Realm, should take their Charge in the Exchequer, well against this Statute; and the same Party pursuing shall have for his Labour the Fourth Part of the Penalty of Ten or Twenty Pounds aforesaid, according as the Case shall happen: Saving to Lords and other their Franchises, if they have any in this Case.

ITEM, Whereas our Sovereign Lord the King hath [had'] the Custom and Subsidy in the Form contained in the Grant of his Commons, and amongst other of every Cloth of Scarlet, and of other Cloth of whole Grain a certain Custom; Now so it is, that certain Merchants Aliens, dwelling in the City of London and other Towns, have taken and do hold great Houses, in which they be sole Inhabitants, and do buy sometimes as in a Year 1000 or 2000 Cloths of fine White, or more, and do dye the same of their own Grain in Scarlet, or in Sanguine, or in other Colours of whole Grain or half Grain, and afterward do the same Cloths to be cut to small Pieces of v. or vi. Yards, or more, or less, and thereof make divers Garments, and pack the same in their said Houses, and in the same Packs subtilly do pack fine Wool, Gold and Silver in Plate, or sometime they put such Wool, Gold, and Silver in Barrels and other Vessels, and [bring 1] the same out of the Realm without paying any Custom or Subsidy for the same, under the Colour of such Garments so made, because that such Garments be not customable; and so our said Sovereign Lord the King, by such Merchants Aliens, so dwelling alone in their Houses, is daily defrauded and greatly deceived of his Custom and Subsidy, to his great Damage and Prejudice in this Behalf: It is therefore ordained and established, That all Merchants Aliens from henceforth shall pay the Customs and Subsidies as well for such Garments after the Rate, that is to say, if iiii. v. or vi. such Garments do contain One Cloth of whole Grain, that then they shall pay the Custom and Subsidy as for a whole Cloth of Scarlet, if less, less, or if more, more; as also of grained Cloths and all other Cloths of Wool: And moreover, it is accorded and assented in the said Parliament, that Commissions shall be made to certain Persons, to enquire if the said Aliens have any Thing done or attempted to the contrary of the said Statutes made before this Time in this Case, and thereof to certify in the King's Chancery.

ITEM, Whereas in the Statute made at Westminster, the xiiii Year of King Richard the Second, it was ordained and established, that for every Exchange, which from that Time forth should be made by Merchants to the Court of Rome, or elsewhere, that the said Merchants should be firmly and surely bound in the Chancery, to buy within Three Months next after the said Exchange made, Merchandises of the Staple, as Wool, Leather, Woolfels, Lead, Tin, Butter, Cheese, Cloth, or other Commodities of the Land, to the Value of the Sum so exchanged, upon Forfeiture of the same; It is ordained and established, That the said Statute be firmly holden and kept, and put in due Execution: Added thereto, that the Chancellor of England for the Time being, shall from Fifteen Days to Fifteen Days send the Estreats of the Writs of Exchanges into the Exchequer of our Sovereign Lord the King, and that the Treasurer and Barons of the said Exchequer have Power by Authority of Parliament to examine the [Customer 3] in this Case, and to punish them that shall be found guilty against the Form of the said Statute, according to the [continue '] of the same.

And that this Statute hold place and be in force as long as shall please the King for Salvation of his Prerogative.

ITEM, Whereas in the Statute made the First Year of the Reign of our Sovereign Lord the King that now is, it was ordained, That no Archbishop, Bishop, Abbot, nor Prior, nor none other Man of Holy Church nor Temporal, of what Estate or Condition that he were, should give any Livery of Cloth to any Person, but only to his Menials and Officers, and to those which be of his Council, as well Spiritual as Temporal, learned in the one Law and the other, upon Pain to make Fine and Ransom at the King's Will; And after in the Statute made the vii. Year of the same our said Sovereign Lord the King, it was ordained and stablished, That as well the said Statute as the Statute of Livery of Hats, made in the Time of King Richard the Second, should be firmly holden and kept, and put in due Execution; joined to the same, That if any Knight, or any other Person of less Estate, do give any such Livery of Cloth or of Hats, against the Form of the said Statutes, that he shall incur the Pain of an Hundred Shillings for every such Livery of Cloth or of Hats, to be paid to the King as often as he doth the contrary to the same Statute or Ordinance; And that he that receiveth any such Livery of Cloth or of Hats, shall likewise incur the Pain of Forty Shillings, to be paid to our Sovereign Lord the King, as afore is said; And he that will sue shall have the One Half of such [Pains 1] for his Labour and Travail, and that such [Pains '] be in no wise pardoned; And moreover that no Congregation nor Company [in any wise make 3 any such Livery of Cloth or of Hats at their own Cost, upon Pain that every Man of the same Congregation or Company, that doth in any wise the contrary of the said Ordinances [and Statutes, 1] shall pay to our Sovereign Lord the King xl s. except only the Guilds and Fraternities, and also People of Crafts within Cities and Boroughs in the Realm of England, which be founded and ordained to a good Intent and Purpose; and the Justices of Assises shall have Power to enquire from Time to Time in their Sessions of the Matters aforesaid, and the same to certify in the King's Bench; Provided always that in Time of War it shall be lawful to the Lords, Knights, and Esquires, [and all other Gentlemen,] which travail [for our said Sovereign Lord the King] in such War, to give their Livery of Clothing or of Hats, such and in such Guise as to them best shall seem for the Time in such War, without being any wise molested, grieved, or inquieted in this Behalf by force of the said [Ordinance or] Statute: Our Sovereign Lord (5) King [Henry the Fourth that now is,] considering the said Ordinances and Statutes very profitable for the Ease and Quietness of him and all his Realm, by the Advice and Assent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and at the Special Request of the said Commons will and granteth, that the said Statutes be holden and kept, and put in due Execution after the Form and Effect of the same.

VI. The Statute 11H.IV.c.5 &c. as to Gally Halfpence and foreign Money, confirmed.

ITEM, It is ordained and stablished, That the Statutes made of Customers, Comptrollers, Lieutenants of the chief Butler, and of Searchers, the First and Fourth Years of our said Lord the King that now is, be kept and holden: And moreover it is ordained and established, That all Manner of Customers and Comptrollers, Gaugers of Wine, and Searchers through the Realm, shall be continually resident and abiding upon their Offices, and in special at the Time of the Charge and Discharge of Ships and Vessels entering in the Ports of England, and passing out of the same; so that no such Officer, after the Time above named, be absent from his said Office by Three Weeks at the most, upon Pain to lose his said Office; unless he be commanded and charged in special of Record to be in the King's Courts, or otherwise in the King's Service of Record, as afore is said.

ITEM, Whereas in the Statute made the Eleventh Year of our Lord the King that now is, it was ordained and established, That Gally Half-pence from [henceforth 1] should not run in Payment, nor in other Manner within the Realm of England, upon Pain of Forfeiture of the same; and moreover that the same Gally Half-pence, in whose Hands they might be found within the said Realm, should be forfeit to our said Lord the King; and also that (5) the Statutes and Ordinances made by our said Lord the King, or his noble Progenitors, as well of the Money of Scotland, as (6) of other Realms and Parts beyond the Sea, should be holden and kept, and put in due Execution: Our Lord the King, considering the great Deceit, as well of the Gally Half-pence as of the Money of other Realms (7) beyond the Sea, will that the same Statutes be firmly holden and kept, and put in due Execution in all Points.

STATUTES OF THE FIRST YEAR OF K. HENRY V.

In Margine Rotuli.

OUR Lord the King, at his Parliament holden at Westminster in [the Third Week of '] Easter, the First Year of his Reign, by the Advice and Assent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and at the special Instance and Request of the Commons of [this] Realm, hath ordained and established divers Statutes and Ordinances in the Form following.

FIRST, That the Statutes [of 3] the Election of the Knights of the Shires to come to the Parliament, be holden and kept in all Points; adjoining to the same, That the Knights of the Shires which from henceforth shall be chosen in every Shire, be not chosen unless they be resident within the [Shire 1] where they shall be chosen, the Day of the Date of the Writ of the Summons of the Parliament; and that the Knights and Esquires, and others which shall be Choosers of those Knights of the Shires, be also resident within the same Shires, in Manner and Form as is aforesaid. And moreover It is ordained and established, That the Citizens and Burgesses of the Cities and Boroughs be chosen Men, Citizens and Burgesses resiant, dwelling and free in the same Cities and Boroughs, and no other in any wise.

ITEM, Because that great Complaint hath been made to our said Lord the King in [this present 5] Parliament, for that the Statutes made in the Time of his noble Progenitors [Kings of England,] of the [levying 6] and straiting of Wears, Mills, Stanks, Stakes, and Kidels, be not kept according to the Form and Effect of the same Statutes, to the great Damage of the People (7) of the Realm [of England]; our said Lord the King [that now is,] by the Advice and Asssent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and at the Request of the said Commons, will and grant, That the said Statutes [and Ordinances] be surely holden and kept, and put in due Execution.

ITEM, Whereas many of the King's liege People which have Manors, Lands, or Tenements, by Purchase or by Descent of Inheritance or in any other Manner, intending to be in Peace and Rest in their said Tenures as they were wont to be, divers evil disposed Persons, some of their own Head, and some by false Conspiracy and Covin, subtilly imagine and forge of new divers false Deeds and Miniments, and them [do 8] openly to be pronounced, published, and read, to [trouble'] and change the [Lands'] of good People of the Country, and to undo and trouble the Possessions and Titles of the said [King's] liege People, by the which Imagination and Falsity many of the aforesaid liege People be troubled and vexed (3) and at all Times abiding in Doubt of their Possessions and Estate: Our Sovereign Lord the King willing to [purvey4] a Remedy in this Case, by the Advice and Assent aforesaid, and at the Request of the said Commons hath ordained and established, That the Party so grieved shall have his Suit in that case, and recover his Damages, and the Party convict shall make Fine and Ransom at the King's Pleasure.

ITEM, Forasmuch as the King's liege People dare not pursue or complain of the Extorsions and of the Oppressions to them done by the Officers of Sheriffs, that is to say, by Under-Sheriffs, Clerks of Sheriffs, Receivers and Bailiffs of Sheriffs, because that the said Under-Sheriffs, Clerks, Receivers, and Bailiffs (5) be (6) continually from Year to Year abiding with the Sheriffs interchangeably [out of one Office into another]; Our Lord the King, by the Advice and Assent aforesaid, and at the Request of the said Commons, hath ordained and established, That they which be Bailiffs of Sheriffs by one Year, shall be in no such Office by (8) Three Years next following, except Bailiffs of Sheriffs which be inheritable in their Sheriffwicks: And that no Under-Sheriff, Sheriff's Clerk, Receiver, nor Sheriff's Bailiff, be Attorney in (*) the King's Courts during the Time that he is in Office with any such Sheriff.

ITEM, It is ordained and established, That in every original Writ of Actions Personals, (10) Appeals, and Indictments, [and"] in which the Exigent shall be awarded, [in "] the Names of the Defendants in such Writs Original, Appeals and Indictments, Additions shall be made of their Estate or Degree, or Mystery, and of the Towns or Hamlets, or Places and Counties, of the which they were, or be, or in which they be or were conversant: And if by Process upon the said Original Writs, Appeals, or Indictments, in the which the said Additions be omitted, any Utlagaries be pronounced, that they be void, frustrate, and holden for none; and that before the Utlagaries pronounced, the said Writs and Indictments shall be abated by the Exception of the Party, [where 13] in the same the said Additions be omitted: Provided always, That though the said Writs of [Additions 14] Personals be not according to [the Records and Deeds,15] by the Surplusage of the Additions aforesaid, that for that Cause they be not abated; and that the Clerks of the Chancery, under whose Names such Writs shall go forth written, shall not leave out or make Omission of the said Additions as is afore said, upon Pain to be punished, [and to make 16] a Fine to the King, by the Discretion of the Chancellor. And this Ordinance shall begin to hold Place at the Suit of the Party, from the Feast of St. Michael next ensuing forward.

ITEM, Whereas in the Time of this Rebellion of Wales, many of the King's lawful liege People, as well Englishmen as Welshmen have been in divers Parts of Wales upon the Correction of Rebels there, by the Commandment of the same our Sovereign Lord the King and his Council, at the which Time some of the said Rebels, as well on Horseback as on Foot, found armed in making of War against their Faith and Ligeance were slain, and some maimed, beaten, Process against such Offenders.

VI. Breaches of Truces and Safe-Conducts of the King, declared to be High Treason.

Robberies, and divers other Offences, to many of [the '] faithful liege People of the same County, by People dwelling in the same County within the [Franchise 1] of Tyndal and Exhamshire, where the King's Writ runneth not, now of late have been perpetrated otherwise than nave been done or known before this Time, to so [many Perils 3] of the said liege People of our Lord the King, that without due Remedy in this Behalf provided, they dare no longer there dwell, because that such Offenders be so favoured by such Franchises; Our said Lord the King, by the Advice and Assent aforesaid, and at the Request of the said Commons, hath ordained and established, That if any Person of the said Franchises of Tyndal and Exhamshire, resiant or dwelling in the same, of what Estate or Condition that he be, do any Murders, Treasons, Manslaughters, or Robberies, or Consent to do them, out of the said Franchises of Tyndal and Exhamshire, Process shall be made against him by the Common Law until he be outlawed; and that after such Outlawry pronounced and returned, the Justices before whom such Outlawry is returned shall make thereof Certificate to such Minister or Ministers of the said Franchises, as to them shall seem best in this Behalf, according to their Discretion; and such Felon shall be taken by such Minister or Ministers, and his Lands and Tenements, Goods and Chattels, being within the same Franchise, seised into the Hands of the Lords of the same Franchises of Tyndal and Exhamshire for the Time being, as forfeit; and that the other Lands and Tenements, Goods and Chattels of such Felon, being out of the same Franchises, shall wholly remain to the King, and to other Lords having thereof [Franchise '] as forfeit; Saving always to the King the Forfeitures of such Murderers, Traitors, Manslayers, Robbers, and other Offenders, and of other Things which to him do belong as of the Right of his Crown.

ITEM, Forasmuch as before this Time divers People, comprised within the Truces, made as well by our Lord the King that now is as by his Noble Father, and also divers other People having Safe Conducts, as well of our Lord the King that now is as of his (4) Noble Father, have been some slain, robbed, and spoiled by the King's liege People and Subjects, as well upon the [main³] Sea, as within the Ports and Coasts of the Sea of England Ireland and of Wales, whereby the said Truces and Safe Conducts have been broken and offended, to the great Dishonour and Slander of the King, and against his Dignity; and the said Manslayers, Robbers, Spoilers, and Offenders of the said Truces and [the King's Safe Conducts,6] as is afore declared, have been by divers of the King's liege People and Subjects within the Coasts of divers Counties, received, abetted, procured, [concealed,7] hired, sustained, and maintained: Our said Lord the King, by the Advice and Assent aforesaid, and at the Request of the said Commons, hath ordained and declared, That such Manslaughter, Robbery, Spoiling, Breaking of Truce and [Safe Conducts, 6] and voluntary Receit, Abetment, Procurement, [Concealing,*] Hiring, Sustaining, and Maintaining of such Persons, to be done in Time to come by any of the King's liege People and Subjects within the [Realm 9] of England, Ireland, and Wales, or upon the [main 5] Sea, shall be adjudged and determined for High Treason done against the King's Crown and his Dignity. And (10) in every Port of the Sea shall be made and assigned from henceforth by the King,

And also that the said Conservator have like and the same Power to punish all them which be or shall be indicted or accused before him, as well at the King's Suit as at the Party's, of any Thing to be done against the [Truce and the King's Safe Conducts'] upon the [main 3] Sea, out of the Body of the Counties and Liberties of the Realm of England, and out of the (1) Franchise of the Five Ports, by such Process, Examination, Proofs, Determination, Judgement, and Execution, as (4) Admirals of the Kings of England before this Time reasonably, according to the old Custom and Law upon the [main 3] Sea used, have done or used; [Saving 5] the Determination of the Death of [a Man 6] in this Behalf, and the Execution of the same, shall be always reserved to the said Admiral, or to his general Lieutenant out of the said Franchises of the (1) Five Ports. And that the said Conservator have full Power and Authority to inquire, as well within Liberties and Franchises as without, by Men inhabiting within the Body of the County and Liberty where the said Port is, of all such Treasons and Offences to be done against the [Truces, and against the King's Safe Conducts,'] within the Body of the County and Liberty where the said Port is, and to make against those Persons before him so (7) indicted, such Process as here followeth, that is to say, by Capias and Exigent, which shall as well go into the Counties of which such Men so indicted be supposed to be, as into the Counties where such Indictments be taken; which Capias and Exigent aforesaid in both Counties shall be [returned*] at one (9) Day, and that the first Capias in both Counties have Day of Return by a Month at the least; And in case that the Capias and Exigent be awarded in this Behalf, that the Names and Surnames of such Persons so (7) indicted, and the Town and the County, and Mystery whereof they be, shall be specified [and declared] in the Indictments and Processes of the same. And that the said Conservator have full Power to hear, at every Man's Suit which will complain before him[-self, or his Lieutenant,] of any Offence done to the Party against the said Truces and Safe Conducts. And that Two Men learned in the Law be named and associate in every Commission of our Lord the King to be made to such Conservator. And that the said Conservator, and the said Men learned in the Law, in the (1) Commission to him associate and assigned, shall have full Power and Authority to make Deliverance, according to the Law [and Usage] of the Land, of such Men so indicted before the said Conservator, of Things to be done within the Body of the County or Liberty where the said Port is, against the said [Truce and the King's Safe Conducts,'] and to determine such Suits commenced at any Man's Suit which will complain before the said Conservator of any Offence done to him against the said [Truce "] and Safe Conducts, and thereof to make due Redress and Remedy. 1 Truces and Safe Conducts of the King,

And the said Admiral shall have the Forfeitures in all Cases out of the same Franchise of Five Ports aforesaid, as he hath had, and hath been accustomed of Right to the Office of the Admiral of England, before the making of this Ordinance. And that all such Conservators to be made within the said Five Ports have the same Authority and Power by the King's Letters Patents, and Commission of the Warden of the same Ports for the Time being, to inquire of such Offences to be done upon the [main '] Sea within the Franchises of the (1) Five Ports out of the Body of the Counties, and to punish all them which shall be before the said Conservator of the same Offences indicted or accused, by like Process, Examination, Proofs, Determination, Judgement, and Execution, as the said Admirals reasonably, according to the old Custom and Law upon the Sea used, have done and used out of the said Franchise of the Five Ports; saving that the Determination of the Death of [a Man 3] in this Behalf, and the Execution of the same, shall be within the same Franchise of the Five Ports reserved to the said Warden, or to his general Lieutenant there: And that the same Warden shall have all the Forfeitures there, in all such Cases as he hath had, and [have '] been accustomed of Right to the Office of the Warden of the Five Ports aforesaid before this Time: And that the said Conservators, and every of them, have Power to make full Execution of this Ordinance in the Form aforesaid. And (1) this Ordinance shall hold Place and Force, for any Thing to be done or attempted against this same Ordinance, after the Proclamation of this Ordinance and Declaration made.

ITEM, Forasmuch as great Rumours, Congregations, and Insurrections, here in the Realm of England, by divers of the King's liege People, as well by them which were of the Sect of Heresy commonly called Lollardry, as by other of their Confederacy, Excitation, and Abetment, now of late were made, to the Intent to adnull, [destroy,] and subvert the Christian Faith, and the Law of God [and Holy Church] within this same Realm [of England,] and also to destroy [the same our Sovereign Lord the King of and all other Manner of Estates of the same Realm [of England,] as well Spiritual as Temporal, and also all Manner of Policy, and finally the Laws of the Land; The same our Sovereign Lord the King, to the Honour of God, and in Conservation and Fortification of the Christian Faith, and also in Salvation of his Royal Estate, and of the Estate of all his Realm, willing against the Malice of such Hereticks and Lollards to provide a more open Remedy and (7) Punishment than hath been had and used in the Case heretofore, so that for fear of the same Laws and Punishment, such Heresies and Lollardries may the rather cease in Time to come; by the Advice and Assent aforesaid, and at the Prayer of the said Commons, hath ordained and established, That first the Chancellor, Treasurer, Justices of the one Bench, and of the other, 1) Justices of Peace, Sheriffs, Mayors, and Bailiffs of Cities and Towns, and all other Officers, having Governance of People, which now be or hereafter for the Time shall be, shall make an Oath in taking of their Charges and Occupations, to put their whole Power and Diligence to put out and [do to be put out cease and destroy 9] all Manner of Heresies and Errors, commonly called Lollardries, within the Places where they exercise their Offices and Occupations from Time to Time, with all their Power; and that they assist the Ordinaries and their Commissaries, and them favour and maintain, as often as they or any of them [to that'] shall be required by the same Ordinaries or their Commissaries; So that when the said Officers and Ministers travel or ride to arrest any Lollard, or to make Assistance at the Instance and Request of the Ordinaries or their Commissaries by virtue of this Statute, that the same Ordinaries and Commissaries shall pay for their [Cost '] reasonably; and that the King's Services, to the which the same Officers be first sworn, be preferred [before 3] all other Statutes for the Liberty of Holy Church and the Ministers of the same, and in especial for the Correction and Punishment of the Hereticks and Lollards before this Time made and not repealed being in their force. And also that all Persons convict of Heresy, of what Estate, Condition, or Degree that they be, by the said Ordinaries or [other 1] Commissaries left to the Secular Power according to the Laws of Holy Church, shall lose and forfeit all their Lands and Tenements, which they have in Fee Simple in the Manner as followeth; that is to say, That the King have all the Lands and Tenements, which the said Convicts have in Fee Simple, and (5) holden of him immediately, as forfeit; and that the other Lords, of whom the Lands and Tenements of such Convicts be holden, immediately after that the King is [so 6] seised and answered of the Year, the Day, and the Waste, have Livery out of the King's Hands of the Lands and Tenements aforesaid of them so holden, as it hath been used in the Case of Attainder of Felony; except the Lands and Tenements which be holden of the Ordinaries or their Commissaries, before whom any such Persons impeached of Heresy be convict. which Lands and Tenements intirely shall remain to the King as forfeit; And moreover that all the Goods and Chattels of these Persons so convicted, be forfeit to our Sovereign Lord the King; so that no Person convict of Heresy, and left to the Secular Power after the Laws of Holy Church, shall forfeit his Lands before that he be dead; And if any such Person so convict be infeoffed, be it by Fine, by Deed, or without Deed, in Lands or Tenements, Rents or Services in Fee or otherwise (7) or hath any other Possessions or Chattels by Gift or Grant of any Person or Persons to [another's Use, 8] than to the Use of such Convicts, That the same Lands nor Tenements, Rents nor Services, nor such other Possessions, nor Chattels shall be forfeit to our Sovereign Lord the King in no wise. And moreover that the Justices of the King's Bench, and Justices of Peace, and Justices of Assise, have full Power to enquire of all them which hold any Errors or Heresies, as Lollards, and [which 9] be their Maintainers, Receivers, Favorers and Sustainers, common Writers of such Books, as well of [the 10] Sermons as of their Schools, Conventicles, Congregations, and Confederacies; and that this Clause be put in Commissions of the Justices of the Peace; and if any Persons be indicted of any (") Points aforesaid, the said Justices shall have Power to award against them a Capias, and the Sheriff shall be bound to arrest the Person or Persons so indited as soon as he may them find by him or by his Officers. And Forasmuch as the Conisance of Heresy, Errors, and Lollardries belongeth to the Judges of Holy Church, and not to secular Judges, such Persons indited shall be delivered to the Ordinaries of the Places, or to their Commissaries, by Indentures betwixt them to be made within x. STATUTE THE SECOND.

OUR Lord the King, at his Parliament holden at Westminster, the Monday next after the Utas of St. Martin, the Second Year of his Reign, by the Advice and Assent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and at the special Instance and Request of the Commons of his Realm then there assembled, hath ordained, made, and established divers Ordinances and Statutes in the Manner and Form as followeth.

FIRST, That the Justices of the Peace from henceforth to be made within the Counties of England, shall be made of the most sufficient Persons dwelling in the same Counties, by the Advice of the Chancellor and of the King's Council, without taking other Persons dwelling in Foreign Counties to execute such Office, except the Lords and the Justices of Assises now named and to be named by the King and his Council; and except all the King's chief Stewards of the Lands and Seigniories of the Dutchy of Lancaster, in the North Parts, and in the South, for the Time being.

ITEM, Whereas it is contained in the Statute made the xxxvj. Year of King Edward the Third after the Conquest, That no Parish Priest nor yearly Priest should take but v. Marks, or vj. at the most for their Wages by Year; [And where'] the Parish Priests which now be, will not serve but for x. li. xij. Marks or x. Marks by Year at the least, against the Form of the said Statute, (') to the great Damage of the King's liege People, as he hath perceived by the Complaint of the Commons of his Land: The King willing for the same to provide Remedy in Ease of the said Commons, hath ordained and stablished, That no yearly Chaplain within the Realm shall take from henceforth more for his whole Wages by Year, that is to say, for his Board, Apparel, and other Necessaries, but vij Marks; nor the Parish Priests, which be or shall be retained to serve Cures, shall take from henceforth for their whole Wages by Year, that is to say, for the Things aforesaid but viij Marks; unless it be by Licence of the Ordinary, so that the whole Sum (3) pass not Nine Marks.

ITEM, The King considering the great Mischiefs and Disherisons which daily happen through all the Realm [of England,] as well in case of Death of [a Man, 1] as in case of Freehold, and in other Cases, by them which pass in Inquests in the said Cases, which be common Jurors, and other that have but little to live upon but by such Inquest, and which have nothing to lose because of their false Oaths, whereby they offend their Consciences the more [largely 1]; and willing thereof to have Correction and Amendment, hath ordained and established, by Assent of the Lords and Commons aforesaid, That no Person shall be admitted to pass in any Inquest upon Trial of the Death of [a Man, 1] nor in any Inquest betwixt Party and Party in Plea real, nor in Plea Personal, whereof the Debt or the [Damage o] declared amount to Forty Marks, if the same Person have not Lands or Tenements of the yearly Value of Forty Shillings above all Charges of the same: So that it be challenged by the Party, that any such Person so impannelled in the same Cases hath not Lands or Tenements of the yearly Value of Forty Shillings above the Charges, as afore is said.

ITEM, For that the Goldsmiths of England, of their (7) Covin and [Ordinances,8] will not sell the Wares of their Mystery gilt, but at the Double Price of the Weight of the Silver of the same, which seemeth to the King very outrageous and too excessive a Price; the King for the Ease of his People, willing to remedy the same, hath ordained and established, That all the Goldsmiths of England shall gild no Silver worse than of the Allay of the English Sterling, and that they take for a Pound of Troy gilt but Forty-six Shillings Eight-pence at the most, and of greater Weight, and less, according to the Quantity and Rate of the same Sum; and that which shall be by them gilt from henceforth shall be of reasonable [Price,9] and not excessive; and if any Goldsmith do contrary to this Statute, he shall forfeit to the King the Value of the Thing so sold.

ITEM, Forasmuch as since the Rebellion of the Welchmen now late reformed, many of the Rebels of Wales, with other their Adherents, with Force and Arms in the Manner of War, sometimes by Day, and sometimes by Night, have come into the Counties of Salop, Hereford, and Gloucester, and [in "] other Places bordering upon the same Countries, and in divers Woods and other Places there hid and lodged, have traiterously

STATUTES OF THE FOURTH YEAR.

OUR Lord the King, at his Parliament holden at Westminster the Monday the [Sixth'] Day of March, the Third Year of his Reign, by the Advice and Assent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and at the Request of the Commons assembled in the same Parliament, hath ordained and established divers Statutes and Ordinances in the Form following.

I. Liberties confirmed:

Exceptions.

II.
Privilege to Abbots, &c. to make their Attornies in the Courts of certain Wapentakes.

FIRST, That Holy Church have all her Liberties and Franchises; and that (*) the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and other the King's liege People, having Liberties and Franchises, and all the Cities and Boroughs of the Realm, have and enjoy all their Liberties and Franchises, which they have had of the Grants of the King's Progenitors, and of the Confirmation of the same our Lord the King, or his (3) Grant; except always those Franchises and Liberties which be repealed in this present Parliament, and those that be repealable by the Common Law.

ITEM, Forasmuch as there be divers Abbots, Priors, and other religious Persons, whereof some be of the King's Foundation, and some of the Foundation of other Lords of the Realm [of England,] dwelling as well within the County of Lancaster as in the County of York, whereof some have Possessions within the Wapentakes of Stancliffe Wapentake, and Frendles Wapentake, in Craven in the (4) County of York, and some not, against whom divers Persons daily by Abettment and Procurement of the Bailiffs, Approvers of the Courts of the said Wapentakes, and (5) the Stewards that hold Pleas in the said Courts, and of Fermours of the Profits and Revenues of the said Courts, feign and procure by them and other of their Covin and Assent, divers Plaints (6) Pleas of Debt, and Trespass, and other Pleas against them in the Courts of the said Wapentakes; and there whereas the same Abbots and Priors come to the said Courts, [for the Defence of 7] such wrongful Plaints and Pleas, and pray and profer to the Stewards and Bailiffs of the said Courts to make their Attornies in such Pleas; the said Stewards and Bailiffs the same refuse, and will not receive such Attornies of such Abbots and Priors in any Plea of Debt or Trespass, nor in any other Plea; and that moreover the same Stewards and Bailiffs of their own Authority do amerce the said Abbots and Priors for every Plaint, at the first Time xij d. and at every other Time for every of the said Plaints x s. and xx s. and more at their own Will;

The Name of Bailiffs of Lincoln changed to Sheriffs, by Charter, in 11 Hep-IV.

Upon false Verdict in the County of the City of Lincoln, Attaint may be brought in the County of Lincoln.

The King willing to remove such Mischief, hath ordained and established, That all the Incumbents of every Benefice of Holy Church, of the Patronage, Collation, or Presentation of Spiritual Patrons, may peaceably and quietly enjoy, and shall enjoy their said Benefices, without being inquieted, molested, or any wise grieved by any (') Colour of such Provisions, (') Licences, and Acceptations whatsoever; and that all the Licences and Pardons upon and [by3] such Provisions made in any Manner, shall be void and of no Value. And if any feel himself grieved, molested, or inquieted in any wise from henceforth by any, by Colour of such Provisions, Licences, Pardons, or Acceptations, that the same Molesters, Grievers, [and 1] Inquieters, and every of them, shall suffer and incur the [Pain 1] and Punishments contained in the Statutes (5) of Provisors before this Time made, and that by Process of Præmunire facias formed upon the Case; and that the Party which shall sue by the same Writ, shall recover his Treble Damages, if the Defendants named in the same Writ, or any of them, be convict in that Behalf.

ITEM, Whereas by the Statute made in the Parliament holden at Westminster the Thirteenth Year of (6) King Richard the Second, (7) It was ordained and stablished, That in Assises, Juries, and all other Inquests, which thenceforth should be taken betwixt Party and Party, before the Mayor and Bailiffs of the City of Lincoln, which for the Time should be, if any of the Parties then did [complain him 8] of a false Oath made by such Assises, Juries, or Inquests, that the Attaint should be granted to him, and the Record should be sent by Writ into the King's Bench, or into the Common Bench; and that the Sheriff should array the Panel of the Jury of such Attaint, of Foreigners, without sending to the Franchise of the said City; and (°) the Justices should take the same Jury of the same Foreigners, notwithstanding any Franchise granted to the said City, or any other Usage to the contrary; Nevertheless, Forasmuch as the Lord Henry, late King of England, Father to our Sovereign Lord the King aforesaid, the Twenty-first Day of November, the [Thirteenth 10] Year of his Reign, by his Letters Patents, amongst others, granted to the Mayor and Commonalty of the said City, that the Name of Bailiffs of the same City should be translated into the Name of Sheriffs; and that the same City, the Suburbs, and Precinct of the same, except the Castle (") of Lincoln, and the Walls and Ditches of the same, should for ever be called The County of the City of Lincoln; divers People be and have been in Doubt, whether a Man that will complain of a false Oath made in the County of the said City [after, by Force of the said Statute, should "] have a Writ of Attaint directed to the Sheriff of the County of Lincoln, to be arrayed by the People of the same County, or not, and also of other Articles and Points of the said Statute: The King willing to remove all Manner of Ambiguities and Doubts in this Behalf, hath ordained, granted, and established, That in Assises, Juries, and all other Inquests which be and shall be taken betwixt Party and Party, before the Mayor and Bailiffs, [and before the 13] Sheriff of the County of the City of Lincoln, which for the Time is, and shall be, or any of them, if any of the said Parties do complain of a false Oath made by such Assises, Juries, [and 13] Inquests, a Writ of Attaint shall be granted to him, (") directed to the Sheriff of the said County of Lincoln for the Time being, and the [same'] Record shall be sent by a Writ into the King's Bench, or into the Common Bench; and that the Sheriff of the County of Lincoln, which for the Time shall be, shall array the Panel of the Jury of such Attaint of People of the County of Lincoln; and that the Justices of the King and of his Heirs shall take the same Jury of People of the County of Lincoln, according to the Intent and Effect of the said Statute; notwithstanding the said Letters Patents, or any Thing therein contained, or any Possession or other Thing by Force of the same Letters had or made, or any Franchise granted or to be granted to the Citizens of the said City, or to their Successors, or other Usage to the contrary, or that the said City of Lincoln is so made [incorporate.']

ITEM, Because that before this Time great Doubt and Ambiguity hath been, whether that Clipping, Washing, and Filing of the Money of the Land, ought to be judged Treason, or not, Forasmuch as no mention thereof is made in the Declaration of the Articles of Treason made in the Parliament holden the Twenty-fifth Year of (1) King Edward [the Third; 1] the same our Lord the King, willing to [decide 5] such Doubt, and to put the same in a Certainty, hath declared in this present Parliament, that such Clipping, Washing, and Filing shall be adjudged for Treason; and (6) they which so do clip, wash, and file the Money of the Land, shall be judged Traitors to the King and to the Realm, and shall incur the Pain of Treason.

ITEM, Because counterfeiting, clipping, (7) washing, and other [Falsity of Money 8] of the Land, is much more used, and daily doth more abound than it was wont, for that the Punishment of the same pertaineth not to any [Judges 9] of the Realm, but to the King's Justices before himself, or (10) by special Commissions thereto assigned, [and it is very likely there will be Destruction"] of the (") Money, unless [hasty "] Execution and Remedy be provided, as the King by the grievous Complaint of the Commons hath perceived; Our said Lord the King willing to remedy the same, hath ordained and established, That the King's Justices assigned (") to take Assises in all the Counties of England shall have Power by the King's Commission to hear and determine in their Sessions, as well of the counterfeiting, and of the bringing of such false Money into the Realm, as of clipping, washing, and every other [Falsity 15] of the said Money: And that the Justices of Peace through the Realm shall have power by the King's commission to inquire of all such Matters, and thereupon to make Process by Capias only against those which before them shall be thereof indicted.

ITEM, Whereas the Commons of the Realm have oftentimes in divers Parliaments complained of that, that [divers 16] Ordinaries do take for the Probate of a Testament, and other Things pertaining to the Offices in this Behalf, sometime Forty Shillings, or [Fifty '7] Shillings, and sometime more, against Right and Law, and otherwise than was wont to be paid for them, in the Time of King Edward [the Third, 1] that is to say, Two Shillings Sixpence, or Five Shillings at the most, whereby the Testament of the Testator may not be executed, according to the last Will of the same Testator, to the great Damage and Hinderance of the [Commonwealth:18]

And that if any give or take by Covenant by the Year more than is specified in the said Statute, That at the first Time that they be thereof attainted, as well the Givers as the Takers shall pay the Excess so given, and at the Second Time the Double of the Excess so given: And Forasmuch as the Givers, when they have been sworn before the Justices of Peace, will in no wise present such Excesses, to eschew their own Punishments, to the great Loss of the King as of his Fines and Amerciaments for the concealing, and grievous Damage to the Lords and other People of the Realm, because of the non due Punishment of the Defaults of Servants and Labourers aforesaid, as the King hath perceived by the Complaint of his Commons; the same our Sovereign Lord the King hath (') ordained, That the Pain of the Giver shall be out in this Party, and that the Pain contained in the said Statute shall run only upon the Taker: And that this Ordinance hold Place and Force till the Feast of Saint Michael next coming, and [then '] till the End of Two Years then next ensuing.

ITEM, Whereas in a Statute made in the Time of King Henry the Fourth after the Conquest, the Fifth Year of his Reign, It was ordained and stablished, That all the Merchants Aliens, of what Estate or Condition they be, coming, [abiding, or resident, 3] within the Realm of England, should be entreated and demeaned within the same Realm in the same Form, Manner, and Condition, as the Merchants Denizens be or shall be entreated or demeaned in the Parties beyond the Sea, and in no other Manner, upon Pain to forfeit to the King all the Goods and Chattels of the said Merchants Aliens, (1) And also it was ordained and stablished in the Time of the said late King Henry, amongst other Things, by Statute, That in every City, Town, and Port of the Sea of England, where the said Merchants Aliens or Strangers be, or shall be repairing, sufficient Hosts shall be assigned to the same Merchants by the Mayors, Sheriffs, or Bailiffs of the said Cities, Towns, and Ports of the Sea; and that the Merchants Aliens and Strangers shall [not remain in other Places, 5] but with the said Hosts so to be assigned; and that the same Hosts so to be assigned shall take for their [Labour 6] in the same Manner as was accustomed of old Time: And for that our Lord the King hath perceived that the same Statutes have not been put in [due] Execution, [he'] willeth and granteth, That the same Statutes shall be firmly holden and kept in all Points, and put in due Execution from henceforth according to the [Purport 8] of the same.

ITEM, Whereas it was ordained in the Time of the King's Noble Progenitors, by a Statute made [of o] the Land of Ireland, That none of the Irish Nation should be chosen by Election to be an Archbishop, Bishop, Abbot or Prior, nor in none other Manner received nor accepted to any Dignity or Benefice within the said Land; And [now of late o] many such Irish People, by force of certain Letters of Licence to them made by the King's Lieutenants there, to accept and receive such Dignities and Benefices, be promoted and advanced to [Archbishops and Bishops of within the said Land, which also make their Collations to Irish Clerks of the Dignities and Benefices there, against the Form and Effect of the said Statute: And Whereas they be [said of Peers of the Parliament in the same Land, they bring

AN ORDINANCE IN THE FIFTH YEAR.

Greeting: Know Thou that in our Parliament last holden at Westminster, It was ordained and granted, That all our liege People as well Religious as Secular, and every of them, might till the next Parliament make their Attornies, where Attornies do lie, in their proper Persons, in any Plea of Debt, Trespass, or other Contract moved or to be moved in any Wapentakes, Hundreds, and Court Barons through the Realm, before the Stewards there or their Deputies, to win or to lose in the same Pleas; and if any such Stewards refuse to admit such Attornies, then they and every of them at every Time of such Refusal shall forfeit to Us Forty Shillings.

And therefore We command Thee that thou do the said Ordinance in all Places of thy County, where shall be most expedient and necessary, openly to be proclaimed and observed according to the Form and Effect of the same. Witness John Duke of Bedford Protector of England at Westminster the xvi. Day of January, the Fifth Year of our Reign.

STATUTES OF THE NINTH YEAR.

STATUTE THE FIRST.

A T the Parliament holden at Westminster, the Second Day of May, the Ninth Year of the Reign of King Henry the Fifth after the Conquest, the same our Lord the King, by the Assent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and at the special Instance and Request of the Commons, assembled in the same Parliament, hath caused to be ordained and stablished certain Statutes and Ordinances in the Form following.

FIRST, For that many People by Malice, Envy, and Revenge, cause often the King's liege People to be appealed or indicted in divers Counties, of Treasons or of Felonies, supposing by the said Appeals or Indictments that the said Treasons or Felonies were done in a certain Place, where no such Place is in that County where the Indictment is made, nor any such Place as is or shall be declared by the said Appeals; It is ordained, That the said Appeals or Indictments, and the Process of the same, shall be void and holden for nought; and that the said Appellees or Indictees may have Writs of Conspiracy against their Indictors, Procurors, and Conspirators, and shall recover their Damages; and that the said Indictors, Procurors, and Conspirators shall be also punished by Imprisonment and Fine and Ransom for the King's Advantage by the Discretion of the Justices: And that this Ordinance and Remedy do extend as well to Appeals and Indictments taken heretofore, in the Time of our Lord the King that now is, not determined, as to Appeals or Indictments to be taken in Time to come; And that this Ordinance shall stand in his force until the next Parliament to be holden after the coming again of our said Lord the King into England from beyond

ITEM, It is ordained, That none of the King's liege People, against whom an Exigend shall be awarded, or outlawed at the King's Suit from henceforth, or at the Suit of the Party in the County of Lancaster, shall forfeit any of his Goods or Chattels, Lands or Tenements in other Counties, but only [such 1] Goods and Chattels, Lands and Tenements, which the said Outlaws have in the same County of Lancaster: Provided always, That the Statute made the First Year of King Henry the Fourth, (1) against the People of the County of Chester which do many Manslaughters, Murders, Robberies, Batteries, Trespasses, and other Riots and Offences to divers the King's liege People (3) shall stand in his force, notwithstanding this present Ordinance; And that this Ordinance stand in his force till the Parliament which shall be first holden after the King's Return into England from beyond the Sea.

ITEM, Whereas the taking of Assises (') hath long ceased throughout the Realm, because of an Ordinance made by the King at his Second Passage towards the Parts of Normandy, and by his Council; the King considering the [Diseases and Damage, 1] which many of his liege People have had and sustained by the same ceasing, hath commanded, That his Justices shall hold the Assises through his Realm by the Manner accustomed. And (3) for to eschew the Disherisons of such Persons, as [now 1] shall pass in this present Voyage of the King our Sovereign Lord, whom God speed, and also of such Persons as [abide 5] in the King's Service in the Parts of Normandy and France, It is ordained and Novel Disprovided, That in every Protection with the Clause Volumus, to be made for any of the same Persons, in the Clause of the Exception contained in the same, Omission shall be made of these Words [Assise 6] novel disseisin. And that all such Protections be allowable and allowed for them and every of them, in all the King's Courts and elsewhere, where such Protection is set forth for any such Person, in all Pleas of Assise, as well of Novel disseisin as of fresh Force, without (7) Difficulty. Provided always, That the Judgements to be given from henceforth in such Assises, arraigned or to be arraigned, shall not be prejudicial to any of the said Persons so abiding in the King's Service beyond the Sea, as afore is said, which have any Thing in Reversion or in Remainder in the Lands or Tenements, whereof such Assises be or shall be arraigned, if they that have in Reversion or Remainder in such Lands and Tenements, be not named in the same Assises, but that they be against them all void; and this Ordinance shall endure till the Parliament that shall be first holden after the King's next Return into England: And if this Ordinance touching the said Persons so abiding in the King's Service beyond the Sea, and also touching the said Persons which have passed and shall pass in the said Voyage, be not sufficient for the Ease and Surety of them; It is also accorded and assented, That the Lords of the King's Council for the Time being shall have full Power by Authority of this Parliament, to set, ordain, and provide sufficient Remedy for the Ease and Surety of all the same Persons, as for them and every of them shall seem to the said Lords most available and expedient in the Case, according to their good Advice and Discretions.

ITEM, Whereas it was ordained and stablished in the Statute made the Fourteenth Year of King Edward the Third after the Conquest, that for Misprision of the Clerk in any Place wheresoever it be, the Process of the Plea should not be avoided nor discontinued, by mistaking in Writing one Letter or Syllable too much or too little, but as soon as the Thing is perceived, by Challenge of the Party, or in other Manner, it should hastily be amended in [a due] Form, without giving Advantage to the Party that challengeth the same because of such Misprision; the King our Sovereign Lord considering the Diversity of Opinions which have been upon the said Statute, and to put the Thing in more open Knowledge, hath declared and ordained at this Time, by Authority of this present Parliament, That the Justices before whom such Plea or Record is [made,9] or shall be depending, as well by Adjournment as by Way of Error or otherwise, shall have Power and Authority to amend such Record and Process, as afore is said, according to the Form of the same Statute, as well after

And that this Ordinance endure till the next Parliament to be holden, after the King's Return from beyond the Sea into England.

ITEM, Forasmuch as the Abbots and Priors of the Realm of England, have had and sustained great [Damage,¹] Losses, Costs, and [Diseases³] before this Time, by that that they have been assigned by the Archbishops and Bishops of the same Realm [of England,] to gather the Dismes granted to the Kings of England by the Clergy, very far from their Houses, and also in divers Dioceses and Counties, as they have shewed to our said Sovereign Lord the King by their Petition delivered in this present Parliament; the King [our Sovereign Lord,] having thereto Consideration, hath ordained and stablished, That no Abbot nor Prior within [the Realm of England, shall be by any Archbishop or Bishop from henceforth ordained to be Collector of any Dismes or Subsidies out of the same County where he is dwelling or conversant. And this Ordinance shall stand in his force till the Parliament which shall be first holden after the King's Return from beyond the Sea into England.

ITEM, Whereas of every Chaldron of Sea Coals which be or shall be sold to People not franchised in the Port of the Town of Newcastle-upon-Tyne, Twopence be due to the King of Custom, and in the same Port be certain Vessels called Keels, by which such Coals be carried from the Land to the Ships in the said Port; and every of the said Keels ought to be of the Portage of Twenty Chaldrons, and according to the same Portage, the (3) Custom is thereof taken to the King's Use; there be now certain People that of late have made such Keels of the Portage of Twenty-two or Twenty-three Chaldrons, whereof the Custom hath been taken according to the Portage of Twenty Chaldrons only, in Deceit of our Lord the King, as he hath perceived by Complaint in this Parliament; [It is therefore of ordained and stablished against such Deceit, that all the Keels which now be, and hereafter shall be in the said Port, shall be measured by certain Commissioners thereto (7) assigned by the King, and marked of what Portage they be, before that any Carriage be made by the same, upon Pain of [Forfeiture 8] to the King all the Vessels called Keels, by which any such Coals shall be carried, before that they be marked in the Manner aforesaid.

ITEM, To avoid the Perils and Deceits which long have continued within the Realm by Washers, Clippers, and Counterfeiters of the Money [of the Realm] of England, to the great [Loss 9] and Damage of all the People of the same Realm; the King, by the Advice and Assent of all the Lords and Commons assembled in this Parliament, hath ordained and stablished, That from Christmas Even next coming, none of the King's liege People shall receive any Money of English Gold in Payment, but by the King's Weight thereupon ordained. And because a great Part of the Gold now current in Payment is not of rightful Weight nor of good Allay the same [shall "] be sent to the [Coine,"] to the Intent it shall be newly coined of just Weight and of good Allay, and [because that shall be "] to the great Loss and Costs of the King's Subjects, unless it please him to relieve them in this Case,

The last mentioned Provision renewed until the next Parliament. for certain Causes declared in the same, It was ordained therein, for the Profit of the King and of the Realm, that all Merchants who should thereafter make such Exchanges to the Court above mentioned, or elsewhere, should, they and each of them, be bound personally in the Chancery aforesaid by Recognizance, to buy, within Nine Months after the same Exchanges made, like Merchandises and Commodities, as is aforesaid, to the Value of the Sums so exchanged, upon Pain of Forfeiture of the same, the said Statute made in the said Fourteenth Year notwithstanding, and that the same last Ordinance should endure until the Parliament then next to be holden; The King, forasmuch as the said Causes so declared in the said Parliament holden the said Ninth Year have been felt to be reasonable, and also for that the same Ordinance was determined and expired by the Commencement of this last Parliament, hath ordained in this last Parliament, that all the Merchants who shall make such Exchanges to the said Court of Rome, or elsewhere, they and each of them shall be bound personally in the King's Chancery by Recognizance to buy, within Nine Months after such Exchanges made, like Merchandises and Commodities, as is aforesaid, to the Value of the Sums so exchanged, upon Pain of Forfeiture of the same, notwithstanding the said Statute made in the said Fourteenth Year; and that this present Ordinance shall endure until the Parliament next to be holden.

The Second Year. HENRY by the Grace of God, King of England and France and Lord of Ireland, to the Sheriff of Middlesex, Greeting. Certain Statutes and Ordinances in our last Parliament made, We send to thee in Form Patent, commanding that those Statutes and Ordinances, in the Places within thy Bailiwick where it may be most expedient, thou do cause to be publicly proclaimed on our Behalf, and as far as in thee lieth to be firmly observed, according to the Tenor of the same. Witness myself at Westminster the First Day of July in the Second Year of our Reign.

AT the Parliament holden at Westminster the Twentieth Day of October, in the Second Year of the Reign of King Henry the Sixth after the Conquest, by the Advice and Assent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and at the special Instance and Request of the Commons of England being in the same Parliament, certain Ordinances, Declarations and Statutes were made and stablished to the Honour of God, and for the Wealth of the King and of his Realm, in the Form following.

I. Liberties confirmed. FIRST, That Holy Church, and all the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and all other the King's People, having Liberties and Franchises, and also all the Cities and Boroughs shall have and enjoy all their Liberties and Franchises well used, and not repealed, nor by the Common Law repealable.

ITEM, Whereas the Hospital of Saint Leonard of York, which is of the Foundation of the (') Progenitors of our said Lord the King, late Kings of England, and of his Patronage, in the first Foundation of the same was endowed, by the said Progenitors of the King, of a Thrave of Corn to be taken yearly of every Plough earing within the Counties of York, Cumberland, Westmerland, and Lancaster, within the [County 1] of York, of which Thraves the Master and Brethren of the said Hospital, and their Predecessors have been seised, (3) the Time whereof runneth no Memory, as Parcel of the first Foundation of the said Hospital, and the same they have levied and gathered at the Feast of Saint Martin in Winter every Year, till now late that divers People of the said Counties, within the Province aforesaid, have withholden the same Thraves, whereof the said Master and Brethren have no sufficient nor covenable Remedy at the Common Law, to the great Damage of the said Hospital, and open Subtraction of the Sustenance of the said Master and Brethren, if Remedy be not for them provided, as Complaint was thereof made in the said Parliament: The King considering the Premisses, of the Assent and Request aforesaid, hath ordained and stablished, That the said Master and Brethren, and their Successors for the Time being, may levy, gather, and take the said Thraves within the Province aforesaid, in the Places where they ought of Right, and were wont, after the Custom and Usage had in the same Places heretofore. And also that the same [Masters 1] and (5) Successors for the Time being shall from Time to Time have Actions by Writs or Plaints of Debt or Detinue at their Pleasure, against all them and every of them that detain the same Thraves so of Right due to the said Hospital, or any Part of them, to recover the said Thraves against them, and every of them, with their Damages in this Behalf: Provided always, That the Parties with whom the said Master and Brethren, or their Predecessors, be accorded for such Thraves by Compositions made and sealed betwixt them, shall of no more be charged than is comprised within the same Compositions, for the Possessions that the said Parties had at the Time of the making of the aforesaid Compositions.

ITEM, It is ordained and assented, That John Duke of Bedford, Uncle to our Sovereign Lord the King, which is beyond the Sea in the Parts of France in the King's Service, in all Manner of Pleas moved and to be moved against any Person or Persons of Lands and Tenements, the Reversion or Remainder whereof is to the said Duke joint or several to his own Use, he shall be by his Attorney or Attorneys received to defend his Right; and in the same Manner shall have and enjoy all manner Benefits and Advantages, as if he were present in his proper Person. And that this Ordinance extend as well to Receipts of Reversions and Remainders, to be purchased and gotten to the said Duke jointly or severally to his own Use, as to Receipts of Reversions and Remainders, which he now hath, as long as he shall be in the King's Service beyond the Sea.

ITEM, Whereas the Noble King Edward the Third (°) did ordain his Staple to be [at '] Calais, and that the whole Repair of Wools, Woolfels, Leather, Lead, Tin, Butter, Cheese, and other Merchandise, except Woolen Cloths and Red Herring, passing out of the Realm of England, and his Lands of Wales and Ireland, and his Town of Berwick-upon-Tweed, should be at the said Town of Calais;

And after at a Parliament holden in the First Year of King Henry the Fourth, it was ordained, That the Staple of Wools, Woolfels, Leather, Lead, and Tin, should be wholly at Calais; saving that Merchants of Genoa, Venice, Catalonia, Arragon, and other Realms, Lands, [and] Countries towards the West, being of the King's Amity, may ship at Hampton in Carracks, Ships, Galleys, and other Vessels, Wools, Woolfels, Leather, Lead, Tin, and other Merchandises of the Staple, and [bring'] them into their Country towards the West, after the Form of the Statute thereof made in the Second Year of King Richard the Second after the Conquest; and also saving to the Burgesses and Merchants of Berwick-upon-Tweed certain Benefits to bring the Wools of the growing between the Waters of Tweed and Cocket, to the said Place of Berwick, and to ship them towards what Parts it shall please them beyond the Sea. And also whereas the said Statutes, in the Parliament holden at Westminster in the Second Year of the Reign of King Henry the Fifth, Father to our Sovereign Lord the King that now is, were confirmed; and moreover it was ordained in the same Parliament, That no Wools, Woolfels, Leather, Lead, Tin, whole or [founded 3] called shotten Tin, nor none other Merchandise of the Staple whatsoever it were, should from [henceforth 1] be sent or [brought 1] to any Parts beyond the Sea, except they were first carried to the said Staple, after the Form of the said Ordinance made the said First Year, upon Pain of Forfeiture of all the Merchandises in such Manner sent or [brought 3] out of the said Realm, unless it be by the King's Licence; and except all Persons, Goods, and Things which be excepted in the same Ordinance made the First Year, as in the said Statutes is more fully contained: Nevertheless, the Leather, and [founded 3] Tin, called shotten Tin, bought and provided here in England, have not been [brought 6] to the said Staple of Calais, after the Form of the said Statutes, but doth pass into Flanders, Holland, and Zealand, to the great Damage, and diminishing of the Customs and Subsidies due to the King, if they were [brought 6] to the Town of Calais; The King willing to eschew [the 7] Damage and Diminution, by the Advice and Request aforesaid, hath ordained and established, That all the Statutes thereof made and not repealed, be holden and kept, and put in due Execution; And that the whole Repair of Wools, Woolfels, Leather, Lead, [whole Tin, and all other Merchandises pertaining to the Staple, passing out of the Realm of England, and of the Countries of Wales and Ireland, be at the said Place of Calais, and at none other Place beyond the Sea, as long as the said Staple shall be at (9) Calais, upon Pain of Forfeiture of the very Value of the Merchandises, which shall pass elsewhere but to the Parts towards the West, named in the said Statutes thereof made; And that no Licence from henceforth be granted to the contrary, except for Wools, Fells, and Leather of Northumberland, Westmerland, Cumberland, and the Bishoprick of Durham; saving the King's Prerogative. Provided always, That if any Merchants under Colour of any Licence ship any Wools of the growing of any Part of Yorkshire, or of any other Country of the Realm, except of the growing of the same Parts of Northumberland, Westmerland, Cumberland, and the Bishoprick of Durham, they shall forfeit to the King the Value of all the Wools so shipped, and also they shall lose the Benefit of the same

Also, It is ordained, That no Licence be made to any one to carry the slight Wools of the Counties of Southampton, Kent, Sussex, and York, to any Parts beyond Sea, except to Calais, until the next Parliament: Saving also the King's Prerogative.

ITEM, Because that a new Shipping is found in the Pille of Foddray in the County of Lancaster, out of which Pille and other Creeks within the Realm much Wools be [brought'] to Ernemouth in Zealand, and to many other Places beyond the Sea, without Custom or Subsidy thereof duly paying to the King, and the Merchants come to Dublin in Ireland, and there take their Cockets, and pay for every Stone of Wool"[to their proper Use '] ij.d. as the King hath been thereof credibly informed in the said Parliament, to the King's great Deceit and Fraud: It is ordained and established, That if any Person [bring 3] or cause to be [brought 4] any Wools or Woolfels not customed out of the Realm, to other Places than to the said Staple (4) he shall forfeit to the King the Value of the Merchandises so shipped, and his Body to Prison, till he hath made and paid a Fine and Ransom; And that he that thereof giveth Knowledge to the Treasurer of England for the time being, and the Trespasser for the same duly convict, shall have the Fourth Part of the Forfeiture due to the King in this Behalf.

ITEM, Whereas by King Henry the Fifth, Father to our Lord the King that now is, It was ordained, That a Mint of Gold and Silver should be holden within [the 5] Town of Calais, whereby great Substance of Money of Gold and Silver hath been brought within the Realm, which Money by divers Persons hath been, and is daily carried out of the same to Burdeaux, Flanders, and other Places, against the Statute in old Times made and provided in this Behalf, as hath been grievously complained in this Parliament: It is ordained and assented, That the same Statute be holden and kept, and put in due Execution; And moreover, It is ordained and established, That no Gold nor Silver shall be carried out of the Realm contrary to the said Statute, unless it be for Payment of [Wars, and the King's Soldiers 6] beyond the Sea, upon Pain of Forfeiture of the Value of the Sum of Money so carried out of the Realm, to be levied of him that shall bring, carry, or send it out of the same Realm; and that he which espieth it, and thereof giveth Knowledge to the Council, or to the Treasurer of England, shall have the Fourth Part of the Forfeiture so due to the King; Except the Ransoms for Fines of English Prisoners taken and to be taken beyond the Sea, and the Money that the Soldiers shall carry with them for their reasonable Costs, and also for Horses, Oxen, Sheep, and other Things bought in Scotland, to be sent and carried to the Parties adjoining; so that the Money to be sent for the Fines of the said Prisoners, or to be carried by the said Soldiers to the Parties beyond the Sea, be not done without the King's special Licence. And because it is supposed that the Money [of 7] Gold of the Realm is carried out of the same by Merchants Aliens, it is ordained and stablished, That the Merchants Aliens shall find Surety in the Chancery, every Company for them of their Company, the University of Oxford or Cambridge, or elsewhere within the Realm of England, unless he bring to the said Chancellor such Letters testimonial, upon Pain to be punished as [Rebels'] to the King: And Forasmuch as in the said Ordinance no mention was made, before whom nor in what Manner the Surety of good abearing as before, shall be found; It is ordained and established, That the Chancellors of the Universities of Oxford and Cambridge for the time being, every of them within his Jurisdiction, shall take the Sureties to be taken of Scholars within the same Universities, and certify the same into the King's Chancery; and that the Justices of Peace within the Counties, and Mayors and Bailiffs within Cities and Boroughs enfranchised, have Power to take before them such manner of Surety of good abearing, and to do Execution upon them which shall abide or do against the said Ordinance from henceforth.

ITEM, It is ordained, That Proclamation be made through all the Counties of England within Franchises and without, and within Cities, Towns, Boroughs, and elsewhere, that all the Money called Blanks shall be wholly out and voided out of the Realm, before the Feast of Saint John Baptist next coming; and moreover that no Man after the said Feast pay or receive for Payment in any manner within the said Realm, the said Money called Blanks, upon the Pain contained and ordained by a Statute made the Third Year of King Henry, Father to our Lord the King, against all that pay or receive for Payment the Money called Gally Halfpence, Suskins, and Dotkins within the Realm (2).

ITEM, For that many Defaults be found in the Work of divers Persons occupying the Craft of Embroidery; It is ordained and assented, That all the Work and Stuff of Embroidery [of Gold, or of Silver, of Cipre, or of Gold of Luk mixed with Spanish Laton,³] and exposed to Sale in Deceit of the King's liege Subjects, shall be forfeited to the King, or to the Lords and others having Franchises of such Forfeitures in whose Franchise such Work shall be found; And this Ordinance shall endure until the Parliament next to come.

ITEM, It is ordained and assented, That if any Outlawry upon any Man, being out of the Realm in the King's Service, with the King himself or under any Captain, be pronounced, and thereupon the King or the Captain die before such Outlawry be reversed, and the Party who sues to reverse any such Outlawry for the Cause aforesaid, will alledge that his Captain is dead, that then his abiding at the Time of the said Outlawries be certified by the Executors or Administrators of such Captains, or by Clerks proved to be theirs, or any other well known Person, according to the Discretion of the Justices, in the same Manner as the Captain should have certified the same, if he had been alive; Provided always, That Averment may be received for our Lord the King, that the Captain is in full Life, and also that the Party was in England at the Time of such Outlawries pronounced, so far as heretofore hath been done in case that the Captain were in full Life: And this Ordinance shall endure until the Parliament next to come.

The Justices of the Peace of certain Counties shall enquire of Weirs, &c. upon the Thames.

Upon the Inquisicions certified into the King's Bench, the Judges shall award Process; and the Nuisances to be removed.

[X.] XIII.• All Patent-Officers in the King's Courts shall be sworn to appoint sufficient Clerks.

[XI.] XIV. Ancient Contents of the Tun, &c. of Wine; Barrel of Herring, and Butt of Salmon.

No Tuns, Barrels, &c. shall be made of less Contents on Pain of Forfeiture.

ITEM, Because that due Search and Correction hath not been made in the Water of Thames, without the Bounds of the Franchise of London in the Counties of Surrey, Kent, and Essex, many Mischiefs now of late have been done in Destruction of People, Ships, and Merchandises, and of the Fry of Fish, by the Wears, Kydells, and Trunks there being Nuisances; It is ordained and assented, that several Commissions be made to the Justices of the Peace of the said Counties, for the Time being, to inquire of such Nuisances out of the said Franchise of London, so often as Need may be, and to certify from time to time in the King's Bench what shall be thereof found by the Inquisitions so to be made, and the Justices of the said Bench shall make upon the said Certifications such Processes against those who shall be so found to be Trespassers, as to them best shall seem according to Law, and shall cause them to remove their Nuisances so made: Saving to every one his Right and Title in the Wears, Kydells, and Trunks aforesaid: And this Ordinance shall endure until the Parliament next to come.

ITEM, To the Intent that better and more sure Government be had within the Courts of our Lord the King, for his Profit, and Ease of his People, which have to pursue and to do in the same; It is ordained and stablished, That all the Officers made by the King's Letters Patents Royal within the said Courts, which have Power and Authority, by virtue of their Offices of old Times accustomed, to appoint Clerks and Ministers within the same Courts, shall be charged and sworn to appoint such Clerks and Ministers, for whom they will answer at their Peril, which be sufficient, faithful, and attending to that which pertaineth to them in Performance of the Business, as well of the King as of his People.

ITEM, Whereas in old Time it was ordained and lawfully used, That Tuns, Pipes, Tertians, Hogsheads of Gascoign Wine, Barrels of Herring and of Eels, and Butts of Salmon, coming by way of Merchandise into this Land out of strange Countries, and also made in the same Land, should be of certain Measure; that is to say, The Tun of Wine CC. lii. Gallons, the Pipe C. xxvj. Gallons, the Tertian lxxxiv. Gallons, the Hogshead lxiij. Gallons, the Barrel of Herring and of Eels xxx. Gallons fully packed, the Butt of Salmon lxxxiv. Gallons fully packed; nevertheless, by Device and Subtilty now late such Vessels have been of much less Measure, to the great Deceit and Loss of the King and of his People, whereof special Remedy was prayed in [the '] Parliament; It is ordained and stablished, That no Man, after the End of Twelve Months from the Feast of Easter next coming, shall bring into the Realm of England, from what Country soever it be, nor make within the same Realm, a Tun of Wine, except it contain of the English Measure CC. lij. Gallons, the Pipe C. xxvj. Gallons, and so after the Rate the Tertian and the Hogshead of Gascoin Wine, upon Pain of Forfeiture of the same Wine; nor Barrel of Herring, nor of Eels, unless they contain xxx. with the Leopard's Head, and the Goldsmith's Mark.

The Penalty on the Keeper of the Touch, who toucheth any Vessel not sufficient in Fineness.

Several Cities and Towns shall have their several Touches.

In Places where there is no Touch ordained, the Goldsmith shall set his Mark.

Justices of the Peace, Mayors, &c. may inquire of, hear, and determine the Offences than xxxij. s. abated for the Coinage Twelve-pence; It is ordained and established, for the Increase of (') White Money, That no Man, of what Estate or Condition that he be within [the '] Realm, shall buy or sell no Silver in Plate [Piece 1] nor in Masse, being as good of Allay as the Sterling, above Thirty Shillings the Pound of Troy, over the Fashion, upon the Pain of Forfeiture of the Double Value of as much as he buyeth or selleth contrary to this Ordinance; and that the one Half be forfeit to the King's Use, and the other Half to the Use of him that will sue and prove the same Forfeiture. Provided always, That they which go to the Coin, may have and take of the Master of the same Coin, according as is lawfully contained in the Indentures thereof made betwixt the King and him; And also the Master of the said Mint for the Time being, may take and deliver as is contained in the said Indentures, without taking more, for the Ease and Profit of the common People.

ITEM, That no Goldsmith, nor Worker of Silver within the City of London, sell any Workmanship of Silver, unless it be as fine as the Sterling, except the same need Souder in the making, which shall be allowed according as the Souder is necessary to be wrought in the same. And that no Goldsmith nor Jeweller, nor any other that worketh Harness of Silver, shall set any of the same to sell within [the '] City, before that it be touched with the Touch of the Leopard's Head, if it may reasonably bear the same Touch, and also with the Mark or Sign of the Workman of the same, upon Pain of Forfeiture of the Double, as afore is said; and that the Mark and Sign of every Goldsmith be known to the Wardens of the same Craft. And if it may be found, that the said Keeper of the Touch touch any such Harness with the Leopard's Head, except it be as fine in Allay as the Sterling, that then the Keeper of the Touch, for every Thing so proved not as good in Allay as the said Sterling, shall forfeit the Double Value to the King and to the Party, as is above recited. And also it is likewise ordained in the City of York, Newcastle upon Tine, Lincoln, Norwich, Bristow, Salisbury, and Coventry, that every one shall have divers Touches, according to the Ordinance of the Mayors, Bailiffs, or Governors of the same Towns; and that no Goldsmith, nor other [Workers3] of Silver, nor Keeper of the said Touches within the same Towns, shall set to Sale, or touch any Silver in other Manner than is ordained before within the City of London, upon Pain of the said Forfeiture. And moreover that no Goldsmith, or other Worker of Silver within the Realm of England, where no Touch is ordained as afore is said, shall work any Silver, except it be as fine in Allay as the Sterling, and that the Goldsmith or Worker of the same Silver set upon the same his Mark or Sign before he set it to Sale; and if it be found that it is not as fine as the Sterling, that then the Worker of the same shall forfeit the Double Value, in Manner and Form as before is recited within the City of London. And (') the Justices of Peace, Mayors and Bailiffs, and all other having Power as Justices of Peace, shall hear, inquire, and determine, by Bill, Plaint, or in other Manner, of all that do contrary to the said Ordinances, and thereof [to 5] make due Execution by their Discretions:

UR Lord the King, by the Advice and Assent of The Third the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and at the special Request of the Commons, assembled in this Parliament, holden at Westminster the last Day of April, the Third Year of his Reign, hath ordained and established certain Ordinances and Statutes, to the Honour of God, and for the Weal of his Realm, in the Form following:

FIRST, Whereas by the yearly Congregations and Confederacies made by the Masons in their general Chapiters [and Assemblies,'] the good Course and Effect of the Statutes of Labourers be openly violated and broken, in Subversion of the Law, and to the great Damage of all the Commons: Our said Lord the King willing in this Case to provide Remedy, by the Advice and Assent aforesaid, and at the special Request of the said Commons, hath ordained and established, That such Chapiters and Congregations shall not be hereafter holden; and if any such be made, they that cause such Punishment Chapiters and Congregations to be assembled and holden, if they thereof be convict, shall be judged for Felons; and that all the other Masons that come to such Chapiters and Congregations, be punished by Imprisonment of their Bodies, and make Fine and Ransom at the King's Will.

ITEM, Because that divers Persons do from Time to Time carry out of the Realm great Number of Sheep [with Fleeces] into Flanders, and other Countries beyond the Sea, and there they shear them, and sell as well the same Sheep, as the Wools of the same, to Men of the same Country, so that by such Persons the Sheep within the said Country of Flanders, and other Parts, in short Time be likely to be much increased (3) to the great Deceit, Loss, and Damage of our (*) Lord the King, of his Customs and Subsidies of the said Wools, and also to the great Hindrance of all the Realm, and Diminution and Abatement of the Price of Wools, as well at the Staple at Calais, as here in England, unless Remedy be provided in this Behalf; Our said Lord the King, considering the Premises, by the Advice and Assent, and at the Request aforesaid, hath ordained and granted by the Authority of the said Parliament, That no manner of Person, of what Estate or Condition that he be,

Custom.

ITEM, It is ordained and established, That if any Customer, Collector, or Controller of the King's Customs of Cockets of Cloths, of Subsidies of Tonnage or Poundage, in any Port or Place of England, be duly (1) attainted or convict at the King's Suit (1), of false concealing of the King's Custom or Subsidy duly entered and paid by any Merchant, that then the said Customer, Collector, or Controller so duly attainted or convict by the Law, shall lose and forfeit to the King the treble Value of the Merchandises so duly customed, and make Fine and Ransom: And he that will sue, shall have the Third Part for his Labour.

IV.
Chancellor
may grant Licence to export Butter and Cheese to other Places than to the Staple.

ITEM, Whereas by a Statute made in the Time of the Noble King Edward the Third, (4) it was ordained, That the Staple, and the Merchandises of the Staple should be carried to Calais, amongst which Merchandises it was ordained by the same Statute, That Butter and Cheese should be Merchandises of the Staple; by which [Ordinances 5] divers Persons of the Realm of England have had great (6) Damage, because that the said Butter and Cheese be so tender Merchandises that they cannot [tarry their Merchants,7] as our Lord the King hath perceived by the grievous Complaint of his said Commons; The same our Lord the King, willing to provide Remedy in this Behalf, by the Advice and Assent aforesaid, hath ordained and established, That he that will carry Butter and Cheese to any other Parts than to the said Staple, shall sue to the Chancellor of England for the Time being to have Licence in this Behalf; and that the same Chancellor have Power to make to him such Licences under the King's Great Seal, if it like him so to do by his Discretion.

V. Chancellor may award Commissions to reform the River Lee.

ITEM, Whereas in the last Parliament it was granted, That a Commission for the Water called the Ley, one of the great Rivers which extendeth from the Town of of Ware till the Water of Thames, in the Counties of Hertford, Essex, and Middlesex, to survey, redress, and amend all the Defaults in the said Water, for the Passage of Ships and Boats, as in the Ordinances and Statutes (*) of the King's Noble Progenitors is contained: And Forasmuch as the same Commission was directed to divers great Men, Lords and other Persons, which thereto might not attend; It is ordained and stablished, That the Chancellor of England (9) shall have Power to grant such Commissions at all Times needful to such indifferent Persons dwelling thereabout, which thereto best can and may attend, to inquire, redress, and amend all the Defaults being in the said Water, as well by divers Trenches made out of the said Water, as of all other manner Stanks, (10) Kidels, Wears or Mills, being or made to the Annoyance of the Passage of Boats in the said Water, according to the Purport and Tenor of the Statutes in this Case provided and ordained.

ROLL OF THE STATUTES

OF THE SIXTH YEAR OF THE REIGN OF K. HENRY, VI.

OUR Lord the King at his Parliament holden at Westminster the Fifteenth of Saint Michael, the Sixth Year of his Reign, by the Advice and Assent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and at the special [Instance and] Request of the Commons of his Realm in the said Parliament assembled, hath caused to be made certain Statutes and Ordinances, to the Honour of God, and for the Weal and Ease of his People in the [Manner and] Form following:

FIRST, For that divers of the King's faithful Subjects by false Practice, Covin, and Conspiracy of certain evil Persons be indicted before our Lord the King in his Bench, of divers Felonies and Treasons, by suspect Jurors, hired and procured to the same by Confederacy and Covin of the said Conspirators, by Force of which Indictments a Capias is awarded to the [Sheriffs'] of the County where the said Bench is, returnable within Two or Four Days, at which Day, if the Party so indicted come not, an Exigent is awarded, whereby the Goods and Chattels of such Persons indicted be forfeit to our Lord the King, to the utter undoing of divers of the King's faithful Subjects, as the same our Lord the King hath conceived by the grievous Complaint of the said Commons, made to him in the said Parliament;

STATUTES OF THE EIGHTH YEAR OF K. HENRY, VI.

To the Laud and Honour of Almighty God, and of the Holy Mother the Church, our most noble Christian Lord Henry by the Grace of God, King of England and France, and Lord of Ireland, in his Parliament holden at Westminster the Morrow after Saint Matthew the Apostle, the Eighth Year of his Reign, by the Advice and Assent of the Prelates (') and Great Men of his Realm of England, and at the special Request and (') Assent of the Commons of the same Realm, being in the said Parliament, hath made certain Statutes and Ordinances for the common Profit of the said Realm, and especially for the good and wholesome Government and due Execution of the Law to be had in the same, in the Form following.

FIRST, Because the Prelates and Clergy of the Realm of England called to the Convocation, and their Servants and Familiars that come with them to such Convocation, oftentimes and commonly be arrested, molested, and inquieted; Our said Lord the King willing graciously in this Behalf to provide for the Security and Quietness of the said Prelates and Clergy, at the Supplication of the same Prelates and Clergy, and by the Assent of the (') Great Men and Commons aforesaid, hath ordained and established, That [all 3] the Clergy hereafter to be called to the Convocation by the King's Writ, and their Servants and Familiars, shall for ever hereafter fullyuse and enjoy such Liberty or [Defence 1] in coming, tarrying, and returning, as the (5) Great Men and Commonalty of the Realm of England, called or to be called to the King's Parliament, do enjoy, and were wont to enjoy, or in Time to come ought to enjoy.

ITEM, Because that the King's most dear Uncle the King of Denmark, Norway, and Sweveland, as the same our Sovereign Lord the King of his Intimation hath understood, considering the manifold and great Losses, Perils, Hurts, and Damage, which of late happened, as well to him and his, as to other Foreigners and Strangers, and also (') Friends and [special '] Subjects of our said Sovereign Lord the King of his Realm of England, by the going in, entering, and passage of such Foreign and strange Persons into his Realm of Norway and other Dominions, Streights, Territories, Jurisdictions, and Places, subdued and subject to him, especially into his Isles of Finmark and elsewhere, as well in their Persons as in their Things and Goods, for eschewing of such Losses, Perils, Hurts, and Damages, and that such like, which God prohibit, should not hereafter happen, [the said Uncle of our said Sovereign Lord the King 1] hath ordained and statuted, That all and singular Strangers, as well Englishmen [and 4] other, willing to apply by Ship and come into his Realm of Norway and other Dominions, Streights, Territories, Jurisdictions, Isles, and Places aforesaid, [with their Ships,5] to the Intent to get or have Fish, or any other Merchandises or Goods, shall apply or come to his Town of [Northbarum,6] where the said King of Denmark hath specially ordained and established his Staple for the Concourse of Strangers, and especially of Englishmen, to the Exercise of such Merchandises, granting to the said Englishmen, that they shall there enjoy in and by all Things the same Favour, Privileges, and Prerogatives, which they of the Hanse did enjoy: Therefore our said Sovereign Lord the King, willing the Love, Affinity, and Amities to be firmly observed, which betwixt his said Uncle and his noble Progenitors of good Memory, their Realms, Lands, Dominions, Streights, Territories, Jurisdictions, and [their said Places,'] and the same our Sovereign Lord the King, and his noble Progenitors of famous Memory, his [great Men, 8] Subjects, Realms, Lands, and Dominions, hath been of old Times hitherto continued, nor nothing by our said Sovereign Lord the King (9) or his People to be attempted or done, whereby [such Amities, by reason of any Dissentions, Enmities, or Discords might be broken, 107 by the Advice of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and of the Commons of his said Realm of England assembled in this present Parliament, hath ordained, prohibiting that none of his liege People nor Subjects of his Realm of England, by Audacity of their Folly, presume to enter the Realms, Lands, Dominions, Streights, Territories, Jurisdictions, and Places of the said King of Denmark, against the Ordinance, Prohibition, and Interdiction of the same his Uncle above remembered, and in Contempt of the same, upon Pain of Forfeiture of all their moveable Goods, and Imprisonment of their Person at the King's Will.

ITEM, Our Lord the King considering how at the last Parliament holden at Westminster, the Sixth Year of his Reign, he did ordain and grant by Authority of the said Parliament, that several Commissions of Sewers should be made to divers Persons, by the Chancellor of England for the Time being to be named in all Parts of the Realm where shall be needful, under a certain Form in the said Ordinance and Grant contained; by which Ordinance and Grant the said Commissioners had no Power nor Authority to do, perform, nor execute the Things comprised within the said Commissions; and therefore he hath ordained and stablished, by Authority of this Parliament, That all such Commissioners shall have Power to do, ordain, and execute the Statutes, Ordinances, and other [Affairs to be made '] according to the Effect and Purport of the said Commissions.

ITEM, Whereas it is ordained by divers Statutes made in the Times of the King's noble Progenitors, that no Knight, nor other of less Estate should give any Livery of Cloths or Hats to other than to his Menials, and his Officers and Men learned in the one Law or the other, upon the Pain of an Cs. to be levied of the Giver, and xls. of the Taker, as often as they do the contrary, and he that would sue, should have the one Half of the Pain after that they thereof be duly convict, and that the Justices of Assises, and Justices of Peace in every County of England should have Power from time to time in their Sessions, to enquire of the said Matters, and them to hear and determine, as in the said Statutes and Ordinances fully appeareth; which Statutes and Ordinances have not been duly kept, because that they that do contrary to the said Statutes and Ordinances, before the said Justices may not be indicted, for great Maintenances in this Behalf (*): Our Sovereign Lord the King, willing to expel such Maintenances, hath ordained by the Authority aforesaid, That the said Justices shall have Power by the same Authority, as well at the King's Suit as the Parties, to award Writs of Attachment and Distress against all them, which from henceforth do the contrary of the said Statutes and Ordinances, in the Counties where they hold their Sessions, directed to the Sheriffs of the same Counties, returnable before the same Justices or [Justice3] for the Time being in their Sessions; and if the said Sheriffs return, that they against whom such Writs issued, have nothing, then a Capias and Exigend shall be awarded against them in the Manner as shall be done against them that be indicted before Justices of Peace of Trespasses done with Force and Arms against the King's Peace; and if they appear [at 1] any of the said Writs, the said Justices shall have Power by Authority aforesaid to examine them of the Matters aforesaid; and they whom they find by Examination, that have done the contrary of the said Statutes and Ordinances, shall incur the Pain comprised in the same Statutes (5) that is to say, the Giver an Cs. and the Taker xl s. as often as they do the contrary, in the Manner and Form as they ought if they were by Inquest duly before the said Justices convict, so that the said Statutes and Ordinances [extend them,6] as to Examination, to Liveries for to be given, against the Form of the said Statutes thereof made before this Time, after the Feast of Christmas next coming: Provided that the said [Ordinances 7] extend as well [in 8] the Counties of Chester and Lancaster by the Examination and Process as afore is said, of the Justice of Chester or his Lieutenant there, as by Examination of the Justices of the County of Lancaster, so to be made against all them which shall do the contrary of the said (9) Ordinances in Time to come: Provided also, That all the Statutes and Ordinances before made and not repealed, of Liveries of Cloths by Lords given or to be given against the Form of the said Statutes, shall stand in their Force; and that this Statute extend not as to the Execution of Examination to the [Mayor and Sheriffs of London 10] for the Time that they shall be Officers, Serjeants of the Law, at the Time that they take the same Estate upon them, and them that do commence in the Universities within the Realm of England at the Time of their [Commencement,'] nor to them which for the Time aforesaid shall take any such Liveries of them. And also that all those that shall take any such Liveries of Cloths or of Hats of any Lord Spiritual or Temporal, or of any [great] Lady in or of England, against the Form of the said Statutes, they shall be likewise examined and punished in Manner as they that take such Liveries of Knights or other of less Estate as before. Provided always, That in the Time of War it shall be lawful to the Lords, Knights, and Esquires, that do travel in such War, to give their Liveries of Clothing or of Hats to their Soldiers, and in such wise as to them best shall seem; and that it shall be lawful to such Soldiers to take and wear such Liveries of Clothing or of Hats for the Time of such War, without being in any wise molested in [this Part 1] by force or virtue of [the same Statutes.3 And that moreover, if any Person, of what Estate or Condition he be, after the said Feast of Christmas, [as 1] of his own Authority and proper Costs do buy or wear for his clothing any Cloths or Hats called Liveries, of the Sort or of Suit of any Lord, Lady, Knight, Esquire, or other Person, (5) for to have (6) Supportation, Succour, or Maintenance in any Quarrel, or in any other Manner (5), if he be thereof duly convict by Examination or otherwise before by the Statutes declared, he shall incur the Pain before limited of them that take Liveries of Lords [or'] other Persons aforesaid, and moreover shall have a whole Year's Imprisonment without being let to Bail or Mainprise, for their Falsity and subtil Imagination in this Part.

ITEM, Whereas by the Great Charter of the Liberties of the Realm [of England,] and by a Statute made the [Twenty-fifth 8] Year of King Edward the Third, It was ordained, and by a Statute made in the Thirteenth Year of King Richard the Second, confirmed, That one Weight and one Measure should be through all the Realm [of England,] as well out of the Staple as within; and in the same Statute of the said [noble] King Edward, it is contained, That the Weight called Auncel, for the great Hurt and subtile Deceits done by the same Measure to the common People, shall be utterly [left, and set apart,9] and (10) the Wools, and all other Manner of [Merchandises, and all other] Things weighable, bought, or sold, shall be weighed by the Balance, so that the Tongue of the Balance do not incline more to the one Party than the other, with Weights sealed, and according to the Standard of the Exchequer; and he that doth contrary, to the Damage of the Seller, shall forfeit to [our Lord] the King the Value of the Goods so weighed or measured; and that the Party Complainant shall have his quatreble Damages: And by the said Statute of the said [noble] King Richard, it was added, That the Offender [shall"] be imprisoned by Two Years, and make Fine and Ransom at the Will of [our Lord] the King; and that the Justices of Peace should have Power to inquire of the said Defaults, as well at the Suit of [our Lord] the King, as the Parties: Our Lord the King, by the Authority of this Parliament, hath ordained [and established,] That the Statutes [and Ordinances] aforesaid shall be firmly kept and holden, and straitly executed. And for because that such Sums have not been put in divers Places, according to the Purport of the same Bills, many Houses and Goods and Chattels of divers Persons have been feloniously and traiterously, at [Cantebridge'] and elsewhere in the Counties and Places aforesaid, burnt and utterly destroyed, whereby the People [and the Towns, 1] Counties, and other Places aforesaid, be greatly impoverished, and in Point to be finally destroyed; the same our Sovereign Lord the King, willing in this Case to provide Remedy, hath ordained by Authority of this Parliament, That all such Burnings of Houses of any Person shall be judged High Treason. And that this Ordinance extend as well [in 3] such Burnings made after the First Day of the Reign of our Sovereign Lord the King till this Time, as to Burnings to be made in Time to come: Saving always to all Lords and other Persons their Liberties and Franchises as hath been done and used before this Time, in case of Forfeiture of Felony.

ITEM, Whereas the Elections of Knights of Shires (4) to come to the Parliaments of [our Lord] the King, in many Counties of [the Realm of] England, have now of late been made by very great, [outrageous,] and excessive Number of People dwelling within the same Counties [of the Realm of England,] of the which most Part was [of 3] People of small Substance, [and 6] of no Value, whereof every of them pretended a Voice equivalent, as to such Elections to be made, with the most worthy Knights and Esquires dwelling within the same Counties; whereby Manslaughters, Riots, Batteries, and Divisions among the Gentlemen and other People of the same Counties, shall very likely rise and be, unless convenient [and due] Remedy be provided in this Behalf: Our Lord the King, considering the Premisses, hath provided, [ordained, and stablished,7] by Authority of this present Parliament, That the Knights of the Shires to be chosen within the same Realm of England to come to the Parliaments [of our Lord the King] hereafter to be holden, shall be chosen in every County [of the Realm of England,] by People dwelling and resident in the same [Counties,] whereof every one of them shall have free [Land or] Tenement to the Value of Forty Shillings by the Year at the least above all Charges; and that they which shall be so chosen shall be dwelling and resident within the same Counties; and such as have the greatest Number of them that may expend Forty Shillings by Year and above, as afore is said, shall be returned by the Sheriffs of every County, Knights for the Parliament, by Indentures sealed betwixt the said Sheriffs and the said Choosers so to be made; And every Sheriff [of the Realm] of England shall have Power, by the said Authority, to examine upon the (8) Evangelists every such Chooser, how much he may expend by the Year: And if any Sheriff return Knights to come to the Parliament contrary to [the said 9] Ordinance, (10) the Justices of Assises in their Sessions of Assises shall have Power by the Authority aforesaid, thereof to inquire; and if by Inquest the same be found before the (") Justices, and the Sheriff thereof be duly attainted, that then the said Sheriff shall incur the Pain of an Hundred Pounds to be paid to our Lord the King, and also that he have Imprisonment by a Year, without being let to Bail or Mainprise; and that the Knights for the Parliament returned contrary to the said Ordinance shall lose their Wages. no wise be Chooser of the Knights for the Parliament; and that in every Writ that shall hereafter go forth to the Sheriffs to choose Knights for the Parliament, Mention be made of the said Ordinances.

ITEM, Whereas in the last Parliament a good and notable Statute (') was ordained of Labourers, Servants, Artificers, and Workmen, how much they and every of them should take by the Year, Half Year, Day, or Week, and of other Things comprised in the same Statute and Ordinance, which now be expired, because that they were not ordained to endure but to the next Parliament then after to be holden; Our Sovereign Lord the King, considering that the said Statute and Ordinance was [in other Time 1] made for the Weal and common Profit of the Realm of England, and that they should be much profitable to the same Realm, if they might endure and be observed, hath ordained by Authority of this Parliament, that the said Statute and Ordinance be holden and kept, and put in due Execution till the King hath otherwise declared his Will in the full Parliament.

ITEM, Whereas by the [noble] King Richard late King of England, after the Conquest, the Second, at his Parliament holden at Westminster the Morrow after All Souls, the Fifteenth Year of his Reign, amongst other things, It was ordained and established, That the Statutes and Ordinances made, and not repealed, of them that make Entries with strong Hand into Lands or Tenements, or other Possessions whatsoever, and them hold with Force, and (3) of them that make Insurrections, Riots, Routs, Ridings, [and 1] Assemblies, in Disturbance of the Peace, or of the common Law, or in Affray of the People, should be holden and fully executed; And moreover it is ordained by the same Statute, That at all Times that such forcible Entries be made, and Complaint thereof come to the Justices of Peace, or any of them, that the same Justices or Justice shall take the Power of the County, and shall go, or one of them shall go, to the Place where such Force is made; and if they find, or he findeth, any holding such Place forcibly, after such Entry made, they should be taken and put in the next Gaol, there to remain convict by the Record of the same Justices or Justice, until they have made Fine and Ransom to the King; and that all the People of the County, as well Sheriffs as other, shall be attending to the said Justices, and to assist them to arrest such Malefactors, upon Pain of Imprisonment, and to make Fine and Ransom to the King; And that in the same Manner be done of them that make forcible Entries into Benefices or Offices of Holy Church; as in the same Statute is contained more at large: And for that the said Statute doth not extend to Entries [in 5] Tenements in peaceable Manner, and after holden with Force, nor if the Persons which enter with Force into Lands [and 6] Tenements, be removed and voided before the coming of the said Justices or Justice, as before, nor any Pain ordained if the Sheriff do not obey the Commandments and Precepts of the said Justices for to execute the said Ordinance, many wrongful and forcible Entries be daily made [in 5] Lands and Tenements by such as have no Right; and also divers Gifts, Feoffments, and Discontinuances sometimes made to Lords, and other puissant Persons, and Extortioners within the [said] Counties where they be conversant, to have Maintenance, and sometimes to such Persons as be unknown to them so put out, to the Intent to delay and defraud such rightful Possessors

M. 4.

And therefore the same our Lord the King, of his special Grace, and by Authority of this Parliament, for Ease (') and Tranquillity of his faithful Lieges of this Realm, hath caused to be ordained and stablished, That upon every Indictment or Appeal by the which any of the said Lieges dwelling in other Counties than there where such Indictment or Appeal is or shall be taken of Treason, Felony, and Trespass, to be taken hereafter before the Justices of Peace, or before any other having Power to take such Indictments or Appeals, or other Commissioners or Justices in any County. Franchise, or Liberty of England, before any Exigent awarded upon any Indictment or Appeal in the Form aforesaid to be taken, that presently after the first Writ of Capias upon every such Indictment or Appeal awarded and returned, that another Writ of Capias be awarded, directed to the Sheriff of the County whereof he which is so indicted is or was supposed to be conversant by the same Indictment, returnable before the same Justices or Commissioners before whom he is indicted or appealed at a certain Day, containing the Space of Three Months from the Date of the said last Writ, where the [Counties 1] be holden from Month to Month, and where the [Counties] be holden from Six Weeks to Six Weeks, he shall have the Space of Four Months, until the Day of the Return of the same Writ; by which Writ of Second Capias, be it contained and commanded to the same Sheriff, to take him which is so indicted or appealed, by his Body, if he can be found within his Bailiwick; and if he cannot be found within his Bailiwick, that the said Sheriff shall make Proclamation in Two [Counties '] before the Return of the same Writ, that he which is so indicted or appealed shall appear before the said Justices or Commissioners in the County, Liberty, or Franchise where he is indicted or appealed. at the Day contained in the said last Writ of Capias, to answer to our Lord the King, [or 3] to the Party, of the Felony, Treason, or Trespass, whereof he is so indicted or appealed; after which second Writ of Capias so served and returned, if he which is so indicted or appealed come not at the Day of the same Writ of Capias returned, the Exigent shall be awarded against such Persons indicted or appealed, and every of them: And if any Exigent hereafter be awarded upon any such Indictment or Appeal against the Form aforesaid, or any Outlawry be upon that pronounced, as well the Exigent so awarded as the Outlawry upon that pronounced, and every of them, shall be holden for none and void; and that the Party upon whom such Exigent against the Form aforesaid is awarded, or Outlawry pronounced, be not endamaged nor put to Loss of his Goods or Chattels, Lands or Tenements, nor of his Life: Provided always, That the Statute made in the last Parliament, of Processes to be made in such Case before the King in his Bench, stand in his Force. And moreover, the same our Lord the King hath granted by Authority aforesaid, That every Person indicted or appealed in the Form aforesaid from henceforth, after that he be duly acquit by Verdict, that he shall have a Writ and Action upon his Case, against every Procurer of such Indictments or Appeals; and like Process shall be upon and in the same Writ, as in a Writ of Trespass done with Force and Arms; and if such Procurer be attainted in this Behalf, that the Plaintiff shall recover Dar his Treble Damages: Provided always, That this Exception Ordinance shall not extend to Indictments or Appeals as to Chester; taken or to be taken within the County of Chester:

first Capias, a second shall be awarded into the County where the Party indicted dwells;

Proclamation Two County Courts:

UponDefault of Appearance, Exigent may be awarded.

Provided also, That if any of the said Lieges, or any of their Heirs, be or shall be appealed or indicted of Felony or Treason, and at the Time of the same Felony or Treason supposed, he is and was conversant within the County whereof the Indictment or Appeal maketh Mention, the like Process be made against such Person so indicted or appealed, as hath been used [always] before this Time.

ITEM, It is shewed to our Lord the King by the said Commons for the Mayor and Aldermen and Commons of the City of London, That Whereas among other Franchises Liberties and Customs to them by the same our Lord the King and his noble Progenitors granted and confirmed, it is contained, that the Manner and Form of taking Apprentices within the said City of old Time used and continued, be kept and observed; And [where it is also there used '] by the Customs of the same City of Time out of Mind continued and approved in the same, that every Person which was not of Villain Estate or Condition, but of free Estate and Condition, might put himself his Son or Daughter to be Apprentice to any Freeman of the same City, to learn his Craft or Mystery; and that likewise every Freeman of the said City may take every such Person, Son or Daughter, to be his Apprentice, without Impeachment; until now of late the said Mayor, Aldermen and Commons, be and have been grievously vexed and inquieted by Colour of an Article of the Statute made at Westminster the Seventh Year of the Reign of King Henry the Fourth, rehearsing by general Words, that no Man or Woman put their Son nor Daughter to be Apprentice within any City or Town of the Realm [of England,] except that he have Land or Rent to the Value of Twenty Shillings by Year, and that by Testimony under the Seals of the Justices of Peace, nor that any shall receive an Apprentice to the contrary, upon a grievous Penalty limited in the said Statute: Our Lord the King, considering the great Hindrance which by the said Statute might redound to the Inhabitants of the said City, if they should be thereby restrained of their said Liberties and Customs, and how in the beginning of the same Statute it is contained, that the said City of London have and enjoy all her Liberties, Franchises, and Customs, [that be not '] contrary to the said Article; and also respecting the entire Affections, and great Kindness done and shewed to our said Lord the King in all his Affairs by the Citizens of the said City of London, and to encourage them the more to such Affections and Kindness hereafter; by the Advice and Assent aforesaid, hath ordained by the Authority of this Parliament, That the said ancient Manner, Form, and Custom of putting and taking of Apprentices, used and continued in the said City of London, be from henceforth kept and observed, as long as it shall please our said Lord the King without being for that impeached, or [to incur3] the Pain contained in the said Statute.

ITEM, Our Lord the King hath ordained and established by the Authority of this present Parliament, That for Error assigned or to be assigned in any Record, Process, [or] Warrant of Attorney, Original Writ or Judicial, Panel or Return, in any Places of the same rased or interlined, or in any Addition, Substraction, or Diminution of Words, Letters, [Titles, '] or Parcel of Letters, found in any such Record, Process, Warrant of Attorney, Writ, Panel,

And if any Letters Patents All Letters of any of the Lands or Tenements be made to the contrary to any other Person, or let to ferm within the said Month after the said Month of Return, they shall be (4) holden for none. And that the Escheators or Commissioners, upon Pain of the Forfeiture of xx li. to be paid, that is to say, the one Half to the King, and the other Half to the Party at whose Suit he shall be convict, return the Inquests before them taken into the Chancery of our Lord the King, or into the Exchequer, within a Month next after the taking of the same. And every Man which will sue for the King shall have the Suit in this Behalf. Provided always, That this Statute begin and take Effect and Force in the Feast of Easter next coming, and not before, to endure for ever.

ITEM, Whereas in the Time of the King's noble Progenitors, for the Prosperity, Profit, and Wealth of the Realm of England, and for the Sustentation of the Town of Calais, it hath been ordained by divers Statutes and Ordinances, That the Staple should be wholly at the said Town of Calais, and in none other Place beyond the Sea; that is to say, That all the Wools, Woolfels, Leather, Lead, and Tin, and all other Merchandises passing out of the said Realm, and out of the Lands of Wales and Ireland, ought wholly to pass and repair to the said Staple, and to none other Place, upon Pain of the Forfeiture of the same, except such Merchandises, which in the said Statutes and Ordinances be expressed and excepted, as in the same is more fully contained; the which Statutes and Ordinances, the ij. Year of our Sovereign Lord the King, that now is, were approved, affirmed, and ordained duly to be executed: Nevertheless as well under colour of Exceptions in the said Statutes and Ordinances contained, as by colour of Licences granted by our Sovereign Lord the King to divers Persons, a great Quantity of Wools, Woolfels, Leather, Lead and Tin, and many other Merchandises have been continually from Time to Time, and yet be carried and conveyed out of the Realm, and of the said Lands of Wales and Ireland, into Flanders, Holland, Zealand, Brabant, and other Parts, not resorting to the said Staple, as they ought to do; wherefore our Sovereign Lord the King is defrauded of the Customs and Subsidies, which ought to amount to notable Sums to his Increase, if he thereof were duly answered and content; And moreover the King's Mint at Calais is like to be void, XXIII. No Thrums of Woollen Yarn shall be exported.

ITEM, For as much as great Hinderance cometh to the King in his Customs and Subsidies by them that do clack and force the good Wools of the Realm, to carry them out of the same into strange Countries; It is ordained, That no Stranger shall cause to be forced, clacked, nor bearded, any Manner of Wools, to carry them out of the Realm, upon Pain of Forfeiture of the same Wools, with the Double Value of the same, and of Imprisonment of his Body. And that no Woolpacker shall make within the Realm, but good and due Packing; and that no Man make any Inwinding within the Fleece of Wools at the rolling up of his Wools, nor put in the same Locks, [Pelt Wool, Tar, Stones, 1] Sand, Earth, Grass, [nor any Dirt; 5] and if any do, he that feeleth him grieved shall have his Action at the Common Law, of Trespass and Deceit.

ITEM, Because the Weavers within this Realm be and heretofore have been accustomed, [that] when they (°) wrought a Cloth [near'] the End, to cut away for their private Profit the Thread which is left unwoven, and call the same, Thrums, [and to the great Deceit of the Owners of the same Cloths, they⁸] sell the same Thrums to such Persons which carry them into Flanders and other [Places,⁹] though the King have thereof no Profit of Customs

ITEM, Whereas in the Parliament holden at Westminster the [Twenty-eighth '] Year of King Edward the Third, amongst other Things in Favour and Liberty of the Merchants Strangers repairing into the Realm of England, It was ordained, that if a Plea or Debate be moved before the Mayor of the Staple amongst the Merchants or Ministers of the same, and [for 1] to try the Truth thereof an Inquest or Proof is to be taken, if the one Party and the other be [strange,] it should be tried by Strangers; and if the one Party and the other be Denizens, it should be tried by Denizens; and if the one Party be Denizen, and the other an Alien, the one Half should be of Denizens, and the other Half (6) Aliens; and moreover, that in all (7) Inquests and Proofs which shall be (*) taken and made betwixt Aliens and Denizens, be they Merchants or other, as well before the Mayor of the Staple, as before any other Judges or Ministers, although [our Lord] the King be Party, the one Half of the Inquest or Proofs should be of Denizens, and the other Half of Aliens, if there be so many Aliens in the Town or Place where such Inquest or Proof is to be taken, that be not Parties, nor with the Parties in Contracts, Pleas, or other Quarrels, whereof such Inquests or Proofs ought to be taken; and if there be not so many Aliens, then so many Aliens shall be put in such Inquests or Proofs as shall be found in the same Places or Towns, which be not Parties thereunto, nor with the Parties as before is said, and the Remnant of Denizens, which be good Men, and not suspect of the one Party nor of the other: Sithence which Ordinance the said Merchants Aliens have been always demeaned and ruled, as well in the (°) Staples as in other of the King's Courts, after the Form of the said Ordinance; until now of late they have been thereof restrained and impeached by Colour of another Statute made in the Parliament holden at Westminster the Second Year of (") King Henry, Father to our Lord the King that now is; by which Statute, for the great Mischiefs, [Damages,] and Disherisons, which daily [do"] happen through the Realm, as well in case of the Death of [a Man, "] as in case of Freehold and other Cases by them that pass in Inquests in the said Cases, which were common Jurors, and other which had but little or nothing to live upon but by such Inquests, and which had nothing to lose because of their false Oaths, whereby they [do"] the more lightly offend their Consciences; and for Amendment and Correction thereof to be had, It was ordained and stablished, That no Person be admitted to pass in any Inquest upon Trial

OF THE NINTH YEAR.

T the Parliament holden at Westminster the A Friday next before the Feast of Saint Hillary, the Ninth Year of the Reign of our Lord the King that now is, divers Statutes and Ordinances were made and [established '] by the Advice and Assent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and at the special Request of the Commons of the Realm assembled in the said Parliament, in the Form following.

FIRST, Considering how that in all the Counties of England the Days of the Assises of Novell disseisin and of Nisi prius then were prefixed very likely to be holden during the High Court of the said Parliament, in which Court of Parliament many of the King's liege People were by his Commandment, of which many were Plaintiffs and many Defendants in the same Assises and Nisi prius, and in the said Assises and Nisi prius, the same Plaintiffs and Defendants were likely to be disinherited, if Remedy were not provided in this Behalf; And for so much by the Advice and Assent of the said Lords, and at the special Request of the said Commons, It is ordained by Authority of the said Parliament, to prorogue all Manner of Assises and Nisi prius before prefixed, till certain Days by the Chancellor of England for the time being after the Third Day of March, the said ix. Year, to be limited; and [the 1] Days so by the said Chancellor to be limited, have Relation in Law to the Days of Assises and Nisi prius then so prefixed, in such wise, that by this Prorogation the same Assises and Nisi prius, shall not be holden nor reputed nonsued, nor discontinued: And that in every of the said Counties Proclamations be made by the Sheriffs, Fifteen Days before the said Days so by the Chancellor to be limited, to the Intent that the Plaintiffs and Defendants, and all other, which have to do in the said Assises and Nisi prius, may keep their Days to be limited in the same Proclamations so to be made; which Proclamations shall have the Effect and Force of Attachments, without that it behoveth to make any new Attachments for the same.

ITEM. Whereas in the Parliament holden at Westminster the Eighth Year of our (3) Sovereign Lord the King, amongst other Articles it is contained, to eschew the great Loss [and Damage,] which divers Persons of this Realm have had, and were likely to have for [the4] by Aliens.

See Statute 4 H.IV. c.34. Loans made of their Merchandise to Merchants Aliens, which [have'] fled away with the same, and daily [take 2] Sanctuaries, It was ordained, that no Englishman should sell nor cause to be sold from [henceforth 3] to any Merchant Alien, any Manner of Merchandise but only for ready Payment [of 1] Money or otherwise in Merchandise for Merchandise, to be paid and contented in Hand, upon Pain of Forfeiture of the same; because of which Ordinance the English Merchants have not sold nor cannot sell nor utter their Cloths to Merchants Aliens, whereby (5) the King hath lost his [Subsidies and] Customs, which he ought to have had, if the said Cloths had been sold as they were and were wont heretofore, and English Merchants, Cloth-workers, and other the King's liege People in divers Parts of his Realm (6) annoyed and endamaged: Whereupon at the Supplication of the said Commons, and by the Advice and Assent aforesaid, It is ordained, that the English Merchants may sell their Cloths to Merchants Aliens for ready Payment in Money, or otherwise in Merchandise for Merchandise, to be paid and contented in Hand, or upon Loan of Payment, to be made in Money or Merchandise, from Six Months to Six Months next ensuing after such Buyings and Bargains made, without giving thereof further Days of Payment, upon Pain of Forfeiture of the same, notwithstanding the said Ordinance; and this Ordinance shall endure as long as shall please the King: Provided always, that all other Articles contained in the said Ordinance made in the said Eighth Year, shall stand in their Force. ITEM, Considering the great Insurrections Rebellions and horrible Treasons imagined and committed by Owen [Glendour] of Wales, against the Royal Majesty of King Henry, Grandfather of our Sovereign Lord the King that now is, whereof he was indicted, as it appeareth in an Indictment made (*) before Thomas late Earl of Arundel, John [Durley,9] and Thomas Lee, (10) by the Commission of the said [Grandfather"] to inquire, with other, of all manner of Treasons, Insurrections, and Enemies of the same King the Grandfather, as in the said Commission is more fully contained: And thereupon the said Indictment of (12) high and heinous Treasons brought into the King's Bench at Westminster, and Process thereof [made,13] till the same Owen after Proclamation made in Five Counties, was outlawed, and after in the full Parliament holden at Westminster, the Fourth Year of the same King the Grandfather, was called and named of Record Traitor to the said King the Grandfather, as well by Statute as by the Letters Patents of the said King the Grandfather; and for the horribility of his so many Treasons, it was ordained by Statute in the same Parliament that no English Man married to any Welsh Woman of the Amity [and "] Alliance of the said Owen, Traitor to the King, should be put in Office in Wales, nor in the Marches; and also considering how the said Owen and his Adherents were excepted in many general Graces and Pardons granted by the said King the Grandfather to his liege People at divers Times, because of the Insurrections Rebellions and horrible Treasons aforesaid; For the Weal of all the Realm, and for the Repression of all such horrible Treasons from henceforth to be compassed of the Assent of the Lords and Commons aforesaid,

It is ordained and stablished, by the Authority of this present Parliament, That all manner of Indictments, Inquisitions, Processes, Records, Judgements, Ordinances, and Statutes made [and] expressed, taken, had, pursued, or declared against the said Owen, be affirmed, authorised, and stablished for Law by Authority of this present Parliament ('), and by the same Authority shall be effectual and sufficient in the Law for to bind and conclude for ever, all that be Heirs or of the Blood of the said Owen, notwithstanding any Default or Misprision had in this Party; or any Error in Writing or in leaving out of [the Name 1] or Place, or [the Indorsement 3] of the said Commission, or of Negligence adding or leaving out more or less than behoveth, or any other (4) Default in the said Indictments, Inquisitions, Records, or Judgements notwithstanding: so that this present Ordinance be not prejudicial to any of the Heirs or of the Blood of the said Owen, as to any Lands in Tail.

ITEM, For that before this Time many Outlawries have been pronounced against divers of the King's liege People, as well before the Statute of Additions, made at Westminster the First Year of King Henry the Fifth Father to our Lord the King that now is' as sithence, in respect of which Outlawries, the Bodies of other Persons having such and like Names as they had which were outlawed indeed, have been taken and imprisoned, and their Goods and Chattels for this Cause seised by the Escheators of the King and of his noble Progenitors; and although that by the Common Law of the Realm a Writ of Idemptitate nominis hath been maintainable for the same Person, which in the Form aforesaid was molested and grieved, Nevertheless if any Person of the said Lieges, having like Name as any other Person of the same liege People which was outlawed in deed had, made his Executors and died, often it happened, that by Malice and subtil Imaginations the Goods and Chattels of such Testator, which had the same Name as he had which was outlawed in deed, were seised and escheated to the Hands of our Lord the King and of his (5) Progenitors, in Retardation of the Execution of the Testament of every such Testator, for the Doubt which hath been, whether any Executors may by the Common Law have a Writ of Idemptitate nominis, or not: Wherefore to take away and remove all such Ambiguities and Doubts in this Case hereafter, of the Assent and Advice aforesaid, and at the special Request of the said Commons, It is ordained and established by Authority of this Parliament, That a Writ of Idemptitate nominis (6) be granted and [made7] good and maintainable for the Executors of every Testator, [to 8] the same Effect that the same Action of Idemptitate nominis was maintainable before this Parliament for any Person himself which was or might have been molested or grieved because or by colour of any such Outlawry: And that this Ordinance shall have Relation and Force, by Authority aforesaid, for the Executors of every Testator, as well of every Outlawry pronounced against any Person at any Time before this Parliament, as of all manner of Outlawries to be pronounced against any Person in Time to come.

ITEM, Because the River of Severn is common to all the King's liege People, to carry and re-carry within the Stream of the said River, to Bristol, Gloucester, and Worcester, and other Places joining to the said River, all manner of Merchandises and other Goods and Chattels as well in Trowes and Boats

And this Ordinance shall endure by Three Years next coming.

ITEM, Whereas it hath been of old Times accustomed in all the Counties of England, that all the Cheeses which ought to be sold by the Wey should be weighed by the Auncel, and because that at the last Parliament holden at Westminster, it was ordained, that the said Auncels, in respect of the great Deceit of the same, should be destroyed, and other Weights couching should be in this Behalf ordained; and it is so, that the poor People of the Realm be greatly deceived by the said Weights couching, for that they know not how many Pounds the Wey of Cheese doth contain by the said Weights couching; And therefore to the Intent that the said poor People shall not be in this Behalf deceived, as they have been sithence the said last Parliament, It is ordained by the Authority of this Parliament, That the Weight of a Wey of Cheese may contain xxxii. Cloves, that is to say, every Clove vij li. by the said Weights couching.

ITEM, Whereas it was ordained by a Statute made in the Time of King Edward the Third (1) the Twentyfifth Year of his Reign, that all the Wears, Mills, Stanks, Stakes, Piles, and Kydels, which were set in the great Rivers of England, in the Time of the Lord Edward sometime King of England, Son of King Henry, and after, whereby Ships and Boats be disturbed, that they cannot pass as they were wont to pass, should be removed and pulled down; and (3) afterward in the Parliament of King Henry, [Father 1] of our Sovereign Lord the King that now is, holden the First Year of his Reign, It was ordained, that as well the said Statute made the said xxv. ITEM, Whereas at the Parliament holden at Westminster, the Morrow of Saint Matthew the Apostle, the Eighth Year of the King that now is, It was ordained by the Authority of the same Parliament, That the Knights of all Counties within the Realm of England, to be chosen to come to the Parliaments [hereafter '] to be holden, should be chosen in every County by People dwelling and resiant in the same, whereof every one shall have Freehold to the Value of Forty Shillings by Year at the least, above all Charges, upon a certain Pain contained in the same Statute; not making express Mention in the same, that every Man that shall be Chooser of any such Knights, shall have Freehold to the Value of Forty Shillings at the least, above all Charges, within the same County where such Chooser with other like shall make such Election, or elsewhere: And therefore our Lord the King, willing to make plain Declaration of the said Statute, by the Advice and Assent aforesaid, and at the [special 1] Request of the said Commons, hath ordained, That the Knights of all Counties within the said Realm, to be chosen to come to Parliaments hereafter to be holden, shall be chosen in every County by People dwelling and resiant in the same, whereof every Man shall have Freehold, to the Value of xls. by the Year at the least above all Charges, within the same County where any such Chooser will meddle of any such Election.

ITEM, Because that our Sovereign Lord the King, at the grievous Complaint to him made in this Parliament by the Commons of his Realm [of England] being in this Parliament, is informed, That many of his faithful liege People be greatly impoverished, undone, and in point to be destroyed, by the King of Denmark and his Lieges, which be of the Amity of the King our Sovereign Lord, because that they do daily take of his said faithful Subjects their Goods, so that they have taken of Merchants of York and Kingston upon Hull Goods and Merchandises to the Value of Five thousand Pounds within a Year, and of other Lieges and Merchants of the Realm [of England] Goods and Chattels to the Value of Twenty thousand Pounds; whereof they have no Remedy of the said King of Denmark, nor of none other, Forasmuch as none of them cometh within the Realm of England, nor nothing have in the same [Realm of England,] and that the Goods be taken out of the same Realm: (3) The King willing to provide Remedy for his said liege People, [hath ordained and established, 1 That if the Goods of any of the said his Lieges be or shall be taken by the said King of Denmark, or any of his said Lieges, the Keeper of the Privy Seal for the Time being shall have Power to make to the Party grieved Letters of Request under the Privy Seal, without any other Pursuit to be made to any, for Restitution to be had of the Goods so taken and to be taken: And if Restitution be not made by such Letters, the King our Sovereign Lord, by the Advice of his Council, shall provide to the Party grieved, his covenable Remedy, according as the Case requireth.

ITEM, For that divers of the King's liege People before this Time have been outlawed, and greatly vexed and disquieted in divers Suits, as well before the King in his Bench, as in the Common Bench, in the Records of which Suits the Entries have been made, that the appearing; Plaintiffs in the same Suits "Obtulerunt se in propria persona sua," where the same Plaintiffs never appeared to such Suits, nor had Knowledge of the same, in great

STATUTE THE SECOND.

PRAY the Commons at this present Parliament assembled, That it may please Our Sovereign Lord the King, by the Advice of the most Reverend and most gracious Lords at this present Parliament assembled, to consider, how the Justices of the King's Bench, and of the Common Bench, the Justices assigned for taking Assises, the King's Serjeants and Attorney for the Time being, before this Time were always paid in Hand for their Fees and Rewards of the King by the Treasurers of England for the Time being, annually in the Terms of Easter and Saint Michael by equal Portions; until the Time of William Kynwolmershe, late Treasurer of England, and since, that they were sent to take for their Payment Assignments of the King's Debtors, who by such Assignments sometimes nothing will pay without Allowances; by which Debtors the said Justices Serjeants and Attorney have been and are very badly or too slowly and with great Delay, or never, paid; and moreover often are put to look after and discover Debtors of the King of whom they will have their Assignments, whereas they have not, nor without great Danger and Diligence can they have, Knowledge of such Debtors, nor to discover and look after them and for their Payments to treat, can they give Attention, without neglecting their Duty and Service to the King and the discharging of the People: And that it is by no Means expedient to the King and to his People, or honest or convenient to the Offices of the said Justices Serjeants and Attorney, to look after and discover the said Debtors, and them by dangerous Means to entreat to have Payment of them, who sometimes for so doing do desire and demand to be rewarded, or unreasonably favoured against the Oath of the said Justices Serjeants and Attorney; and to consider also the great and continual Costs and Expences, which the said Justices do undergo in their Attendance in doing their said Offices and Services to the King, and the great Loss and Damage which they have of their Fees and Gain, in that that they are assigned Justices, which would amount in great Part to more than their said Fees and Rewards of the King; and thereupon by Authority of this present Parliament to ordain that the said Justices Serjeants and Attorney of the King for the Time being and every of them, be paid in Hand for their said Fees and Rewards of the King, in the said Terms by the Hands of the Treasurers of England for the Time being; and that the same Treasurers be bounden to do this, so that there be no need that the said Justices Serjeants and Attorney, for the Pursuit of their said Payments shall have to neglect doing their said Duty and Service to the King, and discharging the People who have to do in their Offices aforesaid.

Anno 11° HENRICI, VI. A.D.1433.

IN THE ELEVENTH YEAR.

UR Sovereign Lord the King, at his Parliament Oholden at Westminster the Eighth Day of July, the Eleventh Year of his Reign, to the Reverence of God, and for the Weal of the People of his Realm, by the Assent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal (') and at the special Request of the Commons of his (1) Realm in his said Parliament assembled, by Authority of the same Parliament, hath (3) ordained and stablished divers Statutes, Declarations, and Ordinances, in the Form following.

FIRST, Forasmuch as our said Sovereign Lord the dwelling at King, at the grievous Complaint to him made by his said the Stews in Southwark Commons in the same Parliament, hath conceived, that shall serve divers Persons of great Poverty, without Conscience and on Juries in Surrey, &c. of an evil Governance, now and late dwelling in a Place suspected, called the Stews, in the Borough of Southwark, in the County of Surrey, as well by the Receipt of common Women, Thieves, Mankillers, and Adulterers, as by Murders and privy Robberies, as well by themselves as by many other there harboured without Pity Loyalty and good Conscience there done, have suddenly come to great Riches, by which they have purchased great Livings of Lands and Tenements, to great yearly Values; and because of their sufficiency of Freehold so purchased, they have been returned, by the Sheriff of the said County and other Bailiffs, in Inquests as well for Felony and Trespass between the King and the Party, and Party and Party, as in Assises and other Pleas of Land before the King's Justices in his Courts, and before the [Stewards 1] and Marshal of his House, whereby divers Disheritances and wrongful Condemnations of many lawful Lieges of our Sovereign Lord the King have been had, and many Murderers and notorious Thieves have been saved, (5) great Murders and Robberies concealed and not punished; and how the (6) Persons suspected inhabit them in common Hosteries and Taverns in the Highway of the same Borough, there receiving Thieves, common Women, and other Misdoers, in like Manner as they did in the said suspected Place of the Stews: Our Sovereign Lord the King considering the Premisses, and that such People without Conscience [be defamed, and may not of reason be intending to bear Witness of Truth there where Truth shall be inquired,7] hath ordained and established, That if any such Person be returned by any Sheriff, Bailiff, or other Minister of [our said Sovereign Lord] the King, in the said County of Surrey, or by any Officer before the Steward and Marshall of our Sovereign Lord the King's House, (8) as well for the King as for the Party, at all Times from henceforth he may be challenged, and the Challenge in that Part allowed for the cause before said :

Et auxi pur eschuer murdres, robbies & avoutrees que p'rount visemblablement aveign, Ordeigne est q nult tiel qui ensi ad dem'ez a les ditz estuwes soient suffrez de tene ascune coe hostrie ne tavne en ascune autre lieu deins le dit Burgh de Suthwerk, mais soulement as ditz Estuwes: Et q les Justices du pees en mesme le Countee eient poiair denquerer de tous ceux qui teignent hostries & tavnes & de eux punir p fyn & raunceon & p enprisonement de lour corps solonq, la discrecion des ditz Justices.

Item come divs gentz sovent foitz suent assises de novell disseisyn dev'nt [dev'nt '] Justices assignez env's divses psones, & p subtillite & collusion pur avoir lour bres de loures ditz assises directz as Coronis dez Countees ou les tentz sount pur fair execucion dicell brefs, fount nomer en loures ditz assises le Viscount de mesme le Counte une des disseisoures, lou il nest ne unqes fuist deseisour [dez 1] ten'nt dez tentz en demaunde; pount sovent foitz lez ditz assises sount agardez p defauté des tenentz queux nount my conisaunce de ceux assises, entant qils ne trovent my ascune assise envs eux en la felace de Viscount, & nount ascune suspecion dascune tiel assise priz envs le Viscount & eux: Nre f' le Roi voillant en ceo cas purvoir de remedie, del assent & auctorite suisditz ad ordeigne, qen tous tiels assises purchasez & a psent pendantz ou ap chasers desore enavant, pentre quecongs psones devent ascuns tieux Justices, en quex assises ascune tiel Viscount soit nomez disseisour, si les ten'ntz en les ditz assises ou ascun de eux voil avrer q le dit Viscounte nest ne unqs fuist disseisour ne ten'nt dez teñtz en demaunde mais fuist nome disseisour p collusion, soit lavement receuz; Et si trove soit par la dit assise q le dit Viscount ne soit ne ungs fuit disseisour ne ten'nt dez tentz en demaunde mais fuist nome disseisour p collusion, adonqs les ditz Justices facent abater & casser le dit br p'chase ou ap'chaser en la forme suisdit, et q lez pleintifs ou pleintife soient ou soit en le greve m'cy le Roi.

Item come p estatuit fait lan quart le Roi Henry [pier 3] nre f' le Roi quorest, entre auts ordene soit q les disseisez eient lour accion envs lez disseisoures durant la vie mesmes les disseisoures, pensi q tiels lez disseisoures ent pene lez pfettes al temps del sute comence, sicome en mesme lestatuit est contenuz pluis au plain; le quelt estatut solonq loppinion dez pluso's ad este entenduz es bris dassises de novett disseisin tantsolement & si g'undement meschefe est a les ptes demaundantz en aut's breifs suez & founduz sur novell disseisin come en assise: Et voillant p tant mesme nre f le Roi tous mans oppinions & doutes en cest pte cesser ad ordene p lassent & auctorite suisditz, qen tous mans des breifs fonduz sur le novelt disseisin les disseisez eient lour recover sils voillont p tiels briefs envs les disseissoures ou lour feffees, auxibien come ils avoient en assise de novelt disseisin, pissint q mesmes lez disseisoures ou lour feffees vs qui ou queux le br sra porte ent pgne ou pngnent lez pfettz al temps mentz faitz as aut's psones pur delaier lez demaundantz.

And also for to avoid Murders, Robberies, and Adulteries that might by likelyhood happen, It is ordained, That no such Person, which hath (') dwelled at the said Stews, be suffered to hold any common Hostery or Tavern in (') other Place within the said Borough of Southwark, but only at the said Stews; And that the Justices of Peace in the same County shall have Power to inquire of all them that hold Hosteries and Taverns, and them to punish by Fine and Ransom, and by Imprisonment of their Bodies, after the Discretion of the said Justices.

ITEM, Whereas several Persons do often sue Assises of Novel disseisin, before Justices assigned, against divers Persons, and by Craft and Collusion to have their Writs of their said Assises directed to the Coroners of the Counties where the Tenements be, to make Execution of the said Writs, do name in their said Assises the Sheriff of the same County one of the Disseisors, where he is not, neither ever was Disseisor or Tenant of the Tenements in Demand; whereby oftentimes the said Assises be awarded by the Default of the Tenants which have no Knowledge of those Assises, for that they found not any Assise against them in the File of the Sheriff, nor have any Suspicion of any such Assise taken against the Sheriff and them; Our Lord the King, willing in this Case to provide Remedy, of the Assent and Authority aforesaid, hath ordained, That in all such Assises purchased, and at this Time depending, or hereafter to be purchased, between any Persons whatsoever they be, before any such Justices, in which Assises any such Sheriff is named Disseisor, if the Tenants in the said Assises or any of them will aver, that the said Sheriff is not, nor ever was. Disseisor, nor Tenant of the Tenements in Demand, but was named Disseisor by Collusion, the Averment shall be received; and if it be found by the said Assise, that the said Sheriff is not, nor ever was Disseisor nor Tenant of the Tenements in demand, but was named Disseisor by Collusion, then the said Justices shall cause to be abated and quashed the said Writ purchased or to be purchased in the Form abovesaid; and that the Plaintiffs or Plaintiff be in the grievous Mercy of the King.

ITEM, Whereas by a Statute made the Fourth Year of the Reign of King Henry, [Grandfather '] of our Lord the King that now is, amongst other Things it was ordained, That the Disseisees shall have their Actions against the Disseisors during the Lives of the (*) Disseisors, so that such Disseisors thereof take the Profits at the Time of the Suit commenced; as in the same Statute is contained more at large; The which Statute, according to the Opinion of many, hath been intended in Writs of Assise of Novel disseisin only, and as great Mischief it is to the Parties Demandants in other Writs sued and grounded upon Novel Disseisin, as in Assise: Wherefore our Lord the King, willing all Manner of Opinions and Doubts in that Behalf to cease, hath ordained by the Assent and Authority aforesaid, That in all manner of Writs grounded upon Novel disseisin, the Disseisees shall have their Recoveries, if they will, by such Writs, against the Disseisors or their Feoffecs, as well as they shall have in Assise of Novel disseisin, so that the same Disseisors, or their Feoffees, against whom the Writ shall be brought, thereof take the Profits at the Time of the Writ purchased; notwithstanding any Gifts or Feofiments made to other Persons for to delay the Demandants.

No Person dwelling in such Stews shall keep any Tavern elsewhere.

ITEM, Our Lord the King, by the grievous Complaint of his Commons, considering the (') Mischiefs had within the Realm, and yet not remedied, and also the great Damage and Disherison that cometh by the usual Perjury of Jurors impanelled upon Inquests, as well in the Courts of our Lord the King, as of other, the which Perjury doth abound and increase daily more than it was wont, for the great Gifts that such Jurors take of the Parties in Pleas sued in the said Courts; wherefore the greater Part of People that have to sue in the said Courts, leave their Suits for the Mischiefs aforesaid, and namely [in respect 3] of the Delays that be in the Writs of Attaints; for that in Times past in Writs of Attaints, when the Grand Jury had appeared in Court, and were ready to pass, one of the Tenants or Defendants or of the petty Jurors named in such Writs sometime have pleaded false and faint Pleas, which were not triable by the Grand Jury of the Attaint, and by that Means delayed the taking of such Grand Juries until such Pleas were tried; and after such Pleas tried and found for the Plaintiff, another of the Jurors Tenants or Defendants might plead another such false and faint Plea after the last Continuance in the same Attaints; and so every of the Defendants Jurors or Tenants, after other, might plead such false and faint Plea, and delay the Grand Jury when it was ready to pass; and though that all such false and faint Pleas were found against them which pleaded, no Pain was given (3) them by the Common Law; [in regard *] of which Delays, the Grand Juries in Attaints have been often grievously vexed and travelled, and the Plaintiffs in such Attaints put to so great Costs, and thereby impoverished, that they could not prosecute their said Suits, wherefore the Jurors be the more encouraged to be perjured, and to make their false Oaths in such Cases: Our said Lord the King, willing thereof to provide Remedy, at the Request of the said Commons, and by the Assent of the Lords abovesaid, hath ordained and established, That the Parties Plaintiffs in all such Attaints shall recover their Damages, and Costs against all such Tenants, Jurors, and Defendants, which they have sustained in that Behalf; and that this Statute extend as well to Writs of Attaints now hanging, as to Writs of Attaints to be purchased hereafter.

ITEM, Because that (*) divers People in Times past have let their Lands and Tenements to divers Persons, that is to say, some for Term of Life or of another Man's Life, and some for Term of Years; the said Tenants have oftentimes let and granted their Estate which they had in the same Lands and Tenements, to many Wasteagainst him, as before Persons, to the Intent that they in the Reversion, that is to say, their Lessors, their Heirs, or their Assigns, might not have Knowledge of their Names, and after the said first Tenants continually occupy the said Lands and Tenements, and thereof take the Profits to their proper Use, and in the said Lands and Tenements commit Waste and Destruction, to the Disheritance of them in the Reversion: It is ordained and established, That they in the Reversion in such Case may have and maintain a Writ of Waste against the said Tenants for Term of Life, of another's Life, or for Years, and so recover against them the Place wasted, and their Treble Damages, for the Waste (5) by them done, as they ought to have done for the Waste committed by them before the said Grant and Lease of their Estate:

And if the Makers of the said Cloths called Streits, make any Cloths to sell of less Length and Breadth than next above is declared, that then it shall be lawful to the Aulneger to cut off the List at the one End of all such Streit Cloths, not containing the said Length, and the same to be sold for a Remnant or a Piece, and not for a Cloth: and that no such Cloths be put to Sale until the Aulneger hath measured them, made his Search, and put to them the King's Seal thereto ordained, upon Pain of Forfeiture of the same. And if any Aulneger enseal any such Cloths called Streits, not containing the Length and Breadth of the Streits abovesaid, and cut not off the List of all such Cloths that do not hold the said Length and Breadth of the Streits, that then the said Aulneger shall pay to the King for every Piece of Cloth so found defective, Six Shillings Eight-pence: Except always that all Cloths called Streits, made or to be made until the Day of the Nativity of St. John the Baptist next coming, shall have Licence to be sold and delivered until the Feast of Christmas then next ensuing, of whatsoever Length and Breadth they be.

ITEM, Because divers Persons within this Realm in times past often have been taken and arrested by divers Sheriffs and other Officers of the King, by Writs as well going out of the Chancery of the King, as of his Progenitors, to have Execution of divers Recognisances made before the Mayors of the [Staple,'] of divers Sums, of which Sums such Persons, to whom the Duty belonged, had no convenient Remedy, other than the said Executions; which Persons so taken and arrested for Execution of the same Recognisances, be oftentimes brought, by divers Writs de Corpus cum causa before the King in his Chancery, out of Prisons in the which they be so kept by Force of such Executions, and there they do sue, shewing forth divers Indentures, and other Things in Defeasance of such Recognisances, desiring Writs of Scire facias to warn the Party or Parties at whose Suit they be (2) taken and arrested, to answer thereunto; and thereupon, by Surety found to the King in his Chancery, have been delivered out of Prison, notwithstanding their said Arrest for the Executions of such Recognisances, as above is said, no Surety found to the Recognisees to whom they be so bound, to satisfy them of their Duties, in case that the Matters comprised within the said Writs of Scire facias be not found nor adjudged for the Recognisors [thereby'] bound; whereby the said Recognisees have been sometime greatly delayed of their Execution, and sometime their Execution utterly lost

And that the Justices of Peace in every County where they be Justices, shall have Power to enquire hear and determine all Things done against this Statute; and that as well every Justice of Peace in the County where he is Justice, as Mayors and Bailiffs within the Cities and Boroughs, Stewards of Lords within the Franchises of their Lords, shall have Power and Authority to examine and search as well by Weight of such Candles, Images, Figures, and other Works of Wax, as in other Manner by their Discretion, all them that any thing shall hereafter do against this Statute, and to punish them that by such Examination or Search shall be found guilty in the Form abovesaid. Provided that this Statute do not extend to [Hearses 1] to be made for Nobles that do die.

ITEM, Our [said] Sovereign Lord the King, for the Wealth of him and his Realm, by the Advice and Assent of the said Lords, and at the special Request of his said Commons, hath ordained, That the good Ordinance and Statute made the Eighth Year of his Reign, that is to say, "that the Wools and Woolfels and Tin, repairing and coming to the Staple of Calais, shall be sold for ready Money to be paid in hand, and that the Bullion be brought [in 3] his Mint there, that is to say, of every Sarpler of Wool sold for Twelve Marks and above, vi Pound of Bullion, and of every Sarpler of Wool sold under Twelve Marks, v Pound of Bullion, and that lawful and due Partition be made, according to the Ordinance there," at this time [to 1] endure from the Feast of the Annunciation of our Lady next to come, till the End of Three Years [then] next ensuing: Saving always to our Sovereign Lord the King Power and Authority to modify the same Statute when him please, by the Advice of his Council, as it shall seem best to him for the Profit of him and of his Realm.

ITEM, Whereas the Customs and Subsidies granted to our Sovereign Lord the King be alloigned and withdrawn, as well for lack of good Search in the Ports and Creeks within the Realm of England, as by other crafty Imaginations of divers Persons, carrying Merchandises of the Staple of Calais against the Form of the said Statutes thereof provided and ordained; Our Sovereign Lord the King, by the Advice and Authority abovesaid, hath ordained and stablished, That none upon Pain of Felony bring, carry, or ship, nor cause to be brought, carried, nor shipped, any such Merchandises of the Staple in any Creeks within his Realm of England, against the Ordinance abovesaid. And this Statute to endure till the End of Three Years next ensuing and no longer.
